Persian Letters Charles de Secondat baron de Montesquieu,1901 Oriental Tales: The Persian letters, with introduction and notes, done into English from the original by Montesquieu ,1901 Abu Ghraib Michael Cannon,Michael Cannon, Jr.,2005 The Making of Evangelical Spirituality Jason Cherry,2023-01-05 How did it come to be that evangelicals expect individualized extrabiblical revelation from God What has happened culturally historically and theologically to make this the ubiquitous assumption of evangelical spirituality The Making of Evangelical Spirituality is a compound of history and theology applied to the subject of evangelical spirituality specifically the phenomenon of evangelicals thinking God spoke to me in a still quiet voice The story is complex multifaceted and urgently in need of telling Few Christians know the history of the spiritual expectations heaped upon them Few know the individuals who gave shape to evangelical spirituality spiritual chieftains who were often guided by uniquely ephemeral social and cultural forces There is no towering figure like Martin Luther that stands as the lone front man for the esoterica of evangelical spirituality Instead it s the osmosis of many fascinating people struggling through life in the storm of worldly and cultural momentum This book is the story of those hermits monks reformers heretics politicians outcasts and preachers who gave shape Failure to tell the story now risks it becoming just another part of historical compost threatening to make evangelicals forever ignorant of what they are tossing into the garden of their soul Christians among the Virtues Stanley Hauerwas,Charles Pinches,2022-12-06 Christians among the Virtues investigates the distinctiveness of virtues as illuminated by Christian practice using a discussion of Aristotle s ethics together with the work of significant contemporary scholars such as Alasdair MacIntyre and Martha Nussbaum Hauerwas and Pinches converse with learn from and also critically engage powerful and explicitly non Christian accounts of virtues and then form a specifically Christian account of certain key virtues including obedience hope courage and patience This book will deepen the current public debate about virtue by showing how different traditions and practices yield distinctive understandings of the virtues and by articulating the particularity of virtues informed by Christian practice

Hauerwas and Pinches begin with a discussion of Aristotle's account of happiness, virtue, and friendship and explore how the temporal character of life threatens the possibility of being virtuous. The authors then contrast this idea with the Christian recognition of our temporal limitations as a call to virtue rather than a threat. In the second section, the authors address a work by John Casey which attempts to present an account of the virtues purged of their Christian heritage. This analysis, as well as the critical readings of MacIntyre and Nussbaum, will be of particular interest to philosophers and theologians alike. The authors bring a theological voice to the popular and philosophical debates about virtue. While the work encourages Christians to think about what is unique to Christian virtue, its specificity does not limit its applicability but opens up and deepens the debate over the particular interpretations of virtues, calling on others to present more specific articulations of what it means to be courageous, obedient, hopeful, and patient, and to contrast those accounts with the Christian interpretations presented by the authors. In this respect, Among the Virtues is the first work in what could be called the second stage of the recovery of the virtues: the work of understanding the difference among interpretations of the virtues in the light of different practices and traditions.
