Lyric Poetry Mutlu Blasing, 2009-01-10 Lyric poetry has long been regarded as the intensely private emotional expression of individuals powerful precisely because it draws readers into personal worlds But who exactly is the I in a lyric poem and how is it created In Lyric Poetry Mutlu Blasing argues that the individual in a lyric is only a virtual entity and that lyric poetry takes its power from the public emotional power of language itself In the first major new theory of the lyric to be put forward in decades Blasing proposes that lyric poetry is a public discourse deeply rooted in the mother tongue She looks to poetic linguistic and psychoanalytic theory to help unravel the intricate historical processes that generate speaking subjects and concludes that lyric forms convey both personal and communal emotional histories in language Focusing on the work of such diverse twentieth century American poets as T S Eliot Ezra Pound Wallace Stevens and Anne Sexton Blasing demonstrates the ways that the lyric I speaks from first to last as a creation of poetic language

The Poetics of Repetition in English and Chinese Lyric Poetry Cecile Chu-chin Sun, 2011-01-15 For more than half a century Chinese Western comparative literature has been recognized as a formal academic discipline but critics and scholars in the field have done little to develop a viable common basis for comparison between these disparate literatures In this pioneering book Cecile Chu chin Sun establishes repetition as the ideal perspective from which to compare the poetry and poetics from these two traditions Sun contends that repetition is at the heart of all that defines the lyric as a unique art form and by closely examining its use in Chinese and Western poetry she demonstrates how one can identify important points of convergence and divergence Through a representative sampling of poems from both traditions she illustrates how the irreducible generic nature of the lyric transcends linguistic and cultural barriers but also reveals the fundamental distinctions between the traditions Most crucially she dissects the two radically different conceptualizations of reality mimesis and xing that serve as underlying principles for the poetic practices of each tradition Skillfully integrating theory and practice The Poetics of Repetition in English and Chinese Lyric Poetry provides a much needed model for future study of Chinese and English poetry as well as lucid succinct interpretations of individual poems

Lyric Poetry in Sixteenth-century Naples Erika Milburn, 2003 Luigi Tansillo is one of the most interesting and representative of the Petrarchist poets active in Naples during the mid sixteenth century This study reconsiders his substantial lyric corpus from a variety of perspectives opening with a survey of the textual tradition and previous critical work on his verse Four of Tansillo's lyric collections are examined in depth and read from narrative and thematic points of view Particular emphasis is placed on the evolution of the collections by exploring the ways in which very different types of narrative implying different underlying poetics can be constructed using often identical poems Parallel to this is a consideration of Tansillo's place within the broader literary historical context and his use of verse as a political and ideological tool in the service of the Spanish viceroy of Naples These detailed studies of individual poetic sequences are complemented by an analysis of Tansillo's poetic language within the context of Neapolitan reactions to the questione della lingua and of his contribution to creating a fixed iconology for the representation of jealousy in the Renaissance and Baroque lyric
