Hultin, 2008-08-31 This book aims to contextualize early Christian rhetoric about foul language by asking such questions as Where was foul language encountered What were the conventional arguments for avoiding or for using obscene words How would the avoidance of such speech have been interpreted by others A careful examination of the ancient uses of and discourse about foul language illuminates the moral logic implicit in various Jewish and Christian texts e g Sirach Colossians Ephesians the Didache and the writings of Clement of Alexandria Although the Christians of the first two centuries were consistently opposed to foul language they had a variety of reasons for their moral stance and they held different views about what role speech should play in forming their identity as a holy people NEW TESTAMENT CONTEXTUAL COMMENTARY Dr. Robert R. Seyda, 2024-03-26 The Apostle John tells his readers he has an important message to tell them It is about a person who was already there before the beginning of the world We heard him speak We ve seen Him with our own eyes We watched Him and we touched Him He is the Word that gives us life with God This is the message God is completely good and pure He is like light There is nothing dark about Him Amazingly John tells us that one of the things Jesus wanted us to understand is that by loving others we love God Yes we do make mistakes and so do other believers but we are not to hold that against them because just as we were given forgiveness by God s mercy and grace since we are in union with His Son so can they What we are not to do is claim access to this privilege but then live like those in the world Our goal is not just life but eternal life After all we are God s children and no child of God keeps on sinning after they are born again through Jesus the Anointed One
