Refugees Nathan Bell, 2021-03-18 There have never been more refugees across the world from Myanmar to Syria than at this moment Many more millions of refugees are likely to be displaced by the effects of climate change Why has politics failed to produce adequate responses to these challenges and not heeded the lessons of refugee crises of the past Are human rights and international law or more radically the case for open borders sufficient to address them Nathan Bell argues for nothing less than a new concept of the political that societies liberal or not in the mode of the sovereign state or some other form embrace an ethos of responsibility for others where the right to seek asylum becomes foundational for politics itself Such a proposal is at the antipodes of Schmitt's friend-enemy distinction such that hospitality and not hostility forms the basis of political decision making This book comprises two halves the first establishes the theoretical basis of the ethos of responsibility with particular reference to the writings of Hannah Arendt Emmanuel Levinas and Jacques Derrida while the second half examines these theorists in the context of historical and contemporary case studies Finally the book calls for a politics of hauntology in memory of the missing those who might have been rescued and those yet to come who are already among the disappeared In this urgent work Bell demonstrates that a radical reconfiguration of the understanding of politics is required in order to safeguard the future and human dignity of stateless persons

The Films of the Eighties William J. Palmer, 1995 In this remarkable sequel to his Films of the Seventies A Social History William J. Palmer examines more than three hundred films as texts that represent, revise, parody, comment upon and generate discussion about major events, issues and social trends of the eighties Palmer defines the dialectic between film art and social history taking as his theoretical model the holograph of history that originated from the New Historicist theories of Hayden White and Dominick LaCapra Combining the interests and methodologies of social history and film criticism Palmer contends that film is a socially conscious interpreter and commentator upon the issues of contemporary social history In the eighties such issues included the war in Vietnam, the preservation of the American farm, terrorism, nuclear holocaust, changes in Soviet-American relations, neoconservative feminism and yuppies Among the films Palmer examines are Platoon, The Killing Fields, The River Out of Africa, Little Drummer Girl, Kiss of the Spiderwoman, Silkwood, The Day After, Red Dawn, Moscow on the Hudson, Troop Beverly Hills and Fatal Attraction Utilizing the principles of New Historicism Palmer demonstrates that film can analyze and critique history as well as present it
