Ecclesiastical Landscapes in Medieval Europe: An Archaeological Perspective José Carlos Sánchez-Pardo,Emmet Marron,Maria Crîngaci Țiplic,2020-07-02 By presenting case studies from across Eastern and Western Medieval Europe this volume aims to open up a Europe wide debate on the variety of relations and contexts between ecclesiastical buildings and their surrounding landscapes between the 5th and 15th centuries AD Churches of the Middle Ages Reinhard Bentmann, Heinrich Lickes, 1979 Medieval Irish Architecture and the Concept of Romanesque Tadhg O'Keeffe, 2024-02-28 This book presents a fresh perspective on eleventh and twelfth century Irish architecture and a critical assessment of the value of describing it and indeed contemporary European architecture in general as Romanesque Medieval Irish Architecture and the Concept of Romanesque is a new and original study of medieval architectural culture in Ireland The book's central premise is that the concept of a Romanesque style in eleventh and twelfth century architecture across Western Europe including Ireland is problematic and that the analysis of building traditions of that period is not well served by the assumption that there was a common style Detailed discussion of important buildings in Ireland a place marginalised within the Romanesque model reveals the Irish evidence to be intrinsically interesting to students of medieval European architecture for it is evidence which illuminates how architectural traditions of the Middle Ages were shaped by balancing native and imported needs and aesthetics often without reference to Romanitas This book is for specialists and students in the fields of Romanesque medieval archaeology medieval architectural history and medieval Irish studies The Archaeology of Post-medieval Religion Chris King, Duncan Sayer, 2011 Evidence gleaned from archaeology sheds dramatic new light on religious practices and identities between the later sixteenth and the nineteenth centuries The post medieval period was one of profound religious and cultural change of sometimes violent religious conflict and of a dramatic growth in religious pluralism The essays collected here in what is the first book to focus on the material evidence demonstrate the significant contribution that archaeology can make to a deeper understanding of religion They take a broad interdisciplinary approach to the spatial and material context of religious life using buildings and landscapes religious objects and excavated cemeteries alongside cartographic and documentary sources to reveal the complexity of religious practices and identities in varied regions of post medieval Britain Europe and the wider world Topics covered include the transformation of religious buildings and landscapes in the centuries after the European Reformation the role of religious minorities and immigrant groups in early modern cities the architectural and landscape context of eighteenth and nineteenth century nonconformity and the development of post medieval burial practices and funerary customs Offering a unique perspective on the material remains of the post medieval period this volume will be of significant value to archaeologists and historians interested in the religious and cultural transformation of the early modern world Contributors Chris King Duncan Sayer Andrew Spicer Philippa Woodcock Matthias Range Simon Roffey Greig Parker Jeremy Lake Eric Berry Peter Herring Claire Strachan Peter Benes Diana Mahoney Swales Richard O'Neill Hugh Willmott Natasha Powers Adrian Miles Anwen Cedifor Caffell Rachel Clarke Rosie Morris Roof Bosses in Medieval Churches Charles John Philip Cave, 1948 Denmark and Europe in the Middle Ages, c.1000-1525 Kerstin Hundahl, Lars Kjær, Niels Lund, 2016-05-23 Where medieval Denmark and Scandinavia as a whole has often been seen as a cultural backwater that passively and belatedly received cultural and political impulses from

Western Europe Professor Michael H Gelting and scholars inspired by him have shown that the intellectual religious and political elite of Denmark actively participated in the renaissance and reformation of the central and later medieval period This work has wide ramifications for understanding developments in medieval Europe but so far the discussion has taken place only in Danish language publications This anthology brings the latest research in Danish medieval history to a wider audience and integrates it with contemporary international discussions of the making of the European middle ages

Topographies of Power in the Early Middle Ages Frans Theuws, Mayke B. de Jong, Carine Van Rhijn, 2001 Saint Maurice d Agaune Gudme Vistula Francia Maastricht Aachen Gaul Cordoba The Clash of Cultures on the Medieval Baltic Frontier Alan V. Murray, 2016-12-05 The conversion of the lands on the southern and eastern shores of the Baltic Sea by Germans Danes and Swedes in the period from 1150 to 1400 represented the last great struggle between Christianity and paganism on the European continent but for the indigenous peoples of Finland Livonia Prussia Lithuania and Pomerania it was also a period of wider cultural conflict and transformation Along with the Christian faith came a new and foreign culture the German and Scandinavian languages of the crusaders and the Latin of their priests new names for places superior military technology and churches and fortifications built of stone For newly baptized populations the acceptance of Christianity encompassed major changes in the organization and practice of political religious and social life entailing the acceptance of government by alien elites of new cultic practices and of new obligations such as taxes tithes and military service in the armies of the Christian rulers At the same time as the Western conquerors carried their campaigns beyond pagan territory into the principalities of north western Russia the Baltic Crusades also developed into a struggle between Roman Catholicism and Orthodoxy This collection of sixteen essays by both established and younger scholars explores the theme of clash of cultures from a variety of perspectives discussing the nature and ideology of crusading in the medieval Baltic region the struggle between Catholicism and Orthodoxy and the cultural confrontation that accompanied the process of conversion in subjects as diverse as religious observation political structures the practice of warfare art and music and perceptions of the landscape A Brief History of Christian Worship James F. White, 2010-09-01 Most histories of Christian worship are written as if nothing significant in liturgical history ever happened in North America as if cultural diversities were insignificant in the development of worship and as if most of what mattered were words the priest or minister addressed to God This book is a revisionist work attempting to give new direction to liturgical history by treating the experience of worship of the people in the pews as the primary liturgical document It means liturgical history written facing the other way that is looking into the chancel rather than out of it Relishing the liturgical diversity of recent centuries as firm evidence of Christianity's ability to adapt to a wide variety of peoples and places Professor White shows that this tendency has been apparent in Christian worship since its inception in the New Testament churches Instead of imposing one tradition's criteria on worship he tries to give a balanced and comprehensive approach to the development of the dozen or more traditions surviving in the modern world The Middle Ages (eBook) Tim McNeese,1999-09-01 The Middle Ages A D 500 1300 covers one of the darkest periods in European history from the collapse of the Roman Empire through centuries of chaos destruction and barbarian rule The civilizing power of the church the rise of feudalism the growth of monarchical rule the dramatic rebirth of towns and cities and the formation of the world s first universities are among the events vividly documented in this richly illustrated text Challenging map exercises and provocative review questions encourage meaningful reflection and historical analysis Tests and answer keys are included The Encyclopedia of the Middle Ages Norman F. Cantor,1999 Covers all aspects of the Middle Ages from Europe to the Far East exploring the lives of the great people of the age including Dante and Chaucer Daily Life in the Middle Ages Paul B. Newman,2018-01-16 Although life in the Middle Ages was not as comfortable and safe as it is for most people in industrialized countries today the term Dark Ages is highly misleading The era was not so primitive and crude as depictions in film and literature would suggest Even during the worst years of the centuries immediately following the fall of Rome the legacy of that civilization survived This book covers diet cooking housing building clothing hygiene games and other pastimes fighting and healing in medieval times The reader will find numerous misperceptions corrected The book also includes a comprehensive bibliography and a listing of collections of medieval art and artifacts and related sites across the United States and Canada so that readers in North America can see for themselves some of the matters discussed in the book Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here
