Fashioning Identities in Renaissance Art Mary Rogers,2019-06-04 Originally published in 2000 Fashioning Identities analyses some of the different ways in which identities were fashioned in and with art during the Renaissance taken as meaning the period c 1300 1600 The notion of such a search for new identities expressed in a variety of new themes styles and genres has been all pervasive in the historical and critical literature dealing with the period starting with Burckhardt and it has been given a new impetus by contemporary scholarship using a variety of methodological approaches The identities involved are those of patrons for whom artistic patronage was a means of consolidating power projecting ideologies acquiring social prestige or building a suitable public persona and artists who developed a distinctive manner to fashion their artistic identity or drew attention to aspects of their artistic personality either in self portraiture or the style and placing of their signature or by exploiting a variety of literary forms

Freedberg,1993-01-01 Art declared Vasari in Lives of the Artists has been reborn and reached perfection in our time Indeed the roster of great names in painting of the Cinquecento which only begins with those of Leonardo Michelangelo and Raphael appears to justify this grand claim Professor Freedberg here discusses the individual painters and analyses the hallmarks of their work He traces the classical style of the High Renaissance the Mannerism that succeeded it and the events in North Italy especially that resist stylistic categories He has given order to this diversity but at the same time has preserved the intense individuality of the works of art Storia ed arte nella chiesa di San Zenone a Sale Marasino ,2007

Caravaggio was one of the most important Italian painters of the 17th century. He was in fact the wellspring of Baroque painting. In Hibbard's words, Caravaggio's paintings speak to us more personally and more poignantly than any others of the time. In this study, Howard Hibbard evaluates the work of Caravaggio, notorious as a painter assassin, hailed by many as an original interpreter of the scriptures, a man whose exploration of nature has been likened to that of Galileo. Il racconto
