Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals, 1955 Jet Pioneers Tim Kershaw, 2004-03-18 In April 1941 Britain's first jet left the ground at a grass airfield 4 miles from Gloucester Cathedral. It was the start of a revolution in air travel military and civilian. During the 1940s Britain's first ever jet aircraft, the world's first jet fighter in squadron service and the first jet to hold the world air speed record were all designed, built and flown in the Gloucester and Cheltenham area. The story of Frank Whittle's invention and dogged development of the jet engine is well known. But the account of how his invention was put into the air has never been fully told. This book tells the story of how the men and women of north Gloucestershire made Whittle's engine fly The Roll Call Last Man Pioneer Air Mail Club, 1943 Air University Periodical Index, 1955 Air-line Industry Investigation United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, 1949 Alexander P. de Seversky and the Quest for Air Power James K. Libbey, 2013-08-31 Today air power is a vital component of the U.S. armed forces. James Libbey in Alexander P. de Seversky and the Quest for Air Power highlights the contributions of an aviation pioneer who made much of it possible. Graduating from the Imperial Russian Naval Academy at the start of World War I, de Seversky lost a leg in his first combat mission. He still shot down thirteen German planes and became the empire's most decorated combat naval pilot. While serving as a naval attaché in the United States in 1918, de Seversky elected to escape the Bolshevik Revolution and offered his services as a pilot and consulting engineer to the U.S. War Department. He proved inventive both in the technology of advanced military aircraft and in the strategy of exercising air power. He worked for famed aviation advocate Gen. William Billy Mitchell, who encouraged the naturalized citizen to patent his inventions such as an in-flight refueling system and a gyroscopically synchronized bombsight. His creative spirit then spurred him to design and manufacture advanced military aircraft. When World War II broke out in Europe, de Seversky became America's best-known philosopher, prophet, and advocate for air power, even serving as an adviser to the chief of staff of the U.S. Air Force. The highlight of his life occurred in 1970 when the Aviation Hall of Fame enshrined de Seversky for his achievements as a pilot, aeronautical engineer, inventor, industrialist, author, strategist, consultant, and scientific advances in aircraft design and aerospace technology. This book will appeal to readers with a special interest in military history and to
