Central Intelligence Agency,1957 The Economic Potential of Communist China Yuan-li Wu,Francis P. Hoerber,Mabel M. Rockwell,1963 China in the World Market Thomas Geoffrey Moore,2002-03-18 This book will be provocative reading for anyone concerned with China and the world economy Capital Formation in Mainland China, 1952-1965 Kang Chao,2024-07-26 In the 1950s and 1960s the Chinese government exerted unprecedented efforts and marshaled enormous economic resources for the purpose of capital formation It was difficult for the rest of the world to determine precisely how successful these efforts were because of the incompleteness of official investment statistics In Capital Formation in Mainland China Kang Chao provides a comprehensive measurement of fixed capital investment in China His basic approach is that of the commodity flow method which takes into account each investment component and each capital goods item installed in China since 1949 He has compiled extensive information both from diverse Chinese publications and from sources in countries that have exported capital goods to China On the basis of this empirical foundation he analyzes all facets of the investment drive as well as the relationship between capital accumulation and the major aspects of Chinese economic development revealing many details previously unknown to the West In the process of arriving at his aggregate estimates Chao has sorted checked and tabulated detailed data relating to individual components that will constitute an important aid to scholars involved in research on related subjects This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1974 China's Industrial Technology Shulin Gu,2004-01-14 Offering a comprehensive review of reform policy followed by an examination of major approaches to institutional restructuring Shulin Gu explores the way in which China s industrial technology has responded to economic reforms At the heart of the work is the argument that market reform and organisational change are closely interdependent Gu outlines the interaction of the two in China and reveals the damage which may result if market reform is not accompanied by new organisational design Analysis of these issues is drawn from first hand experience of Chinese technology systems supported by insights from technological innovation economics and transaction cost economics China's Four Modernizations Richard Baum,2019-03-13 With the death of Mao Tse tung and the subsequent purge of the Gang of Four China s new pragmatic leaders have embarked on a crash program of national development known as the Four Modernizations This program is geared to the primary objective of turning China into a major world economic and military power by the year 2000 In this book the outgrowth of a major international conference on China s post Maoist development ten distinguished analysts examine one of the core issues in China s current modernization drive the acquisition and use of modern industrial science and technology The authors address the politics of China's technological modernization the institutional structure of technological research the purchase of foreign technology constraints on technological absorption the growth potential of China's critical energy sector and the modernization of China's military establishment Supplemented with brief commentaries by leading academic government and private sector contributors their chapters provide an in depth look at the process problems and prospects of China's widely heralded technological revolution      Socialist Construction in China

Abdol S. Soofi, 2024-06-28 The Chairman of the State Planning Commission of the PRC in 1955 attributed the economic problems countering the development of the socialist economy to the anarchy of capitalist economy However after three decades of central planning the President of the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences exclaimed Today we are all recognizing the irrationality of an economic structure that has built up over the years The author of this book examines the economic policies and performances that brought such a radical transformation to the world outlook of China's leaders The book contains three parts The first part traces the historical roots of China's chaotic economic condition and hyperinflation in the 1940s and the early 1950s The second part deals with how the irrational economic system was formed The third part deals with the reasons for the emergence of economic irrationality resource misallocation the necessity of economic reforms and industrial restructuring      Translations on Communist China's Food and Agriculture United States.
