Marcel Duchamp The Bride Stripped Bare By Her Bachelors Even Art In Context Series:

Marcel Duchamp: The Bride Stripped Bare by Her Bachelors, Even John Golding, 1973 Alchemy in Contemporary Art Urszula Szulakowska, 2017-07-05 Alchemy in Contemporary Art analyzes the manner in which twentieth century artists beginning with French Surrealists of the 1920s have appropriated concepts and imagery from the western alchemical tradition This study examines artistic production from c 1920 to the present with an emphasis on the 1970s to 2000 discussing familiar names such as Andre Breton Salvador Dali Yves Klein Joseph Beuys and Anselm Kiefer as well as many little known artists of the later twentieth century It provides a critical overview of the alchemical tradition in twentieth century art and of the use of occultist imagery as a code for political discourse and polemical engagement The study is the first to examine the influence of alchemy and the Surrealist tradition on Australian as well as on Eastern European and Mexican art In addition the text considers the manner in which women artists such as Leonora Carrington Remedios Varo and Rebecca Horn have critically revised the traditional sexist imagery of alchemy and occultism for their own feminist purposes Human-Built World Thomas P. Hughes, 2004-07-19 To most people technology has been reduced to computers consumer goods and military weapons we speak of technological progress in terms of RAM and CD ROMs and the flatness of our television screens In Human Built World thankfully Thomas Hughes restores to technology the conceptual richness and depth it deserves by chronicling the ideas about technology expressed by influential Western thinkers who not only understood its multifaceted character but who also explored its creative potential Hughes draws on an enormous range of literature art and architecture to explore what technology has brought to society and culture and to explain how we might begin to develop an ecotechnology that works with not against ecological systems From the Creator model of development of the sixteenth century to the big science of the 1940s and 1950s to the architecture of Frank Gehry Hughes nimbly charts the myriad ways that technology has been woven into the social and cultural fabric of different eras and the promises and problems it has offered Thomas Jefferson for instance optimistically hoped that technology could be combined with nature to create an Edenic environment Lewis Mumford two centuries later warned of the increasing mechanization of American life Such divergent views Hughes shows have existed side by side demonstrating the fundamental idea that in its variety technology is full of contradictions laden with human folly saved by occasional benign deeds and rich with unintended consequences In Human Built World he offers the highly engaging history of these contradictions follies and consequences a history that resurrects technology rightfully as more than gadgetry it is in fact no less than an embodiment of human values History of Art and Architecture Joann Lacey, 2021-01-23 This is a survey of the history of art and architecture of Western civilizations The textbook extends from the age of the Renaissance until the end of the 20th Century The textbook includes illustrations graphs and reconstruction images curated from Creative Commons material The textbook includes original text not protected intellectual property Fluxus Means Change Marcia Reed, 2020-12-01 An exploration of the radical artists who transformed the ways art is conceived exhibited and collected through the Dada Surrealist and Fluxus collections of Jean and Leonard Brown Throughout the 1960s Jean and Leonard Brown used their radical tastes prescient instincts and friendships with artists to assemble an extensive archive of Dada and surrealist publications and prints including works by Marcel Duchamp Man Ray and Tristan Tzara After Leonard s death in 1970 Jean s attention turned to Fluxus and other contemporary genres Jean also established a site of alternative art production at her Shaker Seed House in Tyngham Massachusetts where she invited artists to engage with her collections Fluxus works embraced the social and political critiques of earlier avant garde artists and questioned the authority of the increasingly powerful contemporary art world of critics collectors curators and gallerists This examination of artists and their antiestablishment demands for change shows how their art was created performed exhibited and collected in new ways that intentionally challenged traditional modes By providing an expanded understanding of avant garde and Fluxus artists through the lens of the Jean Brown Archive at the Getty Research Institute this volume demonstrates the profound influence these artists had on contemporary art

