Places Everyone Brittingham Price For Poetry:

Places/everyone Jim Daniels, 1985 Jim Daniels in his first book of poems draws upon his experiences in living and working in his native Detroit to present a stark realistic picture of urban blue collar life Daniels his brothers his father and his grandfather have all worked in the auto industry and that background seeps into nearly all these poems The first of the book's three sections sketches out this background then moves into a neighborhood full of people whose lives are so linked to the ups and downs of the auto industry that they have to struggle to find their own lives in Still Lives in Detroit 2 Daniels writes There's a man in this picture No one can find him The second section contains the Digger poems a series on the lives of a Detroit auto worker and his family which tries to capture the effects of the work on life outside the factory Here we listen to Digger think dream wander on psychological journeys while he moves through his routines shoveling the snow mowing the lawn and so forth In section three the poems move into the workplace whether that be a liquor store a hamburger joint or a factory These poems sometimes dark sometimes humorous concentrate on the efforts of workers to rise above the often depressing work of blue collar or minimum wage jobs to salvage some pride and dignity The poems in this book try to give a voice to those who are often shut out of poetry They are important These lives are important and the poems more than anything say that

Blessing the House Jim Daniels, 2020-02-24 In his fourth book of poems Jim Daniels visits the sites of domestic faith Catholic schools sex and marriage childbirth in an attempt to witness a world worth believing in A sense of search unites these poems whether they take place on the cement slabs of a 1950s Detroit suburb or on the hillside cemetery of an Italian village In their search for hope grace and decency in the small dramas of an individual life the poems of Blessing the House become larger more overtly political They are as Daniels writes prayers for this world with their clear consequence

Working Classics Peter Oresick, Nicholas Coles, 1990 A diverse collection of 169 poems by 74 poets writing about blue collar America at work Arrangement is by author with indexing that gives access by subjects such as accidents after work bosses various industries retirement sabotage pride in work The theme of work is a central and evocative one and this collection brings its importance home

The Unbeliever Lisa Lewis, 1994 Lisa Lewis's first collection of poems meditates on people in trouble searching for a way out people whose faith has been tested and found wanting The child who believes in God only on Christmas Eve the teenage girl exploring her sexuality and finding herself forever under male control the young woman struggling in a violent relationship a driver locked in the secure world of her car deliberately swerving close to a traffic cop or using her commuting time to dream of leaving her marriage the men who frequent massage parlors and therapists or threaten to rape the moon all have in common secret skepticism and isolation These poems address with compassion and intensity the wariness of women and men together the distance between them as they attempt to bridge their destructive failures In long lines loaded with the eccentric details of human life the vision of The Unbeliever is dark funny and not without hope as it follows the characters through connections sought and set at odds by difference and circumstance Unfamiliar Territory Nicholas Litchfield, 2025-01-31 A doctoral candidate lands a three month study abroad opportunity in Barbados and swiftly becomes a newsworthy personality Lust and vengeance land a crew member in hot water aboard a cruise ship in the Caribbean And after an eye opening voyage to Constantinople a judicious English inventor carefully circumnavigates a mighty Sultan s intimidating demands UNFAMILIAR TERRITORY is bustling with vibrant voices imparting agreeable poetry gratifying travelogues and venturous travel yarns From trepidation in Turkey and community affection in Barbados to betrayal and disgrace in the West Indies we proudly present poetry and prose by Katie Baker Robert Beveridge Barbara Bottner Bill Brown Jeff Burt Lorraine Caputo Kathy Dunkerley J C Elkin James Gallant David Hagerty C B Heinemann Charles Holdefer Ann Howells Mark Jacobs Mary Kreienkamp William Miller George Moore Tim Morris Diana Senechal Steve Slavin Elizabeth Sowden K C Wolfe and Lee Clark Zumpe Plus new work and in depth interviews with distinguished authors Adam Berlin and Jim Daniels Punching Out Jim Daniels, 1990 Jim Daniels takes readers inside an auto factory to experience the frustrations the dehumanization and the small victories found there Daniels second book of poetry takes readers inside an auto factory with Digger a young man whose initial reaction of shock and dismay at the difficult working conditions prompts him to find ways to cope with the dehumanization he experiences there The book is a series of tightly woven poems that play off one another so that the book accumulates tension and energy as it progresses Daniels treats his characters and their work with respect giving them a dignity that factory condition deny them Opting for blunt straightforward language Daniels does not try to poeticize the factory but rather injects the factory into his poetry

Show and Tell Jim Daniels, 2003-04-22 Show and Tell is a varied complex collection of poems serious and wise wry and often profound Jim Daniels work has become both more experimentally dramatic and more poetically sure of itself

