Reelpolitik Ideologies in American Political Film Beverly Merrill Kelley, 2012-03-22 In Reelpolitik Ideologies in American Political Film Beverly Merrill Kelley examines more than a century of political movie history providing a thorough historical background for diametrically opposed political ideologies in order to facilitate debate and dialectical learning. Kelley explores 185 American political movies categorized by ideological themes and presented in chronological order in order to illustrate the history of film as well as the history of the specific political ideology. Each chapter includes a case study which provides an in depth analysis of the single film that best illustrates the ideology at hand including The Candidate, populism, Wall Street elitism, The Godfather, fascism, All the President's Men, anti fascism, Patton, interventionism, and M A S H isolationism. Reelpolitik Ideologies in American Political Film establishes a paradigmatic analysis of political films that details the cyclical nature of ideological dialectic throughout American history and identifies the values, attitudes, and beliefs of the voters who choose not to affiliate with Republicans and Democrats and who often determine the outcomes of elections. The text also includes an extensive ideological filmology spanning more than 100 years of American cinema. This study represents a bold investigation of the political and social values of American film and is an essential text in the study of the relationship between culture and politics.

Reel Politics Terry Christensen, 1987-01 Surveys over two hundred American films dealing with politics discusses what they reveal about American values and examines political themes in film History by Hollywood Robert Brent Toplin, 1996 Presenting Hollywood as one of our most influential interpreters of history Toplin offers a close examination of Mississippi Burning, JFK, Sergeant York, Missing, Bonnie and Clyde, Patton, All the President's Men, and Norma Rae. Distributed by Syndetics Solutions LLC Fascism and Millennial American Cinema Leighton Grist, 2018-05-31

This book examines a spate of American films released around the turn of the millennium that differently address the actuality or possibility of domestic fascism within the USA. The films discussed span a diversity of forms, genres, and production practices and encompass low and medium budget studio and independent releases such as American History X, Stir of Echoes, and The Believer, star and/or auteur vehicles such as The Siege, Fight Club, and American Beauty, and high budget high concept science fiction films and franchises such as Starship Troopers, Minority Report, The Matrix, and X Men trilogies. Central to the book is the detailed analysis of the films which is contextualized historically in relation to a period that saw the significant rise of the far Right. The book concordantly affords a wider insight into fascism and its various manifestations and how such have been and continue to be registered within American cinema.

Film Criticism, the Cold War, and the Blacklist Jeff Smith, 2014-03-26 Film Criticism the Cold War and the Blacklist examines the long term reception of several key American films released during the postwar period focusing on the two main critical lenses used in the interpretation of these films: propaganda and allegory. Produced in response to the hearings held by the House Committee on Un American Activities (HUAC) that resulted in the Hollywood blacklist, these films' ideological message and rhetorical effectiveness was often muddled by the inherent difficulties in dramatizing villains defined by their thoughts and belief systems rather than their actions Whereas anti Communist propaganda films offered explicit political exhortation allegory was the preferred vehicle for veiled or hidden political comment in many police procedurals historical films Westerns and science fiction films Jeff Smith examines the way that particular heuristics such as the mental availability of exemplars and the effects of framing have encouraged critics to match filmic elements to contemporaneous historical events persons and policies In charting the development of these particular readings Film Criticism the Cold War and the Blacklist features case studies of many canonical Cold War titles including The Red Menace On the Waterfront The Robe High Noon and Invasion of the Body Snatchers

Friend Or Foe? Michael J. Strada, Harold Martin Troper, Harold R. Troper, 1997 During the nearly sixty years of filmmaking the always uneasy and often fractious Soviet American relationship has been mirrored in Hollywood's portrayal of Russians and the Soviet Union Friend or Foe examines the portrayal of the Soviet Union in American film and shows how these films reflect the attitudes of Americans as well as how each portrayal changed with the often uneasy relations between the two countries The authors show how films as rich repositories of national consciousness can be analyzed to reveal time bound insights into popular fears and obsessions History lovers and film buffs will appreciate the tongue in cheek approach to many of the absurdist films Scholars in history film studies and political science will find the depth and breadth of research useful A filmography bibliography and photographs further complement the study

Blue-Collar Hollywood John Bodnar, John E. Bodnar, 2006-09-26 Selected by Choice Magazine as an Outstanding Academic Title for 2003 From Tom Joad to Norma Rae to Spike Lee's Mookie in Do the Right Thing Hollywood has regularly dramatized the lives and struggles of working people in America Ranging from idealistic to hopeless from sympathetic to condescending these portrayals confronted audiences with the vital economic social and political issues of their times while providing a diversion sometimes entertaining sometimes provocative from the realities of their own lives In Blue Collar Hollywood John Bodnar examines the ways in which popular American films made between the 1930s and the 1980s depicted working class characters comparing these cinematic representations with the aspirations of ordinary Americans and the promises made to them by the country's political elites Based on close and imaginative viewings of dozens of films from every genre among them Public Enemy Black Fury Baby Face The Grapes of Wrath It's a Wonderful Life I Married a Communist A Streetcar Named Desire Peyton Place Taxi Driver Raging Bull Coal Miner's Daughter and Boyz n the Hood this book explores such topics as the role of censorship attitudes toward labor unions and worker militancy racism the place of women in the workforce and society communism and the Hollywood blacklist and faith in liberal democracy Whether made during the Great Depression World War II the Cold War or the Vietnam era the majority of films about ordinary working Americans Bodnar finds avoided endorsing specific political programs radical economic reform or overtly reactionary positions Instead these movies were infused with the same current of liberalism and popular notion of democracy
