Lost Continent Travels In Small Town America:

The Lost Continent Bill Bryson, 2012-09-25 I come from Des Moines Somebody had to And as soon as Bill Bryson was old enough he left Des Moines couldn't hold him but it did lure him back After ten years in England he returned to the land of his youth and drove almost 14 000 miles in search of a mythical small town called Amalgam the kind of smiling village where the movies from his youth were set Instead he drove through a series of horrific burgs which he renamed Smellville Fartville Coleslaw Coma and Doldrum At best his search led him to Anywhere USA a lookalike strip of gas stations motels and hamburger outlets populated by obese and slow witted hicks with a partiality for synthetic fibres He discovered a continent that was doubly lost lost to itself because he found it blighted by greed pollution mobile homes and television lost to him because he had become a foreigner in his own country

The Lost Continent Bill Bryson, 1992 The Lost Continent Bill Bryson, 1990 Bill Bryson drove 14 000 miles in search of the mythical small town of his youth Instead he found a lookalike strip of gas stations motels and hamburger joints a continent lost to itself through greed pollution and television and lost to him because he had become a foreigner in his own country A funny and serious view of smalltown America

The Lost Continent Bill Bryson, 1990 The Lost Continent Bill Bryson, 1993 Small-Town America Robert Wuthnow, 2015-05-26 A revealing examination of small town life More than thirty million Americans live in small out of the way places Many of them could have joined the vast majority of Americans who live in cities and suburbs They could live closer to more lucrative careers and convenient shopping a wider range of educational opportunities and more robust health care But they have opted to live differently In Small Town America we meet factory workers shop owners retirees teachers clergy and mayors residents who show neighborliness in small ways but who also worry about everything from school closings and their children's futures to the ups and downs of the local economy Drawing on more than seven hundred in depth interviews in hundreds of towns across America and three decades of census data Robert Wuthnow shows the fragility of community in small towns He covers a host of topics including the symbols and rituals of small town life the roles of formal and informal leaders the social role of religious congregations the perception of moral and economic decline and the myriad ways residents in small towns make sense of their own lives Wuthnow also tackles difficult issues such as class and race abortion homosexuality and substance abuse Small Town America paints a rich panorama of individuals who reside in small communities finding that for many people living in a small town is an important part of self identity

The Lost Continent Bill Bryson, 2015-06-02 The kind of book Steinbeck might have written if he'd traveled with David Letterman New York magazine An inspiring and hilarious account of one man's rediscovery of America and his search for the perfect small town Following an urge to rediscover his youth Bill Bryson left his native Des Moines Iowa in a journey that would take him across 38 states Lucky for us he brought a notebook With a razor wit and a kind heart Bryson serves up a colorful tale of boredom kitsch and beauty when you least expect it From Times Square to the Mississippi River to Williamsburg Virginia Bryson's keen and hilarious search for the perfect American small town is a journey straight into the heart and soul of America

Gender, Genre, and Identity in Women's Travel Writing Kristi Siegel, 2004 Women experience and portray travel differently Gender matters irreducibly and complexly Building on recent scholarship in women's travel writing these provocative essays not only affirm the impact of gender but also cast women's journeys against coordinates such as race class culture religion economics politics and history The book's scope is unique Women travelers extend in time from Victorian memsahibs to contemporary road girls and topics range from Anna Leonowens's slanted portrayal of Siam later popularized in the movie The King and I to current feminist descriptions of the male road buddy genre The extensive array of writers examined includes Nancy Prince Frances Trollope Cameron Tuttle Lady Mary Montagu Catherine Oddie Kate Karko Frances Caldern de la Barca Rosamond Lawrence Zilpha Elaw Alexandra David N el Amelia Edwards Erica Lopez Paule Marshall Bharati Mukherjee and Marilynne Robinson

Futures Worth Preserving Andressa Schröder, Nico Völker, Robert A. Winkler, Tom Clucas, 2019-01-23 Cultures as well as individuals continually balance the demands of nostalgia and sustainability as they construct historical narratives of futures worth preserving The aim of this volume is to explore those narratives and the underlying assumptions which inform them Drawing on a range of disciplines from the humanities and social sciences the chapters investigate cultural assumptions about which aspects of the past deserve to be remembered and which aspects of the present should be sustained for the future In the process they reveal how contemporary definitions of sustainability are informed by a nostalgic yearning for the past and how nostalgia is motivated by a reciprocal longing to sustain the past for the future

Understanding American Icons Arthur Asa Berger, 2016-06-16 This brief student friendly introduction to the study of semiotics uses examples from 25 iconic locations in the United States From Coney Island to Las Vegas the World Trade Center to the Grand Canyon Berger shows how semiotics offers a different lens in understanding locations taken for granted in American culture He recasts Disneyland according to Freud channels the Mall of America through Baudrillard and sees Mount Rushmore through the lens of Gramsci A seasoned author of student texts Berger offers an entertaining non threatening way to teach theory to undergraduates and that will fit ideally in classes on cultural studies American studies social theory and tourism

Winnebago Nation James B. Twitchell, 2014-04-08 In Winnebago Nation popular critic James B. Twitchell takes a light hearted look at the culture and industry behind the yearning to spend the night in one's car For the young the roadtrip is a coming of age ceremony for those later in life it is the realization of a lifelong desire to be spontaneous nomadic and free Informed by his own experiences on the road Twitchell recounts the RV's origins and evolution over the twentieth century its rise fall and rebirth as a cultural icon its growing mechanical complexity as it evolved from an estate wagon to a converted bus to a mobile home and its role in bolstering and challenging conceptions of American identity Mechanical yet dreamy independent yet needful solitary yet clubby adventurous yet homebound life in a mobile home is a distillation of the American character and an important embodiment of American exceptionalism Richie Rich and Hobo

Hank spend time in essentially the same rig at the same campground albeit for different reasons and in different levels of comfort The frontier may be tapped out but we still yearn for the exploratory life Twitchell concludes with his thoughts on the future of RV communities and the possibility of mobile cities becoming a real part of the American landscape
