Seeking Goodness And Beauty The Use Of The Arts In Theological Ethics:

Seeking Goodness and Beauty Patricia A. Lamoureux, 2005 Seeking Goodness and Beauty The Use of the Arts in Theological Ethics offers the reader a unique and innovative perspective on questions of ethics and how we can incorporate the human experience of the Arts to best live and teach the moral life Art and aesthetic experiences transcend borders and engage us rationally emotionally and sensually Novels film autobiography and music can all contribute to the moral formation of good character and virtue as well as to the skill of discerning right action by developing imagination shaping moral vision tutoring the emotions or guiding the process of moral discernment Seeking Goodness and Beauty brings together theory and practice in an approachable engaging manner and offers methods of pedagogy to encourage the use of the arts in moral education

Art and Moral Change Ki Joo Choi, 2024-09-02 A first of its kind critical overview of how art leads to moral action in the field of theological ethics One question that remains insufficiently addressed in theological ethics is the question of how art leads to moral action While many modernist theories consider art to be a morally irrelevant activity others think that the arts and the emotions they elicit are integral to moral formation and justice Challenging both kinds of theories Art and Moral Change proposes that art is essential because it is an inevitable source of moral disagreement Drawing on the work of Jonathan Edwards and many others in theology philosophy and literary studies Art and Moral Change argues that the arts are the cultural mediums through which we can better understand what is morally possible in the midst of difference The arts in other words can serve as snapshots of a particular community's perspectives on the good life offering glimpses not only of competing moral visions within society but also of the extent to which these contested moral views are reconcilable Thus the arts reveal the limits of moral reasoning confirm the contextuality of moral discernment and necessitate moral thinking that is dialogical and dialectical Art and Moral Change provides a first of its kind critical overview of how the field of theological ethics approaches and should utilize aesthetics The core premise that paying attention to art encourages us to appreciate the ethical importance of disagreement difference and conflict will foster greater understanding of aesthetics and ethics for students and scholars of theological social and virtue ethics

If These Walls Could Talk Maureen H. O'Connell, 2012-06-01 Philadelphia's community muralism movement is transforming the City of Brotherly Love into the Mural Capital of the World This remarkable groundswell of public art includes some 3 500 wall sized canvases On warehouses and on schools on mosques and in jails in courthouses and along overpasses In If These Walls Could Talk Maureen O'Connell explores the theological and social significance of the movement She calls attention to some of the most startling and powerful works it has produced and describes the narratives behind them In doing so O'Connell illustrates the ways that the arts can help us think about and work through the seemingly inescapable problems of urban poverty and arrive at responses that are both creative and effective This is a book on American religion It incorporates ethnography to explore faith communities that have used larger than life religious imagery to proclaim in unprecedented public ways their self understandings memories of the past and visions of the future It also examines the way this art functions in larger public discourse about problems facing every city in America But If These Walls Could Talk is also theological text It considers the theological implications of this most democratic expression of public art mindful of the three components of every mural the pieces themselves those who create them and those who interpret them It illuminates a kind of beauty that seeks after social change or in other words the largely unexplored relationship between theological aesthetics and ethics The Way of Goodness and Holiness Richard M . Gula,2011-01-01 How do ministers whether lay or ordained form their spiritual life What practices do they need to foster in order to become good and to be holy in their service To answer these questions Richard Gula invites readers to think along with him about the kind of minister they want to be If we don t know where we want to go he writes we will easily end up somewhere else Gula then presents a variety of virtues Including gratitude self care humor and courage and explains how developing these qualities is essential for a minister s moral and spiritual life By grounding a spirituality for pastoral ministry in the virtues Gula provides a way for ministers to bridge the gap between who they are and who they hope to become in imitation of Christ Jesus Women, Conscience, and the Creative Process Anne E. Patrick,2014-05-14 Offers a deeply personal interpretation of conscience drawing on Scripture ethics psychology and stories of women s lives to demonstrate the importance of the virtue of creative responsibility Living Theodrama Wesley Vander Lugt,2016-05-13 Living Theodrama is a fresh creative introduction to theological ethics Offering an imaginative approach through dialogue with theatrical theory and practice Vander Lugt demonstrates a new way to integrate actor oriented and action oriented approaches to Christian ethics within a comprehensive theodramatic model This model affirms that life is a drama performed in the company of God and others providing rich metaphors for relating theology to everyday formation and performance in this drama Different chapters explore the role of the triune God Scripture tradition the church mission and context in the process of formation and performance thus dealing separately with major themes in theological ethics while incorporating them within an overarching model This book contains not only a fruitful exchange between theological ethics and theatre but it also presents a promising method for interdisciplinary dialogue between theology and the arts that will be valuable for students and practitioners across many different fields In the Beauty of Holiness David Lyle Jeffrey,2017 Art and worship to 1500 Beauty and holiness as terms of art The paradoxical beauty of the cross Beauty and proportion in the sanctuary The beauty of light The beauty of holiness alfresco Beauty on the altar Art and the Bible after 1500 Beauty power and doctrine Beauty and the eye of the beholder Romantic religion and the sublime Art after belief Art against belief Return of the transcendentals Engaging Technology in Theological Education Mary E. Hess,2005-04-28 We live in a media culture surrounded by ever evolving digital technologies While state schools and secular organizations have embraced the new teaching tools and models for learning that technology affords religious institutions have struggled with how and why to do the same All that we can t leave behind Engaging technology in theological education is a breakthrough book that invites religious educators to both engage and adapt their pedagogy to incorporate new media and technology Drawing from her expertise as a seminary professor and consultant to religious institutions on the use of technology in teaching Mary Hess invites professors pastors seminarians and anyone interested in religious education into critical reflection on ways of engaging technology to enhance learning and serve as critical interpreters within communities of faith

