Caught on Screen traverses this history of convict representation for the first time Through detailed archival research into their production and reception the book explores engaging case studies produced in Australia and internationally including the work of Douglas Sirk Alfred Hitchcock and Jennifer Kent It illuminates the fact that the convict as historical symbol is one that intersected with and helped to direct major debates about nationalism the legacies of colonisation Aboriginal dispossession and the origins and character of Australian society A Community Enterprise Malcolm Tull,2017-10-18 This volume concerns the history of the Australian port of Fremantle located on the edge of Western Australia and the Indian Ocean throughout the hundred years of frequent changes to its structure and function between 1897 and 1997 Tull s aim is to use Fremantle as a prime example of the complex network of a Port as a community and a place of vast and varied maritime business endeavours He seeks to erase the perception of ports as passive links in the international transport chain in order to draw ports to the attention and further research of maritime historians The chapters are arranged thematically rather than chronologically and includes statistical appendices a bibliography and an index for ease of navigation

Disabled Children Anne Borsay,2015-10-06 This volume of essays attempts to identify the shared experiences of disabled children and examine the key debates about their care and control The essays follow a chronological progression while focusing on the practices in a number of different countries
