Pioneer Days In British Columbia Volume 1:

Pioneer Days in British Columbia Art Downs, 1975-05 Pioneer Days is a blend of words and photos that proves British Columbia's history is as interesting as that recorded anywhere else in North America. Every article is true, many written or narrated by those who 100 or more years ago lived the experiences they relate. Each volume contains 160 pages plus some 60 000 words of text and over 200 historical photos, many published for the first time. Alex Lord's British Columbia Alexander Russell Lord, 1991 Alex Lord, a pioneer inspector of rural BC schools, shares in these recollections his experiences in a province barely out of the stage coach era. Travelling through vast northern territory utilizing unreliable transportation and enduring climatic extremes, Lord became familiar with the aspirations of remote communities and their faith in the humanizing effects of tiny assisted schools. En route he performed in resolute yet imaginative fashion the supervisory functions of a top government educator, developing an educational philosophy of his own based on an understanding of the provincial geography, a reverence for citizenship, and a work ethic tuned to challenge and accomplishment. Although not completed, these memoirs invite the reader to experience the British Columbia that Alex Lord knew. Through his words we endure the difficulties of travel in this mountainous province. We meet many of the unusual characters who inhabited this last frontier and learn of their hopes, fears, joys, sorrows, and eccentricities. More particularly, we are reminded of the historical significance of the one room rural school and its role as an indispensable instrument of community cohesion. John Calam has organized the memoirs according to the regions through which Lord travelled. He has included in his introduction a biography of Alex Lord, a brief description of the British Columbia he knew, a sketch of its public education system, and an assessment of the place Lord's writing now occupies among other works on education and society. Alex Lord's British Columbia John Calam, 2007-10-01 Alex Lord, a pioneer inspector of rural British Columbia schools, shares in these recollections his experiences in a province barely out of the stage coach era. Travelling through vast northern territory utilizing unreliable transportation and enduring climatic extremes, Lord became familiar with the aspirations of remote communities and their faith in the humanizing effects of tiny assisted schools. En route he performed in resolute yet imaginative fashion the supervisory functions of a top government educator, developing an educational philosophy of his own based on an understanding of the provincial geography, a reverence for citizenship, and a work ethic tuned to challenge and accomplishment. Mabou Pioneers Volume 1, 2014-06-12 This book is a genealogical record of some of the pioneer families who settled in the Mabou and District area of Cape Breton. In addition to genealogies of Mabou families, the book also offers biographical sketches of prominent ecclesiastics, a history of the Parish of Mabou, and a brief reflection on the compiling of genealogies. Mabou Pioneers is an indispensable reference to the genealogy of this remarkable Cape Breton community. British Columbia and Yukon Gold Hunters Donald E. Waite, 2015 A look at the 19th century gold rushes in British Columbia and the Yukon. Includes archival photographs and hand drawn maps. Carving the Western Path R. G.

Harvey,2011-06-15 The history of British Columbia's transportation systems north of the Canadian National Railway's mainline may not be well known but it certainly is colourful Continuing the story he began in the first volume of Carving the Western Path R G Harvey describes the development of river road and rail routes that crossed the northern two thirds of BC This was a land of dreams and schemes that seemed to feed on each other It started with the Collins Overland Telegraph a communication link that was to connect Europe and America in the 1860s Though this plan collapsed with the success of the trans Atlantic cable the telegraph surveyors established patterns for future roads and settlement They also sparked the Omineca gold rush It was a land full of larger than life characters including Charles Hays who dreamed of a major seaport at Prince Rupert but died on the Titanic before he could realize his vision Charles Bedaux who in the 1930s carved his 416 mile path into the northern Rockies Railway promoters Warburton Pike Sir Edward Phillipps Wolley William Mackenzie and Donald Mann who got gifts of land and money but couldn't always meet their promises Their stories mingle with those of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway the Alaska Highway the White Pass and Yukon Railway and those of the sternwheelers fur traders gold miners and other adventurers who were drawn to this last frontier

