Refining Milestone Mass Communications Theories for the 21st Century Ran Wei, 2017-12-22. The Milestones essays in Mass Communication and Society are reflective and analytical articles by the most notable scholars in the field. These classic essays address 21st century issues from the pioneers of media and communication studies including Elihu Katz on new media and social movements, George Gerbner on cultivation analysis and Dietram Scheufele on political communication. As technologies evolve and mass communication becomes mobilized and democratized, more individual and also more social, these landmark scholars provide ideas about how established theories may be applied in new ways and how future research can expand our understanding of mass communication as its reach and effects grow ever larger. Fredric Wertham and the Critique of Mass Culture Bart Beaty, 2005. This book is a re-examination of the critic whose Congressional testimony sparked the Comics Code. Bart Beaty traces the evolution of Wertham's attitudes toward popular culture and reassesses his place in the debate about pop culture's effects on youth and society. When The Seduction of the Innocent was published in 1954, Wertham became instantly known as an authority on child psychology. Although he had published several books before Seduction, its sharp criticism of popular culture in general and comic books in particular made it a touchstone for debate about issues of censorship, child protection and freedom of speech. This book reinterprets his intellectual legacy and challenges notions about his alleged cultural conservatism. Drawing upon Wertham's published works as well as his unpublished private papers, correspondence and notes, Beaty reveals a man whose opinions, life and career offer more subtlety of thought than previously assumed. In particular, the book examines Wertham's change of heart in the 1970s when he began to claim that comics could be a positive influence in American society.
