Readings in the Social History of the Western Grassfields of Cameroon B Chem-Langhee, V.G. Fanzo, 2011-07-26 This is a rich and compelling volume of readings in social history on Nso and its neighbours in the Western Grassfields of Cameroon It consists of 19 essays by some of the leading historians archeologists and ethnographers of the region with seminal contributions by Jean Pierre Warnier Paul Nchoji Nkwi Bongfen Chem Langhee Phyllis Kaberry E M Chilver Miriam Goheen Ian Flower Dan Lantum and V G Fanzo The book covers a broad range of themes from precolonial times to date including trade alliances diplomacy the iron industry colonial impact continuities discontinuities and compromise general persistence ideology and conflict Warnier draws on linguistic and archaeological data to argue that this region has been settled for several millennia very probably continuously and that its landscapes are very ancient and have resulted from many human and natural forces other than the simple clearance of the forest cover of the region at an uncertain date as some authors have postulated Using data on inter group diplomacy and alliances Nkwi puts into question some problematic theses on persistence hostilities and enhances knowledge of the precolonial history of the region Fowler and Chem Langhee show how local conditions and needs fostered the spirit and practice of cooperative ventures in the precolonial period which provided the driving force and the ideological and structural underpinnings for the successful and smooth introduction of modern modes of cooperation in the area during the colonial and postcolonial periods The rest of the studies have a unifying theme or thesis namely that despite the entry and assault of external influences particularly those associated with colonialism Christianity and Islam the traditional institutions customs and value systems of the Nso and their neighbours have resisted major change and their total corrosion is not yet in sight The volume illustrates the proposition that historical research is a continuous process of rediscovery which provides new questions and also that the evidence of other disciplines linguistics archaeology and palaeobotany for example may give rise to many new lines of inquiry and help to correct the documentary record and explain oral tradition Herein lies the most important element of this experimental collection Its editors hope that it will provoke other similar collections Visiting the Fallen: Arras North Peter Hughes, 2015-05-30 Like Ypres Arras was a front line town throughout the Great War From March 1916 it became home to the British Army and it remained so until the Advance to Victory was well under way In 1917 the Battle of Arras came and went It occupied barely half a season but was then largely forgotten the periods before and after it have been virtually ignored and yet the Arras sector was always important and holding it was never easy or without incident death of course was never far away The area around Arras is as rich in Commonwealth War Graves Commission cemeteries as anywhere else on the Western Front including the Somme and Ypres and yet these quiet redoubts with their headstones proudly on parade still remain largely unvisited This book is the story of the men who fell and who are now buried in those cemeteries and the telling of their story is the telling of what it was like to be a soldier on the Western Front Arras North is the first of three books by the same author This volume contains in depth coverage of almost sixty Commonwealth War Graves Commission cemeteries and is a veritable Who's Who of officers and other ranks who fell on this part of the Western Front It provides comprehensive details of gallantry awards and citations and describes many minor operations raids and other actions as well as the events that took place in April and May 1917 It is the story of warfare on the Western Front as illustrated through the lives of those who fought and died on the battlefields of Arras There are many unsung heroes and personal tragedies including a young man who went out into no man's land to rescue his brother an uncle and nephew killed by the same shell a suicide in the trenches and a young soldier killed by a random shell whilst celebrating his birthday with his comrades There is an unexpected connection to Ulster dating back to the days of Oliver Cromwell and William of Orange a link to Sinn Féin and an assassination a descendant of Sir Isaac Newton as well as a conjuror a friend of P G Wodehouse a young officer said to have been thrilled to lead his platoon into the trenches for the first time only to be killed three hours later and a man whose headstone still awaits the addition of his Military Medal after almost a century despite having been involved in one of the most daring rescues of the war This is a superb reference guide for anyone visiting Arras and its battlefields West African Soldiers in Britain's Colonial Army (1860-1960) Timothy Stapleton, 2022 West African Soldiers in Britain's Colonial Army 1860-1960 explores the history of Britain's West African colonial army based in Nigeria Ghana Sierra Leone and the Gambia placing it within a broader social context and emphasizing as far as possible the experience of the ordinary soldier The aim is not to describe the many battles and campaigns fought by this force but to look at the development of the West African colonial army as an institution over the course of about a century In pursuing this goal it is sometimes useful to employ the lens of military culture defined differently by scholars but essentially meaning a set of shared ideas and behaviors that inform daily life in the military While other locally recruited colonial militaries in Africa have attracted considerable attention from historians as they served as an essential pillar supporting European rule this book represents the first comprehensive scholarly study of Britain s West African army which was the largest such British led force south of the Sahara The study is based on extensive archival research conducted in nine archives located in five countries

Monthly Air Force List Great Britain.
