The Role of the University in the Preparation of Teachers

the late Robert Roth,2005-08-04 Addresses a subject of common interest in developed countries the apparently diminishing role of universities in the education of teachers There is pressure to redesign teacher education an on going struggle between those who see the need to strengthen the knowledge base of teachers and those who favour learning on the job there is a perceived need to define precisely what teachers need to know and be able to do and at the same time there is relaxation of entry standards for students entering the profession in an attempt to relieve the chronic shortage of teachers This situation is prevalent in the USA in the UK Europe and Australia The struggle over who should control the preparation of teachers is the significant emerging issue in education and could change the whole structure of the teacher preparation

The Schoolhome Jane MARTIN,Jane Roland Martin,2009-06-30 A century ago John Dewey remarked that when home changes radically school must change as well With home family and gender roles dramatically altered in recent years we are faced with a difficult problem in the lives of more and more American children no one is home The Schoolhome proposes a solution Drawing selectively from reform movements of the past and relating them to the unique needs of today s parents and children Jane Martin presents a philosophy of education that is responsive to America s changed and changing realities As more and more parents enter the workforce the historic role of the domestic sphere in the education and development of children is drastically reduced Consequently Martin advocates removing the barriers between the school and the home making school a metaphorical home a safe and nurturant environment that provides children with the experience of affection and connection otherwise missing or inconsistent in their lives In this proposition the traditional schoolhouse where children are drilled in the three Rs is transformed into a schoolhome where learning is animated by an ethic of social awareness At a time when many school reformers are calling for a return to basics and lobbying for skills education and quick fix initiatives Martin urges us to reconsider the distinctive legacies of Dewey and Montessori and to conceive of a school that integrates the values of the home with those of social responsibility With cultural diversity and gender equality among its explicit goals the schoolhome expands upon Dewey s edict to educate the whole child seeking instead to educate all children in the culture s whole heritage Martin eloquently challenges reformers to reclaim the founding fathers vision of the nation as a domestic realm and to imagine a learning environment whose curriculum and classroom practice reflect not merely an economic but a moral investment in the future of our children More than a summons to action this remarkable book is a call to rethink the assumptions we bring to the educational enterprise and so to act wisely
