

The party exerts dominance over the private sector – accepting significant economic costs

The waves of regulatory action against major Chinese companies have obliterated more than USD one trillion in stock value. One of the most prominent examples was the regulators' willingness to derail a major IPO with an investigation into cross-border data security at China's ride-hailing giant Didi, just days after its USD 4.4 billion New York listing in mid-2021. New rules on data transfer followed.³⁴

Concerns over what can be peeked into from abroad have been an underlying concern in a series of cases. Chinese companies, including state-owned enterprises, are under pressure to delist from US stock exchanges over data provision and auditing requirements, although negotiations are under way. A security review of information shared by China's biggest scientific publication platform, CNKI, in mid-2022 is another case in point.³⁵

Security Of China A Chinese Approach To Problems Of War And Strategy:

The security of China : Chinese approaches to problems of war and strategy Arthur Huck,1970 The security of China Arthur Huck,1970 National Security Seminar, Background Readings Joint Chiefs of Staff,1972 China's Foreign Aid and Investment Diplomacy, Volume I John F. Copper,2016-04-29 Today by many accounts China is the world s foremost purveyor of foreign aid and foreign investment to developing countries This is the product of China s miracle economic growth over a period of more than three decades together with China s drive to become a major player in world affairs and accomplish this through economic rather than military means This three volume work is the first comprehensive study of China s aid and investment strategy to trace how it has evolved since Beijing launched its foreign aid diplomacy at the time of the founding of the People s Republic of China in 1949 Volume I examines the definitions origins nature and scope of foreign aid and investment by other countries Using that background John F Copper then traces China s financial assistance to developing countries from the Mao period when China gave meaningful foreign aid despite its own economic struggles through the beginning of China s post 1978 economic boom and during subsequent decades of rapid economic growth Copper shows that China has a more salient history in giving foreign assistance than any other country in the world while China s objectives in giving foreign assistance have changed markedly over time China has always been driven by efforts to realize its foreign policy objectives and expand China s external influence National Security Seminar Industrial College of the Armed Forces (U.S.),1971 National Security Seminar; Background Readings Industrial College of the Armed Forces (U.S.),1971 National security seminar: background readings U.S. Industrial College of the Armed Forces,1972

Quarterly Review of Military Literature ,1973 China and the Major Powers in East Asia A. Doak Barnett,2001-09-19 The foreign policy of the People s Republic of China has been dominated in recent decades by the problems of dealing with the other major powers in East Asia Although many ideological political and economic aims have shaped particular Chinese policies Peking s dominant concern has been national security Since the late 1960s its leaders have viewed the Soviet Union as the primary threat to China and have pursued a distinctive Maoist balance of power strategy against it China s post Mao leaders continue to give priority to strategic considerations and the problems of relations with the other major powers It cannot be assumed however that they will simply continue past policies The recent changes both within China and in the broad pattern of international relations in East Asia have created a new situation In this study A Doak Barnett analyzes in detail China s bilateral relations with the Soviet Union Japan and the United States He also examines the changing nature of the four power relationship in East Asia On this basis he discusses possible future trends in Chinese policy and the prospects for achieving a more stable regional equilibrium China, a Country Study Frederica M.
