Object Worlds In Ancient Egypt Material Biographies Past And Present:

Object Worlds in Ancient Egypt Lynn Meskell, 2004-07-02 From the Valley of the Kings to Las Vegas Egypt looms large in the Western imagination So why are we intrigued by pyramids and practices of mummification Is it because the ancient Egyptians fetishized material objects And what do Egyptian remains tell us about biography embodiment memory materiality the self and indeed ourselves This book considers how excavated objects reveal ancient Egyptians experiences of their material world It also explores existential questions that not only preoccupied ancient Egyptians but continue to fascinate people today What is the essence of persons and things How might we understand the situated experiences of material life How might objects successfully mediate between worlds Meskell ultimately moves forward through time and examines the consumption of Egyptian material objects in the contemporary world including Las Vegas Meskell provides an elegant analysis of the aesthetics of ancient Egyptian material culture and insights into its mysteries including our own ongoing fascination

Materializing Colonial Encounters François G. Richard, 2015-09-19 This volume investigates the material production and expression of colonial experiences in Africa It combines archaeological historical and ethnographic sources to explore the diverse pathways practices and projects constructed by Africans in their engagement with the forces of colonial modernity and capitalism This volume is situated in ongoing debates in archaeological and anthropological approaches to materiality In this respect it seeks to target archaeologists interested in the conceptual issues provoked by colonial enfoldments It is also concerned with increasing the visibility of relevant African archaeological literature to scholars of colonialism and imperialism laboring in other fields This book brings together an array of junior and senior scholars whose contributions represent a rich sample of the vibrant archaeological research conducted in Africa today blending conceptual inspiration with robust fieldwork The chapters target a variety of cultural historical and colonial settings They are driven by a plurality of perspectives but they are bound by a shared commitment to postcolonial critical and material culture theories While this book focuses on western and southern Africa the sub regions that boast the deepest traditions of historical archaeological research in the continent attention was also placed on including case studies from traditionally less well represented areas East African and Swahili coasts Madagascar whose material pasts are nevertheless essential to a wider comprehension of variability and comparability of modern colonial conditions Consequently this volume lends a unique wide ranging look at African experiences across the tangle of imperial geographies on the continent with case studies focusing on Anglophone Francophone and Dutch speaking contexts This volume is an exciting opportunity to present this work to wider audiences and foster conversations with a wide community of scholars about the material fashioning of colonial life relations and configurations of power

Reluctant Landscapes Francois G. Richard, 2018-09-21 West African history is inseparable from the history of the Atlantic slave trade and colonialism According to historical archaeologist Francois Richard however the dominance of this narrative not only colors the range of political discourse about Africa but also occludes many lesser known but equally important experiences of those living in the region Reluctant Landscapes is an exploration of the making and remaking of political experience and physical landscapes among rural communities in the Siin province of Senegal between the late 1500s and the onset of World War II By recovering the histories of farmers and commoners who made up African states demographic core in this period Richard shows their crucial but often overlooked role in the making of Siin history The book also delves into the fraught relation between the Seereer a minority ethnic and religious group and the Senegalese nation state with Siin's perceived primitive conservatism standing at odds with the country's Islamic modernity Through a deep engagement with oral documentary archaeological and ethnographic archives Richard's groundbreaking study revisits the four hundred year history of a rural community shunted to the margins of Senegal's national imagination

Glatt-Gilad, 2023-05-04 Created in honor of the work of Professor Tova Forti this collection considers the natural world in key wisdom books Proverbs Job and Qoheleth Ecclesiastes Ben Sira and Song of Songs Solomon and also examines particular animal and plant imagery in other texts in the Hebrew Bible It crucially involves ancient Near Eastern parallels and like texts from the classical world but also draws on rabbinic tradition and broader interpretative works as well as different textual traditions such as the LXX and Qumran scrolls Whilst the natural world notably plants and animals is a key uniting element the human aspect is also crucial To explore this contributors also treat the wider concerns within wisdom literature on human beings in relation to their social context and in comparison with neighbouring nations They emphasize that the human animal and plant worlds act together in synthesis all enhanced and imbued by the world view of wisdom literature

Egyptian Archaeology and the Twenty-First Century Museum Alice Stevenson, 2022-09-08 This Element addresses the cultural production of ancient Egypt in the museum as a mixture of multiple pasts and presents that cohere around collections their artefacts documentation storage research and display Its four sections examine how ideas about the past are formed by museum assemblages how their histories of acquisition and documentation shape interpretation the range of materials that comprise them the influence of their geographical framing and the moments of remaking that might be possible Throughout the importance of critical approaches to interpretation is underscored reasserting the museum as a site of active research and experiment rather than only exhibitionary product or communicative media It argues for a multi directional approach to museum work that seeks to reveal the inter relations of collection histories and which has implications not just for museum representation and documentation but also for archaeological practice more broadly
