Reel Civil War Mythmaking In American Film:

The Reel Civil War Bruce Chadwick, 2002-12-03 During the late nineteenth century magazines newspapers novelists and even historians presented a revised version of the Civil War that intending to reconcile the former foes downplayed the issues of slavery and racial injustice and often promoted and reinforced the worst racial stereotypes The Reel Civil War tells the history of how these misrepresentations of history made their way into movies More than 800 films have been made about the Civil War Citing such classics as Birth of a Nation and Gone With the Wind as well as many other films Bruce Chadwick shows how most of them have until recently projected an image of gallant soldiers beautiful belles sprawling plantations and docile or dangerous slaves He demonstrates how the movies aided and abetted racism and an inaccurate view of American history providing a revealing and important account of the power of cinema to shape our understanding of historical truth Reel Civil War: Mythmaking in American Film Bruce Chadwick, 2002-12 In this landmark study cultural historian Bruce Chadwick traces the ways in which American film including such classics as Birth of a Nation and Gone With the Wind has consistently misrepresented history The Civil War has been depicted on film more than any other event in American history But until recently the war itself was more often portrayed as a misunderstanding between gentlemen than as the great national cataclysm it was Movie after movie has diminished or ignored the impact of slavery and romanticized the cause of the Confederacy Revealing how these distortions became accepted as essentially true by an ill informed public this is a fascinating portrait of the power of film to shape our understanding of history sure to appeal to film and history buffs alike American Cinema and the Southern Imaginary Deborah Barker, Kathryn McKee, 2011-01-01 Placing the New Southern Studies in conversation with film studies this book is simply the best edited collection available on film and the U S South Grace Hale University of Virginia The American Civil War on Film and TV Douglas Brode, Cynthia J. Miller, Shea T. Brode, 2017-10-05 Whether on the big screen or small films featuring the American Civil War are among the most classic and controversial in motion picture history From D W Griffith's Birth of a Nation 1915 to Free State of Jones 2016 the war has provided the setting ideologies and character archetypes for cinematic narratives of morality race gender and nation as well as serving as historical education for a century of Americans In The American Civil War on Film and TV Blue and Gray in Black and White and Color Douglas Brode Shea T Brode and Cynthia J Miller bring together nineteen essays by a diverse array of scholars across the disciplines to explore these issues The essays included here span a wide range of films from the silent era to the present day including Buster Keaton's The General 1926 Red Badge of Courage 1951 Glory 1989 Gettysburg 1993 and Cold Mountain 2003 as well as television mini series The Blue and The Gray 1982 and John Jakes acclaimed North and South trilogy 1985-86 As an accessible volume dedicated to a critical conversation about the Civil War on film The American Civil War on Film and TV will appeal to not only to scholars of film military history American history and cultural history but to fans of war films and period films as well Writing History with Lightning Matthew Christopher Hulbert, John

C. Inscoe, 2019-02-05 Films possess virtually unlimited power for crafting broad interpretations of American history. Nineteenth century America has proven especially conducive to Hollywood imaginations producing indelible images like the plight of Davy Crockett and the defenders of the Alamo, Pickett's doomed charge at Gettysburg, the proliferation and destruction of plantation slavery in the American South, Custer's fateful decision to divide his forces at Little Big Horn, and the onset of immigration and industrialization that saw Old World lifestyles and customs dissolve amid rapidly changing environments. Balancing historical nuance with passion for cinematic narratives, Writing History with Lightning confronts how movies about nineteenth century America influence the ways in which mass audiences remember, understand, and envision the nation's past. In these twenty-six essays, divided by the editors into sections on topics like frontiers, slavery, the Civil War, the Lost Cause, and the West, notable historians engage with films and the historical events they ostensibly depict. Instead of just separating fact from fiction, the essays contemplate the extent to which movies generate and promulgate collective memories of American history. Along with new takes on familiar classics like Young Mr. Lincoln and They Died with Their Boots On, the volume covers several films released in recent years, including The Revenant, 12 Years a Slave, The Birth of a Nation, Free State of Jones, and The Hateful Eight. The authors address Hollywood epics like The Alamo and Amistad, arguing that these movies flatten the historical record to promote nationalist visions. The contributors also examine overlooked films like Hester Street and Daughters of the Dust, considering their portraits of marginalized communities as transformative perspectives on American culture. By surveying films about nineteenth century America, Writing History with Lightning analyzes how movies create popular understandings of American history and why those interpretations change over time.

