Redefining Canada A Developing Identity 1960-1984 How Canada Became Canada:

Redefining Canada Sheila Nelson, 2006 Discusses the high and low points Canadians experienced in the 1960s through the early 1980s      Canada's Changing Society, 1984-the Present Sheila Nelson, 2006 Discusses Canada's role in the international response to the September 11 2001 terrorist attacks and the invasions of Afghanistan and Iraq      Before Canada Sheila Nelson, 2006 Discusses the geographic regions of Canada and the cultures of the First Nations who lived there and explores some of the theories about how people first came to North America as well as theories about early European visitors to Canada      School Library Journal , 2006-04      Crisis at Home and Abroad Sheila Nelson, 2006 Describes Canada's place in world events taking place in the first half of the twentieth century      Books in Print , 1991

Redefining Canada 1960-1984 Dr. David Bercuson, The 1960s 1970s and early 1980s were a tumultuous time in Canada especially in the province of Quebec Quebec's Quiet Revolution a series of reforms carried out at breathtaking speed gave the people of Quebec a new sense of identity As a province largely populated by French speakers in a country largely populated by English speakers Quebec faced unique challenges As Quebec developed its own identity Canada as a whole also gained a new sense of self The Canadian flag adopted in 1965 was symbolic of this developing image      Redefining Canada Sheila Nelson, David Jay Bercuson, 2008-01-01      Redefining Canada Sheila Stewart, 2006 Discusses the high and low points Canadians experienced in the 1960s through the early 1980s      Subject Guide to Books in Print , 2001

Redefining Canadian [microform] : a History of Canada and the Origins of the United Nations Organization, 1941-1945 Adam Harris Chapnick, 2004 None of this however diminishes the importance of the process of founding the United Nations Organization to Canadian history Rather instead of assessing the significance of this period in terms of how Canada changed the world it is time to consider more carefully how planning a new world order changed Canada When World War II began Canada was a British dominion It was governed by a prime minister who was afraid of international commitments and an under secretary with isolationist tendencies While technically independent the country had no real foreign policy to speak of These accomplishments were real but it is easy to exaggerate Canada's overall impact on the development of the new world order The writing of the history of Canadian external relations has been dominated by its most idealistic civil servants individuals who have provided self serving and at times misleading recollections of the policy process National histories which have drawn heavily from these accounts have consequently over estimated Canada's importance to the planning of the United Nations Organization during World War II Over the next five years Canada became a self proclaimed middle power and an active enthusiastic participant in the creation of one of the most recognized symbols of internationalism in the world the United Nations Organization The Canadian people who to this point had been at best ambivalent when it came to world affairs reinvented themselves as concerned and responsible international citizens There is no question that Canada changed dramatically during the war but the government's new interest and activity in global affairs should not be confused with international influence As a middle sized state Canada was generally on the periphery during what were primarily great power negotiations to form the United Nations In well over its head and coming to grips with an expanded role in the world community for which it had not asked its successes internationally were relatively minor