Machine Art in the Twentieth Century Andreas Broeckmann, 2016-12-23 An investigation of artists engagement with technical systems tracing art historical lineages that connect works of different periods Machine art is neither a movement nor a genre but encompasses diverse ways in which artists engage with technical systems In this book Andreas Broeckmann examines a variety of twentieth and early twenty first century artworks that articulate people s relationships with machines In the course of his investigation Broeckmann traces historical lineages that connect art of different periods looking for continuities that link works from the end of the century to developments in the 1950s and 1960s and to works by avant garde artists in the 1910s and 1920s An art historical perspective he argues might change our views of recent works that seem to be driven by new media technologies but that in fact continue a century old artistic exploration Broeckmann investigates critical aspects of machine aesthetics that characterized machine art until the 1960s and then turns to specific domains of artistic engagement with technology algorithms and machine autonomy looking in particular at the work of the Canadian artist David Rokeby vision and image and the advent of technical imaging and the human body using the work of the Australian artist Stelarc as an entry point to art that couples the machine to the body mechanically or cybernetically Finally Broeckmann argues that systems thinking and ecology have brought about a fundamental shift in the meaning of technology which has brought with it a rethinking of human subjectivity He examines a range of artworks including those by the Japanese artist Seiko Mikami whose work exemplifies the shift

Experimenting the Human G Douglas Barrett, 2023-01-13 Beyond the modernist project of subjecting sound parameters to the deterministic human control exemplified by serialism experimentalism has used indeterminacy beginning with chance and natural processes and later incorporating computer algorithms biofeedback and AI in ways that mirror posthumanism s challenge to the centrality of human agency Through a series of six intimate studies of works by Alvin Lucier Nam June Paik Pamela Z and Laetitia Sonami Barrett places posthuman thought in dialogue with works of experimental music surveyed from the 1960s to the present In addition to studies of individual musical works he illustrates existing exchanges between experimental music and cybernetics theorists since the 1950s and links this dialogue to posthumanist theory beginning in the 1990s for which those very cyberneticists were a primary point of departure

Alchemist of the Avant-Garde John F. Moffitt, 2012-02-01 Acknowledged as the Artist of the Century Marcel Duchamp 1887-1968 left a legacy that dominates the art world to this day Inventing the ironically d gag attitude of ready made art making Duchamp heralded the postmodern era and replaced Pablo Picasso as the role model for avant garde artists John F Moffitt challenges commonly accepted interpretations of Duchamp s art and persona by showing that his mature art after 1910 is largely drawn from the influence of the occult traditions Moffitt demonstrates that the key to understanding the cryptic meaning of Duchamp s diverse artworks and writings is alchemy the most pictorial of all the occult philosophies and sciences

