In this exciting new volume Pinar Bilgin encourages readers to consider both why and how non core geocultural sites allow us to think differently about key aspects of global politics Seeking to further debates surrounding thinking beyond the West non West divide this book analyzes how scholarship on and conceptions of the international outside core contexts are tied up with peripheral actors search for security Accordingly Bilgin looks at core periphery dynamics not only in terms of the production of knowledge in the production of IR scholarship or material threats but also peripheral actors conceptions of the international in terms of standard of civilization and their more contemporary guises which she terms as hierarchy in anarchical society The first three chapters provide a critical overview of the limits of our theorizing about IR and security as well as a discussion on the track record of critical approaches to IR and security in addressing those limits The following three chapters offer one way of addressing the limits of our theorizing about IR and security by inquiring into the international in security security in the international Each of these chapters makes a theoretical point and illustrates this further in a spotlight section that further illustrates the point to aid student learning A genuinely innovative contribution to this rapidly emerging field within IR this book is essential reading for students and scholars of critical security international relations theory and Global IR

Small States and Hegemonic Competition in Southeast Asia Chih-Mao Tang, 2018-03-20 In the last few decades Southeast Asia has become generally more peaceful and more prosperous with progress in economic development regional cooperation and integration ASEAN in particular plays a leading role within and beyond the region in promoting multilateral cooperation in both security and economic matters All these developments progress amid increasing hegemonic competition between the US and China for regional dominance in the Asia Pacific region According to the realist viewpoint of international politics Southeast Asian states can do nothing but choose sides at the expense of international political autonomy in order to maintain their national interests Tang argues however that in fact there exists an opportunity for Southeast Asian states to simultaneously reinforce their military security economic development and international political autonomy in face of the US China hegemonic competition Drawing on the ideas of power transition theory and recent works of capitalist peace Tang argues that small states can exploit the competition between great powers to make economic gains and ensure security while maintaining their autonomy He outlines the necessity of cooperation among these small states and of economic liberalization for the effectiveness of this reinforcing dynamics applying policy and econometric analyses to a wide range of qualitative and quantitative data Globalizing IR Theory Yaqing Qin, 2020-03-03 Despite attempts to redress the balance international relations IR as a discipline is still dominated by Western theories The contributors in this book explore the challenges of constructing an alternative with a dialogue between global and local approaches Drawing on scholars with backgrounds in the United States Europe Asia and South America this volume attempts to critically engage with and reflect upon existing traditions of IR theory to produce a deeply pluralist approach Traditions cultures histories and practices from around the world influence their respective theoretical understanding and in turn explain why the Western tradition of IR is insufficient This book provides great insight for scholars of IR from around the world looking for more diversity in IR theory Encyclopedia of Government and Politics Mary Hawkesworth, Maurice Kogan, 2013-11-07 This is a brand new edition of the critically acclaimed Encyclopedia of Government and Politics which has been fully revised and updated to provide a systematic account of politics and political studies at the beginning of the new millennium Providing a penetrating analysis of government and politics at a global regional and nation state level the Encyclopedia assesses both traditional and contemporary approaches and projects the paths of future research The articles provide a degree of critical analysis far beyond a simple descriptive outline of the subject Internationally respected contributors have been carefully selected to present contending approaches to related topics both to clarify the political implications of the various methodologies and to enrich the portrayal of political life With its expanded revised and updated coverage Encyclopedia of Government and Politics is more than ever an indispensable tool for students teachers professional analysts and policy makers Risk and Presidential Decision-making Luca Trenta, 2016-05-20 This book aims at gauging whether the nature of US foreign policy decision making has changed after the Cold War as radically as a large body of literature seems to suggest and develops a new framework to interpret presidential decision making in foreign policy It locates the study of risk in US foreign policy in a wider intellectual landscape that draws on contemporary debates in historiography international relations and Presidential studies Based on developments in the health and environment literature the book identifies the President as the ultimate risk manager demonstrating how a President is called to perform a delicate balancing act between risks on the domestic political side and risks on the strategic international side Every decision represents a risk vs risk trade off in which the management of one target risk leads to the development countervailing risks

The book applies this framework to the study three major crises in US foreign policy the Cuban Missile Crisis the seizure of the US Embassy in Tehran in 1979 and the massacre at Srebrenica in 1995 Each case study results from substantial archival research and over twenty interviews with policymakers and academics including former President Jimmy Carter and former Senator Bob Dole This book is ideal for postgraduate researchers and academics in US foreign policy foreign policy decision making and the US Presidency as well as Departments and Institutes dealing with the study of risk in the social sciences The case studies will also be of great use to undergraduate students
