single Ardbeg Islay malt scotch whisky

This ultra-old malt whisky is the supreme expression of nature, its taste being slowly matured in oak casks for nearly five years. As it is now distilled to its maximum flavour, the finish of the taste is the same as that of scotch whisky from these "ancient isles" as they are called to the 15th century. The colour, some would say, is the result of the lowland peat water that is used in the distillation process. The colour is the same as that of the two great houses of Macdonald and Macdonald, the former, however, was founded on Islay in 1847 by John Macdonald.
