Occidentalism A Theory Of Counter Discourse In Post Mao China:

Occidentalism Xiaomei Chen, 2002 This revised and expanded edition of the first comprehensive study of Occidentalism in post Mao China includes a new preface foreword and chapter on Chinese diaspora writings in the Chinese language Xiaomei Chen offers an insightful account of the unremittingly favorable depiction of Western culture and its negative characterization of Chinese culture in post Mao China since 1978 She examines the cultural and political interrelationship between the East and West from a vantage point more complex than that accommodated by most current theories of Western imperialism and colonialism Going beyond Edward Said's construction in Orientalism of cross cultural appropriations as a defining facet of Western imperialism Chen argues that the appropriation of Western discourse what she calls Occidentalism can actually have a politically and ideologically liberating effect on contemporary non Western culture She maintains that simplistic allegations of Orientalism frequently found in current critical discourses seriously underestimate the complexities of intercultural and multicultural relationships Using China as the focus of her analysis Chen examines a variety of cultural media from Shakespearean drama to modernist poetry to contemporary Chinese television and popular fiction She thus places sinology in the general context of Western theoretical discourses such as Eurocentrism postcolonialism nationalism modernism feminism and literary hermeneutics showing that it has a vital role to play in the study of Orient and Occident and their now unavoidable symbiotic relationship Occidentalism presents a new model of comparative literary and cultural studies that reenvisions cross cultural appropriation It will be indispensable to future discussions of Orientalism Occidentalism and postcolonialism as well as subaltern studies Asian studies comparative literature cultural studies and non Western drama

Occidentalism Xiaomei Chen, 1995 Xiaomei Chen offers an insightful account of the unremittingly favorable depiction of Western culture and its negative characterization of Chinese culture in post Mao China from 1978 1988 Chen examines the cultural and political interrelations between the East and West from a vantage point more complex than that accommodated by most current theories of Western imperialism and colonialism Going beyond Edward Said's construction in Orientalism of cross cultural appropriations as a defining facet of Western imperialism Chen argues that the appropriation of Western discourse what she calls Oc

Occidentalism Xiaomei Chen, 2023 The author argues that the appropriation of Western discourse what she calls Occidentalism can have a socially liberating effect in contemporary non Western culture Using China as a focus for analysis she examines the cultural and political relations between East and West

Occidental Perceptions of European Architecture in Nineteenth-Century Persian Travel Diaries Vahid Vahdat, 2017-03-31 In the midst of Europe's nineteenth century industrial revolution four men embarked on separate journeys to the wondrous Farangistan a land of fascinating objects mysterious technologies heavenly women and magical spaces Determined to learn the secret of Farangistan's advancements the travelers kept detailed records of their observations These diaries mapped an aspirational path to progress for curious Iranian audiences who were eager to change the course of history Two hundred years later Travels in Farangi Space unpacks these writings to reveal a challenging new interpretation of Iran's experience of modernity This book opens the Persian travelers' long forgotten suitcases and analyzes the descriptions contained within to gain insight into Occidental perspectives on modern Europe By carefully tracing the physical and mental journeys of these travelers the book paints a picture of European architecture that is nothing like what one would expect

China's Cultural Diplomacy Xin Liu, 2019-10-02 This book examines China's contemporary global cultural footprints through its recent development of cultural diplomacy The volume presents an alternative analytical framework to examine China's cultural diplomacy which goes beyond the Western defined concept of soft power that prevails in the current literature This new approach constructs a three dimensional framework on Orientalism cultural hegemony and nationalism to decipher the multiple contexts which China inhabits historically internationally and domestically The book presents multiple case studies of the Confucius Institute and compares the global programme located around the world with its Western counterparts and also with other Chinese government sponsored endeavours and non government initiated programmes The author aims to solve the puzzle of why China's efforts in cultural diplomacy are perceived differently around the world and helps to outline the distinctive features of China's cultural diplomacy This book will be of much interest to students of diplomacy Chinese politics foreign policy and International Relations in general

Translating Chinese Culture Valerie Pellatt, Eric T. Liu, Yalta Ya-Yun Chen, 2014-04-16 Translating Chinese Culture is an innovative and comprehensive coursebook which addresses the issue of translating concepts of culture Based on the framework of schema building the course offers helpful guidance on how to get inside the mind of the Chinese author how to understand what he or she is telling the Chinese speaking audience and how to convey this to an English speaking audience A wide range of authentic texts relating to different aspects of Chinese culture and aesthetics are presented throughout followed by close reading discussions of how these practices are executed and how the aesthetics are perceived among Chinese artists writers and readers Also taken into consideration are the mode audience and destination of the texts Ideas are applied from linguistics and translation studies and each discussion is reinforced with a wide variety of practical and engaging exercises Thought provoking yet highly accessible Translating Chinese Culture will be essential reading for advanced undergraduates and postgraduate students of Translation and Chinese Studies It will also appeal to a wide range of language studies and tutors through its stimulating discussion of the principles and purposes of translation

