Metropolitan Review, 1989 Islands and the Modernists Jill Franks, 2006-07-25 This study examines five modernists in different disciplines biology painting drama fiction and anthropology whose work on islands made them famous Charles Darwin challenged every presumption of popular science with his theory of evolution by natural selection derived from his study of the Galapagos Islands Paul Gauguin found on Tahiti inspiration enough to break through the inhibiting traditions of the Parisian art world John Millington Synge's experience on the Aran Islands off the coast of Ireland gave birth to a new style of drama that defied classic divisions between tragedy and comedy D H Lawrence's life long search for a utopian community culminated in his famous short story The Man Who Loved Islands that poignantly portrays the tension between idealism and realism solitude and human intimacy Finally Margaret Mead began her career in anthropology by studying the remote South Sea Islands and through her work acquired the sobriquet Mother of the World The text explores the extent to which islands inspired these radical thinkers to perform innovative work Each used islands differently but similar phenomena affected their choice of place and the outcome of their projects Their examples illuminate the relationship of modernism to alienation and insularity The New Statesman, 1922 The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 22 Jerome A. Winer, 2013-05-13 Volume 22 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis begins with the provocative reflections of Jane Flax and Robert Michels on the current status and future prospects of psychoanalysis a century after Freud Flax believes that analysis will not survive in the postmodern West if analysts cling to the medical model and the notion of analysis as a clinical science Michels believes analysis will be revived in the next century by reorganizing its training institutes within universities A section on Psychoanalysis and the Visual Arts includes John Gedo's probing examination of the inner world of Paul Gauguin and William Meissner's reflections on Vincent van Gogh as artist Johann Michael Rotmann's examination of the transference meanings of third party payment within Germany's health insurance system is a timely consideration of issues that are increasingly salient for American analysts and therapists A rich harvest of theoretical and clinical papers rounds out this volume of The Annual In A Time of Questioning Leon Wurmser responds to the inner and outer challenges before analysis in a closely reasoned defense of the applicability of classical analytic technique to severely disturbed patients Michael Hoit examines the noninterpretive interactive aspects of the analytic relationship arguing that the analyst's noninterpretive activities are intrinsic to treatment and must be incorporated into the theory of therapeutic action In Fables as Psychoanalytic Metaphors Elaine Caruth describes some psychoanalytic metaphors contained within the lessons of the Aesopian fables proposing that the fables address interpersonal and group conflicts that often involve moral issues Wilma Bucci offers her multiple code theory as a new model of emotion and mind based on current theory and research in cognitive science that can account for clinical concepts and provide coherent framework for empirical research And Ralph Roughton uses the case history of Laura to underscore the central role of repetition and interaction in the analytic process Volume 22
