Transforming Ethnohistories Sebastian Felix Braun, 2013-08-26 Anthropologists need history to understand how the past has shaped the present Historians need anthropology to help them interpret the past Where anthropologists and historians needs intersect is ethnohistory The contributors to this volume have been inspired in large part by the teaching and writing of distinguished ethnohistorian Raymond J DeMallie whose exemplary combination of ethnographic and archival research demonstrates the ways anthropology and history can work together to create an understanding of the past and the present Transforming Ethnohistories comprises ten new avenues of ethnohistorical research ranging in topic from fiddling performances to environmental disturbance and spanning places from North Carolina to the Yukon The authors seek to understand communities by finding and interpreting their stories in a variety of different texts some of which lie outside academic understanding and research methodology It is exactly those stories conventionally labeled myths or oral tradition that ethnohistorians demand we pay attention to Although historians cannot see or talk to their informants as anthropologists do both anthropologists and historians can listen to oral histories and written documents for the essential stories they contain The essays assembled here use DeMallie s approach to contribute to the history and anthropology of Native North America and address issues of literary criticism and contexts sociolinguistics performance theory identity and historical change historical and anthropological methods and theory and the interpretation of histories cultures and stories Debates over the legitimacy of ethnohistory as a specialization have led some scholars to declare its decline This volume shows ethnohistory to be alive and well and continuing to attract young scholars Custer's Conqueror William J. Bordeaux, 2010 William J Bordeaux Buffalo Killer Pteka as he was called was a bona fide member of the Brule band of the Sioux tribe His grandfather James Bordeaux was one of the early French fur traders who bravely carried on his trade and barter with the Sioux when the virgin prairies of the west were still an open frontier A lineal descendent of Red Cormorant Woman Hntk lutawin his grandmother he was well versed in his mother tongue Being proficient in several dialects of the native language he was able to converse with sage and grizzled old warriors and thus obtain information impossible for a white man to learn

His close union with his own tribe and daily conversations with them is an assurance that no doubtful or transcribed evidence will appear on these pages In Bordeaux s search for material for a history of his people he spent considerable time traveled and talked to the oldest Indians on the different Sioux Indian Reservations Through his research he stored up and accumulated a wealth of stories and legends with awe inspiring fables and facts which would be valuable to story writers These fragmentary myths and authentic facts connected with his people would have been lost without these writings In his travels for the purpose of obtaining datum relative to the hostile activities by the different war chiefs he found one warrior that stood out alone excelling all other Sioux war braves as to courage and cunning Crazy Horse an Ogl la Sioux Indians at Work ,1940 Great Mysteries of the West Ferenc Morton Szasz,1993 In this collection of essays 14 scholars review popular legends of the North American West putting them in proper cultural and historical context Provides a unique mix of cultural traditions including Anglo American Hispanic and Native American Photos and illustrations The Cumulative Book Index ,1983 A world list of books in the English language Indians at Work United States.