Imagining Europe Michael J. Wintle, 2008 The authors of this research collection are not so much interested in what Europe thinks of itself but rather what others think of it They take a number of scenarios from recent history and examine how Europe has appeared to people in other parts of the world America China the Arab world for example

Transnational Intellectual Networks Christophe Charle, Jürgen Schriewer, Peter Wagner, 2004 The university system both in America and abroad has always claimed a universal significance for its research and educational models At the same time many universities particularly in Europe have also claimed another role as custodians of national culture Transnational Intellectual Networks explores this apparent contradiction and its resulting intellectual tensions with illuminating essays that span the nineteenth and early twentieth century nationalization movements in Europe through the postwar era

Placing the Modern Chinese Vernacular in Transnational Literature G. Zhou, 2011-01-31 This is the first book to concentrate not only on the triumph of the vernacular in modern China but also on the critical role of the rise of the vernacular in world literature invoking parallel cases from countries throughout Europe and Asia

The Palgrave Handbook of Theatre and Race Tiziana Morosetti, Osita Okagbue, 2021-04-20 The first comprehensive publication on the subject this book investigates interactions between racial thinking and the stage in the modern and contemporary world with 25 essays on case studies that will shed light on areas previously neglected by criticism while providing fresh perspectives on already investigated contexts Examining performances from Europe the Americas the Middle East Africa China Australia New Zealand and the South Pacific islands this collection ultimately frames the history of racial narratives on stage in a global context resetting understandings of race in public discourse

In Pursuit Of Contemporary East Asian Culture Xiaobing Tang, 2019-04-03 These critical essays examine East Asian culture through an interdisciplinary cross cultural lens Readings of film television and visual and literary texts reveal the historical condition as well as the contemporary impulses driving East Asian culture today We feel the muted tension in a rural South Korean village we walk down the bustling streets of Hong Kong and witness the city's protean possibilities for a postrevolutionary reality The boisterous tarento shows on Japanese television force us to rethink the nature of information and image production in relation to leisure management cinematic spectacles in Japan North Korea Taiwan and China point to complex issues of agency the formation of the public sphere and postnationalist identities We see contemporary fiction from China and Japan engage themes of desire and remembrance as metaphors to express a profound historical anxiety Mirroring the fast moving and multifaceted landscape is our ability to move freely through time as we confront legitimizing narratives of modernization in early twentieth century Japan and against an emerging regime of global capitalism reexamine the approaching century in imagined historical hindsight By anticipating the geocultural shift to the Asian Pacific Rim in the twenty first century this volume serves as both an introduction to contemporary East Asian culture and an exploration of its global context

De-Westernizing Communication Research Georgette Wang, 2010-12-14 The rise of postmodern theories and pluralist thinking has paved the way for multicultural approaches to communication studies and now is the time for decentralization de Westernization and differentiation This trend is reflected in the increasing number of communication journals with a national or regional focus Alongside this proliferation of research output from outside of the mainstream West there is a growing discontent with communication theories being Westerncentric Compared with earlier works that questioned the need to distinguish between the Western and the non Western and to build Asian communication theories there seems to be greater assertiveness and determination in searching for and developing theoretical frameworks and paradigms that take consideration of and therefore are more relevant to the cultural context in which research is accomplished This path breaking book moves beyond critiquing Westerncentrism in media and communication studies by examining where Eurocentrism has come from how is it reflected in the study of media and communication what the barriers and solutions to de centralizing the production of theories are and what is called for in order to establish Asian communication theories

Occidentalisms in the Arab World Robbert Woltering,2011-02-28 In the decades since Edward Said first christened the term Orientalism the discourse on the West s historical representation of the East has been inundated with new literature While the Western perception of the the Orient has become a well worn topic in the field of Asian and Middle Eastern studies the way in which the Arab world has come to perceive the West has been largely neglected Occidentalisms in the Arab World not only presents a comprehensive overview and pointed commentary on recent works in the emerging field of Occidental studies but also provides new insight on the interplay between ideology and image in the formulation of the West Robbert Woltering offers an in depth look at the ways in which multiple representations occidentalisms of the West have developed in Egypt since the end of the Cold War From the pivotal classics of Sayyid Qutb and Gamal Abdel Nasser to the contemporary works of Muhammad Imara and Galal Amin Occidentalisms in the Arab World explores the political undertones in the imagined West in Egyptian media Through the rigorous analysis of newspaper editorials scholarly literature widely circulated books and visual media Woltering examines the competing influences of leftist nationalist liberal and Islamist ideologies within the context of the broader struggle for political supremacy in the region Drawing from the work of intellectuals at the respective forefronts of these movements Woltering explores the nuanced relationship between image and ideology which has shaped the how the West is perceived within the Arab world today Occidentalisms in the Arab World provides an unparalleled and original commentary in an emerging field at the intersection of Middle East Studies Political Science and Media Studies

