showcases key theoretical ideas and practical considerations in the growing area of scholarship on musical gesture. The book constructs and explores the relations between music and gesture from a range of differing perspectives identifying theoretical approaches and examining the nature of certain types of gesture in musical performance. The twelve chapters in this volume are organized into a heuristic progression from theory to practice from essay to case study. Theoretical considerations about the interpretation of musical gestures are identified and phrased in terms of semiotics, the mimetic hypothesis, concepts of musical force, immanence, quotation and topic, and the work of musical gestures. The lives of musical gestures in performance are revealed through engaging with their rhythmic properties as well as inquiring into the breathing of pianists, the nature of clarinetists' bodily movements and the physical acts and personae of individual artists, specifically Keith Jarrett and Robbie Williams. The reader is encouraged to listen to the various resonances and tensions between the chapters, including the importance given to bodies, processes, motions, expressions and interpretations of musical gesture. The book will be of significance to musicologists, theorists, semioticians, analysts, composers and performers as well as scholars working in different research communities with an interest in the study of gesture. Kant's ›Critique of Aesthetic Judgment‹ in the 20th Century Stefano Marino, Pietro Terzi, 2020-11-09

Kant's Critique of Judgment represents one of the most important texts in modern philosophy. However, while its importance for 19th century philosophy has been widely acknowledged, scholars have often overlooked its far-reaching influence on 20th century thought. This book aims to account for the various interpretations of Kant's notion of aesthetic judgment formulated in the last century. The book approaches the subject matter from both a historical and a theoretical point of view and in relation to different cultural contexts, also exploring in an unprecedented way its influence on some very up-to-date philosophical developments and trends. It represents the first choral and comprehensive study on this missing piece in the history of modern and contemporary philosophy, capable of cutting in a unique way across different traditions, movements and geographical areas. All main themes of Kant's aesthetics are investigated in this book, while at the same time showing how they have been interpreted in very different ways in the 20th century. With contributions by Alessandro Bertinetto, Patrice Canivez, Dario Cecchi, Diarmuid Costello, Nicola Emery, Serena Felio, Ginter Figal, Tom Huhn, Hans Peter Krüger, Thomas W. Leddy, Stefano Marino, Claudio Paolucci, Anne Sauvagnergues, Dennis J. Schmidt, Arno Schubbach, Scott R. Stroud, Thomas Teufel and Pietro Terzi. Like a Film Timothy Murray, 2005-08-02 In this stimulating collection of theoretical writings on film, photography and art, Timothy Murray examines relations between artistic practice, sexual and racial politics, theory and cultural studies. Like a Film investigates how the cinematic apparatus has invaded the theory of culture, suggesting that the many destabilising traumas of our culture remain accessible to us because they are structured so much like film. The book analyses the impact of cinematic perceptions and productions on a wide array of cultural practices, from the Renaissance works of Shakespeare and Caravaggio to modern sexual and political fantasy and the theoretical work of Lyotard, Torok, Barthes, Ropars, Willeumier, Žižek, Silverman and

Art's Way Out John Baldacchino, 2012-03-26 In taking the critique of inclusion and entry as a first step Art's Way Out's discussion of art politics and learning aims to delineate what an exit pedagogy would look like where culture is neither seen as a benign form of inclusion nor as a hegemonic veil by which we are all subscribed to the system via popularized forms of artistic and cultural immediacy An exit pedagogy as prefigured in what could be called art's way out through the implements of negative recognition qua impasse would not only avoid the all too facile symmetrical dualism between conservative and progressive liberal and critical pedagogies but also seek the continuous referral of such symmetries by setting them aside and look for a way out of the confined edifices of education and culture per se An exit pedagogy seeks its way out by reasserting representation in the comedic the jocular and more effectively in the arts power of pausing as that most effective way by which aesthetics comes to effect in its autonomist and radical essence In this fluent limpid and scholarly work Baldacchino examines inter alia the problem of empathy in relation to art as an event or series of events drawing upon a wide and rich range of sources to inform what in effect is his manifesto With a profound understanding of its philosophical basis Baldacchino unfolds his argument in an internally consistent and elegantly structured way This is not a book to be dipped into to do so would miss the development of Baldacchino's philosophical position like an art work itself Art's Way Out has coherent structure and a complex interrelation between form and content reflecting an artist's concern for getting things right Richard Hickman Cambridge University Although art has a limitless capacity to take on myriad responsibilities according to Baldacchino we also need to consider a way out because only then will we understand how art goes beyond the boundaries of possibility As he explains our way into reason also comes from an ability to move outside the limits that reasons sets This is the exit pedagogy that he advocates And here exit does not mean to leave but rather to reach beyond to extend and explore outside the borders we impose on learning teaching schooling and most forms of cultural agency The need to embrace the capacity of art to cycle beyond the contingencies we impose on it also helps to clarify the limits of inclusive arguments for deploying art education for various individual institutional and socio-political ends art as self expression art as interdisciplinary method art as culture industry art as political culture art as social justice and so on This image invokes for me part of the legacy of Maxine Greene that Baldacchino revealed in his earlier text Education Beyond Education 2009 when he explored her thesis of the social imagination which is best achieved when teaching becomes reaching What Art's Way Out gives us is an exit strategy from the deadening tendency to ignore the enduring capacity of art to give life to learning teaching and the very culture of our being Graeme Sullivan Penn State University This is the sixth book authored by John Baldacchino the other most recent books being Education Beyond Education Self and the Imaginary in Maxine Greene's Philosophy 2009 and Makings of the Sea Journey Doubt and Nostalgia

Postmodernity, Ethics and the Novel Andrew Gibson,2002-01-04 In Postmodernity Ethics and the Novel Andrew Gibson sets out to demonstrate that postmodern theory has actually made possible an ethical discourse around fiction Each chapter elaborates and discusses a particular aspect of Levinas thought and raises questions for that thought and its bearing on the novel It also contains detailed analyses of particular texts Part of the book s originality is its concentration on a range of modernist and postmodern novels which have seldom if ever served as the basis for a larger ethical theory of fiction Postmodernity Ethics and the Novel discusses among others the writings of Joseph Conrad Henry James Jane Austen Samuel Beckett Marcel Proust and Salman Rushdie Postmodernism and the Holocaust ,2021-10-25 This book is the first sustained inquiry into the ways in which postmodern thinkers have grappled with the historical bases implications and methodological problems of the Holocaust The book examines the thinking of Arendt Levinas Foucault Lyotard and Derrida all of whom have recognized the centrality of the Nazi genocide to the epoch in which we live The essays written for this volume constitute a wide ranging study of the efforts of postmodernism to articulate the Holocaust
