The Missed Encounter of Radical Philosophy with Architecture Nadir Lahiji, 2014-04-10 The Missed Encounter of Radical Philosophy with Architecture brings together a respected team of philosophers and architecture scholars to ask what impact architecture has over today's culture and society For three decades critical philosophy has been in discourse with architecture Yet following the recent radical turn in contemporary philosophy architecture's role in contemporary culture is rarely addressed In turn the architecture discourse in academia has remained ignorant of recent developments in radical philosophy Providing the first platform for a debate between critics architects and radical philosophers this unique collection unties these two schools of thought Contributors reason for or against the claim of the missed encounter between architecture and radical philosophy They discuss why our prominent critical philosophers devote stimulating writings to the ideological impact of arts on the contemporary culture music literature cinema opera theatre without attempting a similar comprehensive analysis of architecture By critically evaluating recent philosophy in relation to contemporary architecture The Missed Encounter of Radical Philosophy with Architecture presents a thorough understanding of the new relationship between architecture and radical philosophy

Reconstructing Architecture Thomas A. Dutton, Lian Hurst Mann,

The Social (Re)Production of Architecture Doina Petrescu, Kim Trogal, 2017-07-14 The Social Re Production of Architecture brings the debates of the right to the city into today's context of ecological economic and social crises Building on the 1970s discussions about the production of space which French sociologist Henri Lefebvre considered a civic right the authors question who has the right to make space and explore the kinds of relations that are produced in the process In the emerging post capitalist era this book addresses urgent social and ecological imperatives for change and opens up questions around architecture's engagement with new forms of organization and practice The book asks what new kinds of social can architecture reproduce and what kinds of politics values and actions are needed The book features 24 interdisciplinary essays written by leading theorists and practitioners including social thinkers economic theorists architects educators urban curators feminists artists and activists from different generations and global contexts The essays discuss the diverse global locations with work taking different and specific forms in these different contexts A cutting edge critical text which rethinks both practice and theory in the light of recent crises making it key reading for students academics and practitioners

Neo-Ottoman Imaginaries in Contemporary Turkey Catharina Raudvere, Petek Onur, 2022-12-13 This book presents gendered readings of cultural manifestations that relate to the Ottoman era as a preferred past and a model for the future By means of claims of authenticity and the distribution of imaginaries of a homogenous desirable alternative to everyday concerns as well as invoking an imperial past at the national level In this mode of thinking shaped around a polarised worldview Republican ideals serve as a counter image to the promoted splendour and harmony of the Ottomans Yet the stereotypical gender roles inextricably linked with this neo Ottoman imaginary remain largely unacknowledged dissimulated in the construction of the desire of an idealised past Our adaption of a cultural studies perspective in this volume puts special emphasis on agency gender and authority It provides a shared ground for the interrogation through the contributions comprising this project of knowledge production about the past in light of what constitutes acceptable legitimacy in interpreting not only the canonical literature but history at large

Architecture Andrew Ballantyne, 2002-08-22 This highly original and sophisticated look at architecture helps us to understand the cultural significance of the buildings that surround us It avoids the traditional style spotting approach in favour of giving an idea of what it is about buildings that moves us and what it is that makes them important artistically and culturally The book begins by looking at how architecture acquires meaning through tradition and concludes with the exoticism of the recent avant garde Illustrations of particular buildings help to anchor the general points with specific examples from ancient Egypt to the present day