British Columbia Bizarre Rosemary Neering,2011 British Columbia Bizarre is a fascinating and eclectic mix of tales snippets historical facts fancies and misconceptions teased from the history of British Columbia No one should read this book to obtain a balanced view of the province's history It ignores the important people and trends that contributed to BC's story and instead favours the often strange sometimes wonderful and frequently insignificant events and people that make this province a storyteller's dream Amuse yourself with tales of the brothels bowdy houses and bagnios that existed in every town the wild camels of Vancouver Island communists well sort of duels to the death and goose races And if that isn't enough fill your boots with a potpourri of editorial feuds gamblers and professional hangmen lepers and lynching and let's not forget angry moose Sure to delight and surprise British Columbia Bizarres a wild safari through provincial history that will confuse your assumptions and tickle your taste for the unusual Bright Seas, Pioneer Spirits Betty Keller, Rosella Leslie, 2011-07-06 For well over a century the bright seas of the Sunshine Coast have been attracting visitors to the waterfront resorts fishing lodges and beaches that rest between Howe Sound and the spectacular Princess Louisa Inlet These coastal hotspots and communities were settled by a few courageous and daring pioneers whose names are still familiar today Gibsons Roberts Whitaker Donley Silvey Griffiths Bright Seas Pioneer Spirits tells the stories of the homesteaders loggers prospectors and fishermen who carved out a living on the treacherous mountainside that rises straight out of the inlets These men and women came with nothing in their pockets and founded logging empires shingle mills and sawmills launched fish canneries a glue factory and even a well known jam factory and scaled the mountainsides to start copper and gold mines They travelled and traded by boat long before coastal roads were built in the 1950s and their pioneering spirits still ride the bright seas of the Sunshine Coast today Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index, 1975

Writing British Columbia History, 1784-1958 Chad Reimer, 2010-07-01 Captain James Cook first made contact with the area now known as British Columbia in 1778 The colonists who followed soon realized they needed a written history both to justify their dispossession of Aboriginal peoples and to formulate an identity for a new settler society Writing British Columbia History shows how Euro Canadian historians took up this task and struggled with the newness of colonial society and overlapping alliances to the British Empire the United States and Canada In explorers accounts promotional literature pioneer histories and academic studies they eased these tensions by defining British Columbia as part of a global British Empire incorporating it into an expanding Anglo Saxon civilization and writing it into the empire of history itself This sweeping study of the role of history writing in colonialism and nation building will appeal to anyone interested in British Columbia history the history of the Pacific Northwest or history writing in Canada Bucktails and Hoochies Bruce Colegrave, Jack Gaunt, 1971-05 Trolling bucktail flies is an exciting and productive method of catching salmon Colegrave explains the technique and Gaunt shows sportsmen how to catch salmon with hoochies The Archive of Place William Turkel, 2011-11-01 The Archive of Place weaves together a series of narratives about environmental history in a particular location British Columbia's Chilcotin Plateau In the mid 1990s the Chilcotin was at the centre of three territorial conflicts Opposing groups in their struggle to control the fate of the region and its resources invoked different understandings of its past and different types of evidence to justify their actions These controversies serve as case studies as William Turkel examines how people interpret material traces to reconstruct past events the conditions under which such interpretation takes place and the role that this interpretation plays in historical consciousness and social memory It is a wide ranging and original study that extends the span of conventional historical research Canadian Books in Print 2002 Marian Butler, 2002-02 Canadian Books in Print, 1999 Aboriginal People and Other Canadians Martin Thornton, Roy Todd, 2001-12-06 Aboriginal People and Other Canadians discusses a wide variety of issues in Native studies including social exclusion marginalization and identity justice equality and gender self help and empowerment in Aboriginal communities and in the cities and methodological and historiographical representations of social relationships The contributors attempt to gauge whether the last decade of the twentieth century was a time of constructive transition and whether new patterns of relations are emerging after the recent challenges to the colonial legacy by Aboriginal people French Canadians, Furs, and Indigenous Women in the Making of the Pacific Northwest Jean Barman, 2015-02-25 Jean Barman was the recipient of the 2014 George Woodcock Lifetime Achievement Award In French Canadians Furs and Indigenous Women in the Making of the Pacific Northwest Jean Barman rewrites the history of the Pacific Northwest from the perspective of French Canadians attracted by the fur economy the indigenous women whose presence in their lives encouraged them to stay and their descendants Joined in this distant setting by Quebec paternal origins the French language and Catholicism French Canadians comprised Canadiens from Quebec Iroquois from the Montreal area and m tis combining Canadien and indigenous descent For half a century French Canadians were the largest group of newcomers to this region extending from Oregon and Washington east into Montana and north through British Columbia Here they facilitated the early overland crossings drove the fur economy initiated non wholly indigenous agricultural settlement eased relations with indigenous peoples and ensured that when the region was divided in 1846 the northern half would go to Britain giving today s Canada its Pacific shoreline

History of the Oregon Country Harvey Whitefield Scott, 1924 History of Seattle, Volume 1 Clarence B. Bagley, The preparation of a History of Seattle has been the exploration of a new field and the amount of patient research and careful investigation involved has been a task of colossal proportions The printed and written records of the first twenty years of Seattle s existence are scanty almost beyond belief Not until 1863 was a newspaper established there and for many years more space in it was devoted to eastern and foreign politics than to the record of local passing events Few if any pioneers kept diaries and none of these except that of the writer has been accessible And yet has this work become one of the most detailed and accurate narratives of the history of this beautiful town on the West coast A must read and not only for Seattle citizens This is volume one out of two PNLA Quarterly Pacific Northwest Library Association, 1989
