Reparations and the Human David L. Eng, 2025-03-21 The Holocaust and the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki invoked in graphic terms the specter of total human destruction In response a new international order of reparations and human rights arose from the ashes of World War II This legal regime sought to subrogate the sovereignty of the nation state in order to defend the sovereignty of the human being While the Holocaust's history is settled Nazis were perpetrators and Jews were victims there remains little historical consensus as to the victims and perpetrators of the atomic bombings In Reparations and the Human David L. Eng investigates a history of reparations across the Transpacific He analyzes how concepts of reparation established during colonial settlement and the European Enlightenment shape contemporary configurations of the human and human rights determining who can be recognized as victims who must be seen as perpetrators and who deserves repair As demands for reparations now occupy center stage in debates concerning unresolved legacies of dispossession and Transatlantic slavery Eng considers how the Cold War Transpacific provides a limit case for the politics of repair and definitions of the human

Immaterial Facts Robert Caper, 2014-03-18 First published in 1999 Shows how Melanie Klein's studies of sexuality aggression unconscious phantasy and identification in children extended and corrected Freud's theories of the development of the superego and early stages of the Oedipus complex

Restitution and the Politics of Repair Magdalena Zolkos, 2020-09-21 Analyses the social imaginary of undoing repair and return underpinning the international norm of restitution making Approaches restitution not just as a legal norm of property return but as a social imaginary and a cultural psychoanalytic scene of undoing repair and return Brings together philosophic political socio legal and cultural psychoanalytic approaches to the study of restitution Outlines a heterogeneous and multifaceted idea of restitution emergent in modernity and looks at the peripheries of the modern restitutive tradition in the search for alternatives and counter traditions This book takes a unique approach grounded in political and cultural discourse to develop a political theory of restitution Challenging assumptions about restitution in the Western legal and political tradition where it has become nearly synonymous with reacquisition and where legal studies focus on material objects and claims to their ownership Zolkos argues that the development of restitutive norms has been auxiliary to the emergence of modern state sovereignty and excavates the restitutive tradition's mythical religious substrate Bringing together texts from within and without the Western canon of political theory and philosophy including the writings of Grotius Durkheim Freud and Klein as well as Mary Shelley's Frankenstein the book undertakes a dual task reading literary texts as a political theorising of restitution and reading political or sociological texts as literary narratives with distinctive restitutive tropes of repair undoing and return
