Refiguring The Map Of Sorrow:

Refiguring the Map of Sorrow Mark Christopher Allister, 2001 Allister English St Olaf College examines works by six authors which fuse autobiography literary nonfiction and environmental literature into a distinct form of grief narrative Each of these authors begins in depression that shadows grief each comes to put an end to depression to move through mourning by turning observations and stories of the external world into a narrative that heals The six works featured are Sue Hubbell's A Country Year Terry Tempest Williams Refuge Bill Barich's Laughing in the Hills William Least Heat Moons Blue Highways Peter Matthiessen's The Snow Leopard and Gretel Ehrlich's The Solace of Open Spaces Annotation copyrighted by Book

Waldron, Rob Friedman, 2013-07-29 Scholarship of literature and the environment demonstrates myriad understandings of nature and culture While some work in the field results in approaches that belong in the realm of cultural studies other scholars have expanded the boundaries of ecocriticism to connect the practice more explicitly to disciplines such as the biological sciences human geography or philosophy Even so the field of ecocriticism has yet to clearly articulate its interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary nature In Toward a Literary Ecology Places and Spaces in American Literature editors Karen E Waldron and Robert Friedman have assembled a collection of essays that study the interconnections between literature and the environment to theorize literary ecology The disciplinary perspectives in these essays allow readers to comprehend places and environments and to represent express or strive for that comprehension through literature Contributors to this volume explore the works of several authors including Gary Snyder Karen Tei Yamashita Rachel Carson Terry Tempest Williams Chip Ward and Mary Oliver Other essays discuss such topics as urban fiction as a model of literary ecology the geographies of belonging in the work of Native American poets and the literary ecology of place in new nature writing Investigating texts for the complex interconnections they represent Toward a Literary Ecology suggests what such texts might teach us about the interconnections of our own world This volume also offers a means of analyzing representations of people in places within the realm of an historical cultural and geographically bounded yet diverse American literature Intended for students of literature and ecology this collection will also appeal to scholars of geography cultural studies philosophy biology history anthropology and other related disciplines

Wild Dog Dreaming Deborah Bird Rose, 2011-03-04 Wild Dog Dreaming explores what constitutes an ethical relationship with nonhuman others Deborah Bird Rose asks whether we as humans are capable of loving and caring for the animals and plants that are disappearing in a cascade of extinctions An inspiration for Rose and a touchstone throughout her book is the endangered dingo of Australia

Toni Morrison and the Natural World Anissa Janine Wardi, 2021-06-28 Winner of the Toni Morrison Society Book Prize for Best Single Authored Book 2019 2022 Critics have routinely excluded African American literature from ecocritical inquiry despite the fact that the literary tradition has from its inception proved to be steeped in environmental concerns that address elements of the natural world and relate nature to the transatlantic slave trade plantation labor and nationhood Toni Morrison's work is no exception Toni Morrison and the Natural World An Ecology of Color is the first full length ecocritical investigation of the Nobel Laureate's novels and brings to the fore an unequalled engagement between race and nature Morrison's ecological consciousness holds that human geographies are enmeshed with nonhuman nature It follows then that ecology the branch of biology that studies how people relate to each other and their environment is an apt framework for this book The interrelationships and interactions between individuals and community and between organisms and the biosphere are central to this analysis They highlight that the human and nonhuman are part of a larger ecosystem of interfacing and transformations Toni Morrison and the Natural World is organized by color examining soil brown in The Bluest Eye and Paradise plant life green in Song of Solomon Beloved and Home bodies of water blue in Tar Baby and Love and fire orange in Sula and God Help the Child By providing a racially inflected reading of nature Toni Morrison and the Natural World makes an important contribution to the field of environmental studies and provides a landmark for Morrison scholarship

John James Audubon Richard Rhodes, 2006-04-11 John James Audubon came to America as a dapper eighteen year old eager to make his fortune He had a talent for drawing and an interest in birds and he would spend the next thirty five years traveling to the remotest regions of his new country often alone and on foot to render his avian subjects on paper The works of art he created gave the world its idea of America They gave America its idea of itself Here Richard Rhodes vividly depicts Audubon's life and career his epic wanderings his quest to portray birds in a lifelike way his long anguished separations from his adored wife his ambivalent witness to the vanishing of the wilderness John James Audubon The Making of an American is a magnificent achievement
