Milton's Late Poems Lee Morrissey, 2022-08-25 Upending conventional scholarship on Milton and modernity Lee Morrissey recasts Paradise Lost Paradise Regained and Samson Agonistes as narrating three alternative responses to a world in upheaval adjustment avoidance and antagonism Through incisive engagement with narrative form and genre Morrissey shows how each work considered specifically as a fiction grapples with the vicissitudes of a modern world characterised more by paradoxes ambiguities subversions and shifting temporalities than by any rigid historical periodization The interpretations made possible by this book are as invaluable as they are counterintuitive opening new definitions and stimulating avenues of research for Milton students and specialists as well as for those working in the broader field of early modern studies Morrissey invites us to rethink where Milton stands in relation to the greatest products of modernity and in particular to that most modern of genres the novel Post-Structuralism and the Question of History Derek Attridge, Geoff Bennington, Robert Young, 1987 Recent developments in literary theory such as structuralism and deconstruction have come under attack for neglecting history while historically based approaches have been criticized for failing to take account of the problems inherent in their methodological foundations This collection of essays is unique in that it focuses on the relation between post structuralism and historical especially Marxist literary theory and criticism The volume includes a deconstructive reading of Marx essays that relate history to the philosophical and institutional context and a number of studies of particular texts literary and non literary which pose the question of history and literary theory with particular force
