Manual Of Gospel Broadcasting:

Manual of Gospel Broadcasting Wendell Phillips Loveless, 1946 Manual of Gospel Broadcasting Wendell P. Loveless, 2013-10 This is a new release of the original 1946 edition Handbook of Broadcasting Waldo Abbott, 1950

Broadcasting the Faith Michael E. Pohlman, 2021-02-02 Broadcasting the Faith tells the riveting story of the American church's embrace of radio in the early decades of the twentieth century. By investigating major radio personalities like Walter Maier Aimee, Semple McPherson, Harry Emerson Fosdick, and Charles Fuller, this study considers the implications for theology in America when Christianity moved to the airwaves. In the heyday of radio, religious radio preachers sought to use their programs to counter the secularization of American culture. Ultimately, however, their programs contributed to secularization by accelerating changes already evident in both the conservative and liberal streams of American Christianity. To reach a vast American audience, radio preachers transformed their sectarian messages into a religion more suitable to the masses, thereby altering the very religion it aimed to preserve. To make religion accessible to large and diverse audiences, radio preachers accommodated their messages in ways suited to the medium of radio. Although religious radio preachers set forth to advance the influence of religion in American society, their choice to limit theological substance ironically promoted the secularization of the American church.

The Lord's Radio Mark Ward Sr., 2017-07-19 Evangelical Christianity, the faith professed by one in four Americans, exerts an enormous influence in American society. Believed by some to have originated as a reaction to the social revolution of the 1960s, evangelicalism as a distinct subculture in fact dates to the advent of radio. The evangelical faithful flocked to the airwaves, developing a nationwide mass culture as listeners across denominational lines heard the same popular preachers and music. Evangelicals left behind the fundamentalism of the early 20th century as broadcast ministries laid the foundation for the culturally engaged New Christian Right of the late 20th century. This historical ethnography presents the era's major radio evangelists and songwriters in their own words, drawing on their writings and recordings as well as songbooks, liner notes, and song story anthologies of the period.

The Ministry of Music Kenneth W. Osbeck, 1971 A practical handbook on music and its application in local church ministry. Widely used as a textbook in Bible schools.

Redeeming the Dial Tona J. Hangen, 2003-12-04 Blending cultural, religious, and media history, Tona Hangen offers a richly detailed look into the world of religious radio. She uses recordings, sermons, fan mail, and other sources to tell the stories of the determined broadcasters and devoted listeners who together transformed American radio evangelism from an on-air novelty in the 1920s into a profitable and wide-reaching industry by the 1950s. Hangen traces the careers of three of the most successful Protestant radio evangelists: Paul Rader, Aimee Semple McPherson, and Charles Fuller, and examines the strategies they used to bring their messages to listeners across the nation. Initially shut out of network radio and free airtime, both of which were available only to mainstream Protestant and Catholic groups, evangelical broadcasters gained access to the airwaves with paid time programming. By the mid-twentieth century, millions of Americans regularly tuned in to evangelical programming making it one of the medium's most distinctive and durable genres. The voluntary contributions of these listeners in turn helped bankroll religious radio's remarkable growth. Revealing the entwined development of evangelical religion and modern mass media, Hangen demonstrates that the history of one is incomplete without the history of the other; both are essential to understanding American culture in the twentieth century. Music in the Air Mark Ward Sr., 2017-08-14. The old gospel song invited listeners to turn their radios on and hear the music in the air. Now return to the eventful days when Americans could turn the lights down low and listen to the Master's radio through this colorful and inspiring history of Christian music and ministry during the golden age of gospel radio. Learn the stories behind such legendary groups as Blackwood Brothers, Statesmen, Gaithers, Back to the Bible Quartet, Old Fashioned Revival Hour Quartet, Haven of Rest Quartet, and Stamps Quartet. Follow the careers of the great songwriters of the radio days, men such as Albert Brumley, Merrill Dunlop, John W. Peterson, and Stuart Hamblen. Read about the evangelists who pioneered Christian broadcasting such as Billy Graham, Charles Fuller, Jack Wyrzten, Percy Crawford, Paul Myers, Torrey Johnson, Walter Maier, Theodore App, and Paul Vader. And learn the stories behind the greatest gospel songs of the country from "Some Golden Daybreak" to "Beyond the Sunset" plus more than 100 others. Between the Times William R. Hutchison, 1990-11-30. During the first six decades of this century, the so-called mainline Protestant denominations in America were compelled to accommodate to the growing influences of diverse religions and growing secularization. In this book, twelve historians examine the nature of the American Protestant establishment and its response to the growing pluralism of the times. The goals of the establishment are first examined from the inside as they were voiced from the pulpit, expressed in education and through the media, and applied in ecumenical and social reforming ventures. The establishment is then viewed through the eyes of outsiders: Jews and Catholics and those at the periphery of the establishment's core and women. The authors conclude that the period surveyed forms a distinct epoch in the evolution of American Protestantism. The days when Protestant cultural authority could be taken for granted were certainly over, but a new era in which religious pluralism would be widely accepted had not yet arrived. Critical Bibliography of Religion in America, Volume IV, parts 3, 4, and 5 Nelson Rollin Burr, 2015-12-08. Volume IV, bound as two volumes, provides a critical and descriptive bibliography of religion in American life that is unequalled in any other source. Arranged topically so that books and articles on a single subject are discussed in relation to each other and carefully cross-referenced and indexed, it will be an indispensable tool for anyone exploring further into American religion or related subjects.
