The Body in the Anglosphere, 1880-1920 Robert W. Thurston, 2021-12-30 Focusing on the body in every chapter this book examines the changing meanings and profound significance of the physical form among the Anglo Saxons from 1880 to 1920 They formed an imaginary but in many ways quite real community that ruled much of the world Among them racism became more virulent To probe the importance of the body this book brings together for the first time the many areas in which the physical form was newly or more extensively featured from photography through literature frontier wars violent sports and the global circus Sex sexuality concepts of gender including women s possibilities in all areas of life and the meanings of race and of civilization figured regularly in Anglo discussions Black people challenged racism by presenting their own photos of respectable folk As all this unfolded Anglo men and women faced the problem of maintaining civilized control vs the need to express uninhibited feeling With these issues in mind it is evident that the origins of today s debates about race and gender lie in the late nineteenth century      Jockomo Shane Lief, John McCusker, 2019-10-25 Jockomo The Native Roots of Mardi Gras Indians celebrates the transcendent experience of Mardi Gras encompassing both ancient and current traditions of New Orleans The Mardi Gras Indians are a renowned and beloved fixture of New Orleans public culture Yet very little is known about the indigenous roots of their cultural practices For the first time this book explores the Native American ceremonial traditions that influenced the development of the Mardi Gras Indian cultural system Jockomo reveals the complex story of exchanges that have taken place over the past three centuries generating new ways of singing and speaking with many languages mixing as people s lives overlapped Contemporary photographs by John McCusker and archival images combine to offer a complementary narrative to the text From the depictions of eighteenth century Native American musical processions to the first known photo of Mardi Gras Indians Jockomo is a visual feast displaying the evolution of cultural traditions throughout the history of New Orleans By the beginning of the twentieth century Mardi Gras Indians had become a recognized local tradition Over the course of the next one hundred years their unique practices would move from the periphery to the very center of public consciousness as a quintessentially New Orleanian form of music and performance even while retaining some of the most ancient features of Native American culture and language Jockomo offers a new way of seeing and hearing the blended legacies of New Orleans      Cora Witherspoon Axel Nissen, 2022-04-19 Born into an upper crust family in New Orleans Cora Bell Witherspoon 1890 1957 was an orphan by the age of 10 and a professional actress by 15 She was seen on Broadway from 1910 till 1946 in 36 productions and was a popular character actress in Hollywood between 1931 and 1954 On stage she played roles like Sallie McBride in Daddy Long Legs Josephine Trent in The Awful Truth Martha Culver in The Constant Wife Prudence in Camille and Mrs Grant in The Front Page Like many Hollywood supporting players her screen time was limited She made the most of it whether as W C Fields s shrewish wife in The Bank Dick Bette Davis s fair weather friend Carrie in Dark Victory the earthy amorous maid Patty in Quality Street or the overbearing dowager Mrs Williamson in The Mating Season On both stage and screen Witherspoon portrayed a range of stereotypes of older women In the end though she created her own type incarnating the fashionable frivolous flighty and fawning society woman often with a thinly veiled libidinous quality In addition to a detailed account of Witherspoon s theater and film career this groundbreaking biography reveals her upbringing and family background and discusses her struggle with substance abuse which resulted in two highly publicized arrests and one conviction Public Documents ,1999

Anthony,2023-03-07 This book illuminates the fascinating story and visual legacy of Florestine Perrault Collins who documented African American life in New Orleans between 1920 and 1949 Constructing Image, Identity, and Place Alison K. Hoagland,Kenneth A. Breisch,2003 Although vernacular architecture scholarship has expanded beyond its core fascination with common buildings and places its attention remains fixed on the social function of building. Consistent with this expansion of interests, Constructing Image Identity and Place includes essays on a wide variety of American building types and landscapes drawn from a broad geographic and chronological spectrum. Subjects range from examinations of the houses, hotels, and churches of America's colonial and Republican elite to analyses of the humble cottages of Southern sharecroppers and mill workers, Mississippi juke joints, and the ephemeral rustic arbors and bowers erected by Civil War soldiers. Other contributors examine or reexamine the form of early synagogues in Georgia, colonial construction technologies in the Chesapeake, the appropriation and use of storefront windows by San Francisco suffragists, and the evolution of the modern factory tour. Other decidedly twentieth-century topics include the impact of the automobile on American building forms and landscapes, including parkways, drive-in movie theaters, and shopping malls. Drawn from the Vernacular Architecture Forum conferences of 1998 and 1999, these seventeen essays represent the broad range of topics and methodologies current in the field today. The volume will introduce newcomers to the breadth and depth of vernacular architecture while also bringing established scholars up to date on the field's continued growth and maturation.

The Editors: Alison K. Hoagland is associate professor of history and historic preservation at Michigan Technological University; Kenneth A. Breisch is director of Programs in Historic Preservation at the University of Southern California. He is author of Henry Hobson Richardson and the Small Public Library in America. The Contributors: Shannon Bell, Robert W. Blythe, Timothy Davis, Stephanie Dyer, Willie Graham, Kathleen LaFrank, William Littmann, Carl Lounsbury, Al Luckenbach, Sherri M. Marsh, Maurie McInnis, Steven H. Moffson, Jason D. Moser, Jennifer Nardone, Martin C. Perdue, Mark Reinberger, Andrew K. Sandoval, Strausz, Jessica Sewell, Donna Ware, and Camille Wells.

The Southern Middle Class in the Long Nineteenth Century Jonathan Daniel Wells, Jennifer R. Green, 2011-12-12 Jonathan Daniel Wells and Jennifer R. Green provide a series of provocative essays reflecting innovative original research on professional and commercial interests in the nineteenth-century South, a place often seen as being composed of just two classes: planters and slaves. Rather, an active middle class made up of men and women devoted to the cultural and economic modernization of Dixie worked with each other and occasionally their northern counterparts to bring reforms to the region. With a balance of established and younger authors of antebellum and postbellum analyses and of narrative and quantitative methodologies, these essays offer new ways to think about politics, society, gender, and culture during this exciting era of southern history. The contributors show that many like-minded southerners sought to create a New South with a society similar to that of the North. They supported the creation of public schools and an end to dueling, but less progressive reform was also endorsed, such as building factories using slave labor rather than white wage earners. The Southern Middle Class in the Long Nineteenth Century significantly influences thought on the social structure of the South, the centrality of class in history, and the events prior to and after the Civil War.
