populations and the proportion of under fives is correspondingly large Yet studies of children s media and child audiences in the region are as scarce as truly popular locally produced media content aimed at children At the very time when conflict and uncertainty in key Arab countries have made local development and diversification of children s media more remote it has become more urgent to gain a better understanding of how the next generation s identities and worldviews are formed This interdisciplinary book is the first in English to probe both the state of Arab screen media for children and the practices of Arabic speaking children in producing as well as consuming screen content It responds to the gap in research by bringing together a holistic investigation of institutions and leading players children s media experiences and some iconic media texts With children s media increasingly linked to merchandising which favours US based global players and globalizing forces this volume provides a timely insight into tensions between differing concepts of childhood and desirable media messages
