Barmmaids Diane Kirkby, 1997-11-10 This 1997 book is a mixture of cultural and labour history which traces the role of barmmaids and Australian drinking culture

But Wait, There's More... Robert Crawford, 2008-01-01 Catchy phrases chants at cricket matches and jingles which consumers just can't get out of their heads the best advertising stands out because it is creative clever and most importantly funny Advertising in Australia can be traced back to the early 1900s when spruikers wooed the public with appeals to vanity health and patriotism By the time Australia had endured two World Wars the Depression economic downturns political upheavals and direct confrontations the advertising industry had not only survived but had become a multi billion dollar industry with an enormous influence over people's everyday lives and their spending habits But Wait There's More is the first detailed history of the Australian advertising industry exploring its development over the course of the twentieth century from a disorganised group of individuals selling newspaper space to a multi billion dollar enterprise run by giant transnationals It follows the admen and adwomen who worked to convert their audiences into consumers and examines their ongoing quest for legitimacy in the face of new technologies and an increasingly sophisticated and media savvy audience

Commercial Nationalism and Tourism Leanne White, 2017-01-19 This book combines academic analysis and critical exploration to examine national narratives in the context of tourism and events around the world It explores how particular narratives are woven to tell and sell a national story By deconstructing images of the nation it closely examines how national texts create key archival imagery that can promote tourism and events while also shaping national identity It investigates the complex relationship between state appropriation of marketing strategies and the commercial use of nationalist discourses The book aims to demystify the ways in which the nation is imagined by key organisers and organisations and then communicated to millions

Poster Art in Australia Roger Butler, National Gallery of Australia, 1993 Commemorating the first exhibition of poster art in Australia this publication surveys the National Gallery's collection of over 5000 works spanning more than 100 years Posters range from a mid 1850s ST Gill theatrical bill continue through Norman Lindsay's World War I recruiting posters and on to Douglas Annand's work and James Northfield's and Percy Trompf's tourism posters of the 1930s The survey closes with the psychedelia of Martin Sharp's posters from the 1960s and early 70s work by Mambo Graphics and Sally Morgan and the Gallery's particularly strong holdings of work by alternative artist groups such as Another Planet Chameleon Earthworks and Redback