Meditations on Rising and Falling Philip Pardi, 2008-04-01 Winner of the 2008 Brittingham Prize in Poetry selected by David St John From tumult to catharsis the poems in Philip Pardi s first collection Meditations on Rising and Falling explore the emotional tug of war that is the human experience Present at every turn are people searching for meaning and sense in an elusive world a doorman who plans to punch the senator who never speaks to him a son who discusses ornithology with his father s dying friend a roofer who copes with his past as he senses his imminent fall to the ground While the poems are witness to the turmoil of both body and soul they are not without hope Pardi finds grace in noise and happiness in the mourning doves showing us that often the reasons for disbelief become precisely the reasons for belief Pardi s collection is a testimony to faith and resistance in a world where falling is the given Winner Award for Poetry and Literary Criticism The Writers League of Texas Finalist 2008 Norma Farber First Book Award Poetry Society of America Jim Daniels Greatest Hits Jim Daniels, 2002 A Field Guide to the Heavens Frank Gaspar, 1999 Explaining the potential dangers facing our world this series offers positive suggestions for securing our future The books demystify terms such as global warming acid rain and ozone layer and discuss how real the dangers are what is being done today and what can be done in the future The titles should provide a useful resource for students studying areas of the curriculum involving science technology geography and environmental studies This title examines the area of future power My Favorite Tyrants Joanne Diaz,2014-03-28 Winner of the 2014 Brittingham Prize in Poetry selected by Naomi Shihab Nye The word tyrant carries negative connotations but in this new collection Joanne Diaz tries to understand what makes tyranny so compelling even seductive These dynamic funny often poignant poems investigate the nature of tyranny in all of its forms political cultural familial and erotic Poems about Stalin Lenin and Castro appear beside poems about deeply personal histories The result is a powerful exploration of desire grief and loss in a world where private relationships are always illuminated and informed by larger more despotic forces Winner Midwest Book Award for Poetry Midwest Independent Publishers Association The Best American Poetry 2000 Rita Dove,2000-09-19 Former Poet Laureate Dove has chosen the best poems of the year from a wide range of literary magazines and journals presenting works by W S Merwin Lucille Clifton Susan Mitchell John Ashbery and others The poets comment about their work Lehman writes the Foreword New Jersey Betsy Andrews,2007-03-15 Betsy Andrews s sweeping energetic book length poem pounds the pavement of the New Jersey Turnpike driving through America past landfills and wetlands and weapons labs under the towering shadows of engines oil and war With a disarmingly unique voice that evokes the tradition of Pound and Eliot Whitman and Williams and Ginsberg Andrews creates a pastiche of landscape consciousness history and politics in this American age Jagged with Love Susanna Childress,2005 Susanna Childress writes with an earnest desire to understand things physical and things spiritual What results is a first collection of provocative honest poetry that explores various human predicaments a cancer ridden wife an explosive father an infertile couple various sexual aggressors a missing girl Such careful portraiture provokes the reader to consider the complexity of human love how selfishness fear lust and even brutality might coincide with tenderness and loyalty Ms Childress s writing is refreshingly naive and clear her voice essentially inquisitive She is brave enough to look at the darkness of the world but she is more courageous to hope Sea of Faith John Brehm,2004 In a masterful blending of lyric and narrative Sea of Faith ranges across interior states and external worlds From the Sierra Nevadas to New York City subways from an imagined friendship with Lao Tzu to a meditation on Coney Island from a comic and poignant classroom discussion to a sexual fantasy John Brehm s poems explore the human predicament with tenderness compassion and humor Dictionary of Midwestern Literature, Volume 1 Philip A. Greasley,2001-05-30 The Dictionary of Midwestern Literature Volume One surveys the lives and writings of nearly 400 Midwestern authors and identifies some of the most important criticism of their writings The Dictionary is based on the belief that the literature of any region simultaneously captures the experience and influences the worldview of its people reflecting as well as shaping the evolving sense of individual and collective identity meaning and values Volume One presents individual lives and literary orientations and offers a broad survey of the Midwestern experience as expressed by its many diverse peoples over time Philip A Greasley s introduction fills in background information and describes the philosophy focus methodology content and layout of entries as well as criteria for their inclusion An extended lead essay The Origins and Development of the Literature of the Midwest by David D Anderson provides a historical cultural and literary context in which the lives and writings of individual authors can be considered This volume is the first of an ambitious three volume series sponsored by the Society for the Study of Midwestern Literature and created by its members Volume Two will provide similar coverage of non author entries such as sites centers movements influences themes and genres Volume Three will be a literary history of the Midwest One goal of the series is to build understanding of the nature importance and influence of Midwestern writers and literature Another is to provide information on writers from the early years of the Midwestern experience as well as those now emerging who are typically absent from existing reference works

The Mouths of Grazing Things Jennifer Boyden,2010-04-01 The Mouths of Grazing Things is an unflinching lyrical meditation on nature s forced exodus from the human and the forms of longing estrangement magnetism and self otherness that ensue Arrestingly tender and fiercely protective of where nature lurks in and out of us still Boyden translates for a new landscape where a brain in a jar is anchored by an apple a fly tying fisherman finds love songs to fish scattered among the barber s sweepings and the players at the most dangerous playground in the world prepare for anything with one fist clenched and the other full of sugar In poems built to survive an unsafe journey this book delivers the now beyond the almost was the near forgotten and the just in time

Old & New Testaments Lynn Powell,1995 The poems of Old New Testaments explore Lynn Powell s Southern Baptist upbringing and how that history echoes through her adult experiences of sexual love self knowledge loss and motherhood Powell s poems chronicle a life lush with the ordinary where truths reveal themselves in the same sad immutable text of a withered face and in a child s rickety letters tilting across the page When grace answers grief in these poems it is not with reassurance but with a call to the narrow path to Love

Acts of Contortion Anna Meek,2002 In poems that are by turns witty lush and unflinching Acts of Contortion explores the gestures of both hurtfulness and compassion Whether set in a shelter for battered women in the midst of a political demonstration or at the center of an orchestra the poems pursue the place of language in an injurious world The political conscience at work is feminist pacifist and at odds with itself Anna George Meek finds that the brutal and the compassionate are sometimes indistinguishable born of our need to make contact outside of ourselves These gestures of music of touch of poetry appear in the poems as the violin domestic abuse and words to comfort a woman in pain The poems argue difficult yet imperative the attempt to gesture beyond ourselves is an act of contortion

A Path Between Houses Greg Rappleye,2000 Rappleye is not afraid to implicate the self building a heroic persona in the classic sense a person in whom the flaws are as celebrated as the occasional triumph