Alterities in Asia Leong Yew,2010-11-18 This book investigates the politics of identity in Asia and explores how different groups of people inside and outside Asia have attempted to relate to the alterity of the places and cultures in the region through various modes literary and filmic representation scholarly knowledge and so on and at different points in time Although coming from different perspectives like literary criticism film studies geography cultural history and political science the contributors collectively argue that Asian otherness is more than the dialectical interplay between the Western self and one of its many others and more than just the Orientalist discourse writ large Rather they demonstrate the existence of multiple levels of inter Asian and intercultural contact and consciousness that both subvert as much as they consolidate the dominant Western Core Asian periphery framework that structures what the mainstream assumes to be knowledge of Asia With chapters covering a wealth of topics from Korea and its Cold War history to Australia s Asian identity crisis this book will be of huge interest to anyone interested in critical Asian studies Asian ethnicity postcolonialism and Asia cultural studies Leong Yew is an Assistant Professor in the University Scholars Programme National University of Singapore He is the author of The Disjunctive Empire of International Relations 2003 Failure, Nationalism, and Literature Jing Tsu, 2005 How often do we think of cultural humiliation and failure as strengths Against prevailing views on what it means to enjoy power as individuals cultures or nations this provocative book looks at the making of cultural and national identities in modern China as building success on failure It reveals the exercise of sovereign power where we least expect it and shows how this is crucial to our understanding of a modern world of conflict violence passionate suffering and cultural difference Interwar Modernism and the Liberal World Order Gabriel Hankins, 2019-08-29 Articulates the interwar modernist response to the crisis of liberal world order after 1919 The Cinema of Feng Xiaogang Rui Zhang, 2008-09-01 Beginning first as a case study of Feng Xiaogang this book explores Chinese film history since the early 1990s in terms of changes of the Communist Party's film policy industry reforms the official promotion of Main Melody films and the emergence and growth of popular cinema The image of Feng that will emerge in this book is of a filmmaker working under political and economic pressures in a post socialist state while still striving to create works with a personal socio political agenda In keeping with this reality this book approaches Feng as a special kind of film auteur whose works must be interpreted with attention to the specific social and political context of contemporary China The book will be a useful reference tool for students and scholars in the fields of Chinese studies Chinese film history and film studies It could also be used as textbook for classes about Asian cinema international cinema and Chinese culture film studies The extensive use of data about the Chinese film market and elaborate analysis of the situation of Chinese film industry make this book a valuable volume for classroom and personal use Lin Shu, Inc. Michael Gibbs Hill, 2013 How could a writer who knew no foreign languages call himself a translator How too did he become a major commercial success churning out nearly two hundred translations over twenty years Lin Shu Inc crosses the fields of literary studies intellectual history and print culture offering new ways to understand the stakes of translation in China and beyond With rich detail and lively prose Michael Gibbs Hill shows how Lin Shu 1852 1924 rose from obscurity to become China's leading translator of Western fiction at the beginning of the twentieth century Well before Ezra Pound's and Bertolt Brecht's inventions of China revolutionized poetry and theater Lin Shu and his assistants who did in fact know languages like English and French had already given many Chinese readers their first taste of fiction from the United States France and England After passing through Lin Shu's factory of writing classic novels like Uncle Tom's Cabin and Oliver Twist spoke with new meaning for audiences concerned with the tumultuous social and political change facing China Leveraging his success as a translator of foreign books Lin Shu quickly became an authority on traditional Chinese culture who upheld the classical language as a cornerstone of Chinese national identity Eventually younger intellectuals who had grown up reading his translations turned on Lin Shu and tarred him as a symbol of backward conservatism Ultimately Lin's defeat and downfall became just as significant as his rise to fame in defining the work of the intellectual in modern China

Postcolonism Diana Brydon, 2023-01-06 First published in 2004 This is Volume III of Postcolonialism part of a series of critical concepts in literary and cultural studies This edition includes part six on Orientalisms part seven on Thinking Working Through Race and part eight which covers Feminisms and Gender Analysis