Dialogues With Marcel Duchamp Pierre Cabanne, Marcel Duchamp, 1987-08-22 With an introduction by Robert Motherwell and an appreciation by Jasper Johns Marcel Duchamp one of this century s pioneer artists moved his work through the retinal boundaries which had been established with Impressionism into a field where language thought and vision act upon one another There it changed form through a complex interplay of new mental and physical materials heralding many of the technical mental and visual details to be found in more recent art In the 1920s Duchamp gave up quit painting He allowed perhaps encouraged the attendant mythology One thought of his decision his willing this stopping Yet on one occasion he said it was not like that He spoke of breaking a leg You don t mean to do it he said The Large Glass A greenhouse for his intuition Erotic machinery the Bride held in a see through cage a Hilarious Picture Its cross references of sight and thought the changing focus of the eyes and mind give fresh sense to the time and space we occupy negate any concern with art as transportation No end is in view in this fragment of a new perspective In the end you lose interest so I didn t feel the necessity to finish it He declared that he wanted to kill art for myself but his persistent attempts to destroy frames of reference altered our thinking established new units of thought a new thought for that object The art community feels Duchamp s presence and his absence He has changed the condition of being here Jasper Johns from Marcel Duchamp An Appreciation Please Touch Janine A. Mileaf, 2010 Exploring the notion of tactility in dada and surrealism Difference / Indifference Moira Roth, Jonathan D Katz, 2014-04-08 First Published in 1999 For the first time gathered together in book form here are the influential writings of Moira Roth articles lectures and inter views on the two men who for so long embodied the very spirit of the avant garde Marcel Duchamp and John Cage For almost thirty years Duchamp and Cage who seemed to live on the border of modernism and later of postmodernism alternately have fascinated irritated inspired and daunted the author Since her initial engagement with Duchamp and Cage in the early seventies Roth increasingly focused on the work of many American artists primarily women only to return to Duchamp and Cage intermit tently At first they were an inspiration for her writing and teaching However as they transformed themselves into classical figures she came to reconsider and re evaluate them This collection offers a wide variety of literary forms analytic diaristic art historical and autobiographical all of which Roth has used in her work Collectively these writings form the subject of compelling and unique critical exchange between Moira Roth who holds the Trefethen Chair of Art History at Mills College Oakland and Jonathan D Katz who is Chair of the Department of Gay and Lesbian Studies at City College San Francisco Digital Currents Margot Lovejoy, 2004-08-02 Digital Currents explores the growing impact of digital technologies on aesthetic experience and examines the major changes taking place in the role of the artist as social communicator Margot Lovejoy recounts the early histories of electronic media for art making video computer the internet in this richly illustrated book She provides a context for the works of major artists in each media describes their projects and discusses the issues and theoretical implications of each to create a foundation for understanding this developing field Digital Currents fills a major gap in our understanding of the relationship between art and technology and the exciting new cultural conditions we are experiencing It will be ideal reading for students taking courses in digital art and also for anyone seeking to understand these new creative forms Ways of Curating Hans Ulrich Obrist, 2014-03-27 Drawing on his own experiences and inspirations from staging his first exhibition in his tiny Zurich kitchen in 1986 to encounters and conversations with artists exhibition makers and thinkers alive and dead Hans Ulrich Obrist s Ways of Curating looks to inspire all those engaged in the creation of culture Moving from meetings with the artists who have inspired him including Gerhard Richter and Gilbert and George to the creation of the first public museums in the 18th century recounting the practice of inspirational figures such as Diaghilev and Walter Hopps skipping between exhibitions his own and others continents and centuries Ways of Curating argues that curation is far from a static practice Driven by curiosity at its best it allows us to create the future Art and Graphic Design Benoit Buquet, 2021-01-01 An innovative exploration of the intersection of graphic design and American art of the 1960s and 1970s This fascinating study of the role that graphic design played in American art of the 1960s and 1970s focuses on the work of George Maciunas Ed Ruscha and Sheila Levrant de Bretteville Examining how each of these artists utilized typography materiality and other graphic design aesthetics Benoit Buquet reveals the importance of graphic design in creating a sense of coherence within the disparate international group of Fluxus artists an elusiveness and resistance to categorization that defined much of Ruscha's brand of Pop Art and an open and participatory visual identity for a range of feminist art practices Rigorous and compelling scholarship and a copious illustration program that presents insightful juxtapositions of objects some of which have never been discussed before combine to shed new light on a period of abundant creativity and cultural transition in American art and the intimate though often overlooked entwined relationship between art and graphic design Playing with Earth and Sky James Housefield, 2016-07-05 Playing with Earth and Sky reveals the significance astronomy geography and aviation had for Marcel Duchamp widely regarded as the most influential artist of the past fifty years Duchamp transformed modern art by abandoning unique art objects in favor of experiences that could be both embodied and cerebral This illuminating study offers new interpretations of Duchamp's momentous works from readymades to the early performance art of shaving a comet in his hair It demonstrates how the immersive spaces and narrative environments of popular science from museums to the modern planetarium prepared paths for Duchamp's nonretinal art By situating Duchamp's career within the transatlantic cultural contexts of Dadaism and Surrealism this book enriches contemporary debates about the historical relationship between art and science This truly original study will appeal to a broad readership in art history and cultural studies

Potential Images Dario Gamboni, 2002 In Potential Images Dario Gamboni explores ambiguity in modern art considering images that rely to a great degree on a projected or imaginative response from viewers to achieve their effect Ambiguity became increasingly important in late 19th and early 20th century aesthetics as is evidenced in works by such artists as Redon Cezanne Gauguin Ensor and the Nabis Similarly the Cubists subverted traditional representational conventions requiring their viewers to decipher images to extract their full meanings The same device was taken up in the various experiments leading to abstraction For example it was Kandinsky's intention that his work could be interpreted in both figurative and non figurative ways and Duchamp's Readymades suggested the radical conclusion that it is the beholder who makes the picture These invitations to viewers to participate in the process of artistic communication had social and political implications as they accorded artist and beholder symmetrical almost interchangeable roles American Studies Jack Salzman, 1986-08-29 This is an annotated bibliography of 20th century books through 1983 and is a reworking of American Studies An Annotated Bibliography of Works on the Civilization of the United States published in 1982 Seeking to provide foreign nationals with a comprehensive and authoritative list of sources of information concerning America it focuses on books that have an important cultural framework and does not include those which are primarily theoretical or methodological It is organized in 11 sections anthropology and folklore art and architecture history literature music political science popular culture psychology religion science technology medicine and sociology Each section contains a preface introducing the reader to basic bibliographic resources in that discipline and paragraph length non evaluative annotations