The Hollywood War Film Robert Eberwein, 2009-10-19 The Hollywood War Film offers readers a lively introduction to the theory, history, stars, and major films constituting this vital genre from Hollywood's earliest days to the current moment. Combines broad historical and theoretical coverage of the genre with in-depth analysis of specific films. Includes chapters on All Quiet on the Western Front, World War II combat films Platoon and Full Metal Jacket, Eastwood's Iwo Jima films, and Iraq war films. An ideal text for perennially popular courses on the war film genre.

Why We Fought Peter C. Rollins, John E. O'Connor, 2008-07-25 A wide-ranging and sophisticated anthology comparing theaters of war to wars in the movie theater. Dennis Showalter, author of Patton and Rommel, Why We Fought makes a powerful case that film can be as valuable a tool as primary documents for improving our understanding of the causes and consequences of war. A comprehensive look at war films from depictions of the American Revolution to portrayals of September 11 and its aftermath, this volume contrasts recognized history and historical fiction with the versions appearing on the big screen. The text considers a selection of the pivotal war films of all time, including All Quiet on the Western Front, Sands of Iwo Jima, Apocalypse Now, Platoon, and Saving Private Ryan, revealing how film depictions of the country's wars have shaped our values, politics, and culture, and offering a unique lens through which to view American history. Named as a Choice Outstanding Academic Title.

Race riots are the most glaring and contemporary displays of the racial strife running through America's history. Mostly urban, mostly outside the South and mostly white instigated, the number and violence of race riots increased as blacks migrated out of the rural South and into the North and West's industrialized cities during the early part of the twentieth century. While most riots have occurred within the past century, the encyclopedia reaches back to colonial history, giving the encyclopedia an unprecedented historical depth. Though white-on-black violence has been the most common form of racial violence, riots involving other racial and ethnic groups such as Asians and Hispanics are also included and examined. Organized A-Z topics include notorious riots like the Tulsa Riots of 1921, the Los Angeles Riots of 1965 and 1992, the African American community's preparedness and responses to this odious form of mass violence, federal responses to rioting, an examination of the underlying causes of rioting, the reactions of prominent figures such as H. Rap Brown and Martin Luther King Jr. to rioting, and much more. Many of the entries describe and analyze particular riots and violent racial incidents, including the following: Belleville, Illinois Riot of 1903; Harlem, New York Riot of 1943; Howard Beach Incident, 1986; Jackson State University Incident, 1970; Los Angeles, California Riot of 1992; Memphis, Tennessee Riot of 1966; Red Summer Race Riots of 1919; Southwest Missouri Riots, 1894-1906; Texas Southern University Riot of 1967. Philip Roosevelt; Eleanor Till; Emmett; Lynching of Turner; Mary; Lynching of Wells; Barnett; Ida B. Many entries also cover legislation that has addressed racial violence and inequality, as well as groups and organizations that have either fought or promoted racial violence, including the following: Anti-Lynching League; Civil Rights Act of 1957; Economic Opportunity Act of 1964; Ku Klux Klan; National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; NAACP; Nation of Islam; Vigilante Organizations; White League. Other entries focus on relevant concepts, trends, themes, and publications. Besides almost 300 cross-referenced entries, most of which conclude with lists of additional readings, the encyclopedia also offers a timeline of racial violence in the United States, an extensive bibliography of print and electronic resources, a selection of important primary documents, numerous illustrations, and a detailed subject index.
