Gwynne Edwards is Professor of Spanish at the University of Wales Aberystwyth

Los Olvidados Mark Polizzotti, 2019-07-25 Los Olvidados 1950 established Luis Buñuel's reputation as a world class director Set in the slums of Mexico City it follows the crime filled and violent lives of group of juvenile delinquents The film exhibits some of Buñuel's recognisable themes of love's yearnings social injustice and surrealism but with a layer of compassion that sets it apart from many of his other films In 2003 Los Olvidados was inducted into UNESCO's Memory of the World programme which preserves documentary heritage of world significance Mark Polizzotti explores the historical context aesthetic importance and biographical significance of the film providing the first complete overview of Los Olvidados in English He also presents an introduction to the Mexican film industry and places Buñuel and his films within it While many critics have taken Los Olvidados as a film about urban poverty Mark Polizzotti sees it as a much more personal and mysterious statement about yearning loss and the need for redemption By taking the notion of hunger as its structural principle he explores the themes of love betrayal desire and death that make the film such a powerful statement more than fifty years after its release

Luis Buñuel Román Gubern, Paul Hammond, 2012-01-04 The turbulent years of the 1930s were of profound importance in the life of Spanish film director Luis Buñuel 1900-1983 He joined the Surrealist movement in 1929 but by 1932 had renounced it and embraced Communism During the Spanish Civil War 1936-39 he played an integral role in disseminating film propaganda in Paris for the Spanish Republican cause Luis Buñuel The Red Years 1929-1939 investigates Buñuel's commitment to making the politicized documentary Land without Bread 1933 and his key role as an executive producer at Film Fono in Madrid where he was responsible in 1935-36 for making four commercial features that prefigure his work in Mexico after 1946 As for the republics of France and Spain between which Buñuel shuttled during the 1930s these became equally embattled as left and right totalitarianisms fought to wrest political power away from a debilitated capitalism Where it exists the literature on this crucial decade of the film director's life is scant and relies on Buñuel's own self-interested accounts of that complex period Román Gubern and Paul Hammond have undertaken extensive archival research in Europe and the United States and evaluated Buñuel's accounts and those of historians and film writers to achieve a portrait of Buñuel's Red Years that abounds in new information

Film: A Very Short Introduction Michael Wood, 2012-01-26 Film is considered to be the dominant art form of the twentieth century It can be considered many other things a record of events a modern mythology a career an industry an art a hobby and much else Michael Wood explores the history of film its venture into the digital age and its role and impact on modern society

Historical Dictionary of Surrealism Keith Aspley, 2010-10-16 Surrealism was a broad movement which attracted many adherents It was organized and quite strictly disciplined at least until the death of its leader André Breton in 1966 As a consequence its membership was in a constant state of flux persons were constantly being admitted and excluded and often the latter continued to regard themselves as Surrealists The wide ranging nature of the Surrealist movement was spread over many countries and many different art forms including painting sculpture cinema photography music theater and literature most notably poetry The Historical Dictionary of Surrealism relates the history of this movement through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and over 600 cross referenced dictionary entries on persons circles and groups who participated in the movement a global entry on some of the journals and reviews they produced and a sampling of major works of art cinema and literature

DADA, Surrealism, and the Cinematic Effect R. Bruce Elder, 2015-10-15

This book deals with the early intellectual reception of the cinema and the manner in which art theorists philosophers cultural theorists and especially artists of the first decades of the twentieth century responded to its advent While the idea persists that early writers on film were troubled by the cinema's lowly form this work proposes that there was another largely unrecognized strain in the reception of it Far from anxious about film's provenance in popular entertainment some writers and artists proclaimed that the cinema was the most important art for the moderns as it exemplified the vibrancy of contemporary life This view of the cinema was especially common among those whose commitments were to advanced artistic practices Their notions about how to recast the art media or the forms forged from those media's materials and the urgency of doing so formed the principal part of the conceptual core of the artistic programs advanced by the vanguard art movements of the first half of the twentieth century This book a companion to the author's previous Harmony Dissent examines the Dada and Surrealist movements as responses to the advent of the cinema

Lorca, Buñuel, Dalí Gwynne

Edwards, 2009-06-17 Lorca Bunuel and Dali were in their respective fields of poetry and theatre cinema and painting three of the most imaginative creative artists of the twentieth century their impact was felt far beyond the boundaries of their native Spain But if individually they have been examined by many their connected lives have rarely been considered It is these the ties that bind them that constitute the subject of this illuminating book They were born within six years of each other and as Gwynne Edwards reveals their childhood circumstances were very similar Each was affected by a narrow minded society and an intolerant religious background which equated sex with sin and led all three to experience sexual problems of different kinds Lorca the guilt and anguish associated with his homosexuality Bunuel feelings of sexual inhibition and Dali virtual impotence Having met during the 1920s at the Residencia de Estudiantes in Madrid they developed intense personal relationships and channelled their respective obsessions into the cultural forms then prevalent in Europe in particular Surrealism Rooted in emotional turmoil their work from Lorca's dramatic characters in search of sexual fulfilment to Bunuel's frustrated men and women and Dali's potent images of shame and guilt is highly autobiographical Their left wing outrage directed at bourgeois values and the Catholic Church was strongly felt and in the case of Lorca in particular was sharpened by the catastrophic Civil War of 1936-9 during the first months of which he was murdered by Franco's fascists The war hastened Bunuel's departure to France and Mexico and Dali's to New York Edwards describes how for the rest of his life

Bunuel clung to his left wing ideals and made outstanding films while the increasingly eccentric and money obsessed Dali embraced Fascism and the Catholic Church and saw his art go into rapid decline Bunuel and Mexico Ernesto R. Acevedo-Muñoz, 2025-03-18 Though Luis Bu uel one of the most important filmmakers of the twentieth century spent his most productive years as a director in Mexico film histories and criticism invariably pay little attention to his work during this period The only book length English language study of Bu uel s Mexican films this book is the first to explore a significant but neglected area of this filmmaker s distinguished career and thus to fill a gap in our appreciation and understanding of both Bu uel s achievement and the history of Mexican film Ernesto Acevedo Mu oz considers Bu uel s Mexican films made between 1947 and 1965 within the context of a national and nationalist film industry comparing the filmmaker s employment of styles genres character types themes and techniques to those most characteristic of Mexican cinema In this study Bu uel s films emerge as a link between the Classical Mexican cinema of the 1930s through the 1950s and the new Cinema of the 1960s flourishing in a time of crisis for the national film industry and introducing some of the stylistic and conceptual changes that would revitalize Mexican cinema Beauty and the Abject Corrado Federici, Leslie Anne Boldt-Irons, Ernesto Virgulti, 2007 Original Scholarly Monograph Experimental Ethnography Catherine Russell, 1999 A sophisticated theoretical consideration of the related aesthetics and histories of ethnographic and experimental non fiction films