Being Human David G. Kirchhoffer, Robyn Horner, Patrick McArdle, 2013-08-09 What does it mean to be human The traditional answers from the past remain only theoretical possibilities unless they come to mean something to today's generation Moreover in light of new knowledge and circumstances a new generation may call these old answers into question and seek to reinterpret or indeed provide alternatives to them In the 1960s the Catholic Church's Second Vatican Council attempted such a reinterpretation an aggiornamento for the post war generation of the mid twentieth century by proposing in Gaudium et Spes a theological anthropology founded upon the ideas of human dignity and the common good Fifty years later is an appropriate time to revisit those answers and

Markers of Psychosocial Maturation Mufid James Hannush, 2021-07-15 This book advances an integrative approach to understanding the phenomenon of psychosocial maturation Through a rigorous dialectically informed interpretation of psychoanalytic and humanistic existential phenomenological sources Mufid James Hannush distills thirty essential markers of maturity The dialectical approach is described as a process whereby lived affect and value laden polar meanings are transformed through deep insight into complementary and integrative meta meanings The author demonstrates how responding to the call of maturation can be viewed as a life project that serves the ultimate purpose of living a balanced life The book will appeal to students and scholars of human development psychotherapy social work philosophy and existential humanistic and phenomenological psychology

Through a Catholic Lens Peter Malone, 2007-04-16 Movies are often examined for subtext and dramatizations of social and psychological issues as well as current movements Studies of well known Catholic directors such as Alfred Hitchcock and John Ford have made the search for Catholic themes a reputable field of examination Through a Catholic Lens continues the search for these themes and examines the Catholic undercurrents by studying nineteen film directors from around the world Although these directors may or may not be practicing Catholics their Catholic background can be found in their writing and directing Each chapter written by a different contributor analyzes one film of each director for its Catholic motifs With the recent increase of cinema studies this collection will be of interest to students and academics as well as cinema buffs

Communication, Media, and Identity Robert S. Fortner, 2007 Communication Media and Identity A Christian Theory of Communication is the first comprehensive theoretical look at the nature of communication from a biblical Christian perspective This groundbreaking new work discusses the implications of such a theory for interpersonal relations use of media and the development of digital culture in the wake of the computer It also draws widely from the literature of the secular world critiquing perspectives where necessary and adopting perspectives that are in line with Christian anthropology epistemology and ontology Through this unique lens the reader is able to understand communication as an art as a tool for evangelism and as a unique human activity that allows people to have a stake in the creation It covers both mediated and non mediated forms of communication is sensitive to theological differences within the Christian faith and examines closely the problem of technology and especially digital technology for the practice of communication As the newest book in the Communication Culture and Religion Series Robert Fortner s work illuminates the theological aspects of communication

Anthropos ,2006 Architecture, Theology, and Ethics Elise M. Edwards,2024-03-18 Architecture Theology and Ethics Making Architectural Design More Just argues that architecture design and creativity are theological ethical concerns that ought to be considered more deeply by Christians who are committed to social and environmental justice Elise M Edwards discusses the significance of architectural design entering into ongoing conversations in theological ethics and aesthetics She argues that architectural design is not just a professional practice for wealthy clients but rather an activity that everyday people undertake when making choices that shape the spaces they inhabit If Christians think theologically about their agency in these decisions they will discover that architectural design becomes an opportunity to contribute to the flourishing for humanity and God s creation Edwards proposes an approach to architectural design that presents it as prophetic action with the power to shape our world This book then presents five moral commitments that guide design intentions and the process of design towards justice and inclusion Grounded in liberationist feminist and womanist thought Architecture Theology and Ethics makes a compelling case for architecture s relevance to Christian ethics and theology
