Reflective Practice of Multi-Unicultural School Leaders Dr. Roberto F. Casas, Dr. Paul A. Rodríguez, 2012-02-21 We have written this book because of our unique and real concern for improving education for children who are at risk of school failure Whether these students are of different ethnicities or speak different languages the students are not failures but have difficulty maneuvering in a system we call school In order to improve education we have to improve schools and the practices of school leaders This transformation of schools requires change and improvement of individuals in school leadership positions In order to change school leaders and their practices toward improvement we must replicate what is working for kids through reflective practice Osterman and Kottkamp 1993 offered this perspective We believe that reflective practice an approach to educational improvement that is both situational and places the professional in the very center of the attempt to create improvement not only stands in contrast to most other current ideas but has the greatest potential of any approach improving individuals and through them schools and education p vii The book was written because we share professional practices and intellectual interests in reflection and reflective practice We are passionate that reflection has the best hope and significant change in how leaders examine their personal beliefs values and behaviors in such a way that members of the school community realize that it is they who must adapt their practices to meet the needs of students at risk and the diverse communities they serve However before we discuss the importance of reflective practice we need to arrive at a definition of reflective practice Schon 1983 defines reflective practice as the capacity to reflect on action so as to engage in a process of continuous learning Similarly Bolton 2010 stated that reflective practice involves paying critical attention to practical values and theories which inform everyday action by examining practice reflectively and reflexively This leads to developmental insight Another idea by Boud et al 1985 states Reflection is an important human activity in which people recapture their experience think about it mull it over and evaluate it It is this working with experience that is important in learning As for education Larrivee 2000 argues Reflective practice refers to the process of the educator studying his or her own teaching methods and determining what works best for students It involves the consideration of the ethical consequences of classroom procedures on students

Teacher Education in the 21st Century Oon-Seng Tan, Woon-Chia Liu, Ee-Ling Low, 2017-02-09 This book examines the evolution and innovation of teacher education in Singapore in the 21st century It covers teacher education reforms in the conceptualising and implementing of the Teacher Education for the 21st Century TE21 Model and discusses curriculum improvements that are aligned to new competencies values development that re envision teacher professionalism and calling pedagogical changes that emphasise self directed inquiry and technology enabled learning strengthened theory practice linkages and enhanced teaching practices through school partnerships and mentoring and impactful education research in areas such as assessment and developing teaching competencies practices and mentoring Teacher education in Singapore focuses on developing professional leaders in the field of education who are proactive problem solvers and empowered researchers It entails a long term vision of education and an innovative approach to develop teachers with design skills and an inquiring mindset to understand learners in the fast changing digital and mobile world This book is aimed at scholars researchers policymakers teacher educators and teachers as well as anyone interested in learning the philosophy behind Singapore s unique TE21 Model for the 21st century and beyond Jsl Vol 14-N6 JOURNAL OF SCHOOL LEADERSHIP,2005-01-26 The Journal of School Leadership is broadening the conversation about schools and leadership and is currently accepting manuscripts We welcome manuscripts based on cutting edge research from a wide variety of theoretical perspectives and methodological orientations The editorial team is particularly interested in working with international authors authors from traditionally marginalized populations and in work that is relevant to practitioners around the world Growing numbers of educators and professors look to the six bimonthly issues to deal with problems directly related to contemporary school leadership practice teach courses on school leadership and policy use as a quality reference in writing articles about school leadership and improvement
