National Register of Historic Places ,1966 The Atlas of Disappearing Places Christina Conklin, Marina

Psaros,2021-07-20 A beautiful and engaging guide to global warming s impacts around the world Our planet is in peril Seas are rising oceans are acidifying ice is melting coasts are flooding species are dying and communities are faltering Despite these dire circumstances most of us don t have a clear sense of how the interconnected crises in our ocean are affecting the climate system food webs coastal cities and biodiversity and which solutions can help us co create a better future Through a rich combination of place based storytelling clear explanations of climate science and policy and beautifully rendered maps that use a unique ink on dried seaweed technique The Atlas of Disappearing Places depicts twenty locations across the globe from Shanghai and Antarctica to Houston and the Cook Islands The authors describe four climate change impacts changing chemistry warming waters strengthening storms and rising seas using the metaphor of the ocean as a body to draw parallels between natural systems and human systems Each chapter paints a portrait of an existential threat in a particular place detailing what will be lost if we do not take bold action now Weaving together contemporary stories and speculative future histories for each place this work considers both the serious consequences if we continue to pursue business as usual and what we can do from government policies to grassroots activism to write a different more hopeful story A beautiful work of art and an indispensable resource to learn more about the devastating consequences of the climate crisis as well as possibilities for individual and collective action The Atlas of Disappearing Places will engage and inspire readers on the most pressing issue of our time The Periplus of the Erythraean Sea, by an unknown author G.W.B. Huntingford,2017-05-15 The

Edomite Plateau and the Dead Sea Rift Valley Burton MacDonald,2015-03-12 Burton MacDonald presents an in depth study of the archaeology and history of human presence over the past five six thousand years in the southern segment of the Transjordan Edomite Plateau and the Dead Sea Rift Valley to the west The evidence from archaeology for the area spans the entire period though the time for which literary evidence is available is only the past 4000 years from the Middle Bronze Age 2000 1550 BC Once literary evidence is available however it complements the archaeological record and as can be amply demonstrated the written records can be clarified only through the archaeological data These two sources are thus used to describe environments resources industries settlement patterns and the lifestyles of the inhabitants of this pivotal region The result is a story of the people who lived in the area from the Bronze Age through the Islamic period What is evident is that there were differences in certain archaeological periods in settlement patterns as well as lifestyles between those who lived on the southern segment of the Plateau and those who lived in the Dead Sea Rift Valley or in the lowlands immediately to the west Moreover it is obvious that when there were periods of trade and industry for example the spice trade and copper mining and processing the population of the area was higher Stable governance brought about growth in population and prosperity But other factors also played their part in these ebbs and flows of population climatic fluctuations affecting the availability of water and arable land the development and adoption of new technologies in farming practices raw material extraction and industrial methods processes and transportation and political change resulting in periods of relative stability and instability in government
