Mimetic Reflections:

Mimetic Reflections William Schweiker, 1990 This book argues that a basic problem in thinking about understanding temporality and selfhood is due to imitative modes of thought found in much traditional Western philosophy and theology Given this the book examines the complex role that image and imitation play in understanding and its world of meaning the import of language and narrative for configuring human temporality and the existence of self The author's contention is that when critically understood mimesis with its roots in performative enactment holds resources for reconsidering these basic dimensions of human life beyond imitative paradigms of thought The Middle Voice in Gadamer's Hermeneutics Philippe Eberhard, 2004 Revised thesis Ph D University of Chicago Divinity School Chicago 2002 Realism: Aesthetics, Experiments, Politics Jens Elze, 2022-04-07 Realism seems to be everywhere both as a trending critical term and as a revitalized aesthetic practice This volume brings together for the first time three aspects that are pertinent for a proper understanding of realism its 19th century aesthetics committed to making reality into an object of serious art the experiments with and against realism by 20th century modernist postmodernist or magical realist writing and the politics of realism especially its ambitions to map the complex realities produced by global capitalism and climate catastrophe This juxtaposition of aesthetics experiments and politics unsettles the entrenched opposition between realism and experimental literature that tends to ignore the fact that realism by virtue of its commitment to a changing material and social world cannot be but continuously experimenting The innovative chapters of this book address some of the pressing questions of literary and cultural studies today like the complex relation between historical materialism and new materialisms between science and art or the different aesthetic and political affordances of making systemic analyses against depicting the specificity of the local Some of the chapters deal with classically realist authors such as George Eliot Émile Zola and Joseph Conrad to gauge the aesthetic radicalism of their diverse realist projects Others investigate the experimental engagements with realism by authors such as B S Johnson J M Coetzee or Rachel Cusk Yet others analyze the politics of realism found in contemporary anglophone novels by writers like Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie David Mitchell or Rohinton Mistry The readings assembled here are a testament to the diversity of literary realism's from the 19th 20th and 21st centuries and to the ongoing controversies surrounding definitions and deployments of realism Mimesis and Its Romantic Reflections Frederick Burwick, 2010-11-01 In Romantic theories of art and literature the notion of mimesis defined as art's reflection of the external world became introspective and self-reflexive as poets and artists sought to represent the act of creativity itself Frederick Burwick seeks to elucidate this Romantic aesthetic first by offering an understanding of key Romantic mimetic concepts and then by analyzing manifestations of the mimetic process in literary works of the period Burwick explores the mimetic concepts of art for art's sake Idem et Alter and palingenesis of mind as art by drawing on the theories of Philo of Alexandria Aristotle Immanuel Kant Friedrich Schiller Friederich Wilhelm Joseph von Schelling Thomas De Quincey and Germaine de

Sta l Having established the philosophical bases of these key mimetic concepts Burwick analyzes manifestations of mimesis in the literature of the period including ekphrasis in the work of Thomas De Quincey mirrored images in the poems of Samuel Taylor Coleridge and William Wordsworth and the twice told tale in the novels of Charles Brockden Brown E T A Hoffmann and James Hogg Although artists of this period have traditionally been dismissed in discussions of mimesis Burwick demonstrates that mimetic concepts comprised a major component of the Romantic aesthetic

Faulkner's Cartographies of Consciousness John Michael Corrigan, 2023-11-16 William Faulkner continues to be an author who is widely read studied and admired This book provides a new and interdisciplinary account of Faulkner s legacy arguing that his fiction is just as relevant today as it was during his own time Indeed Faulkner s far reaching critique of his Southern heritage speaks directly to the anti racism discourse of our own time and engages the dire threat to subjecthood in a technologically saturated civilization Combining literary critique with network and complexity science this study offers a new reading of William Faulkner as a novelist for the information age Over the course of his career we find an artist struggling to articulate the threat to human wellbeing in rapidly scaling social systems and gradually developing a hard won humanism that affirms the individual and interpersonal life as a source of novelty and social change

Soviet Narratology and Spatial Story Design
Sylke Rene Meyer, 2025-10-20 Based on Soviet narratology this book offers a genealogy of spatial user centric story design and its current applications situating spatial story design as medium sui generis that evolved as a counternarrative to agonal games on the one hand and in distinction to linear narrative such as classical novels and cinema on the other hand Following a discussion of Russian Formalism that relativized the notion of authorial intention and emphasized the primacy of structure the analysis considers the works of Mikhail Bakhtin who laid out the groundwork for a chronotopical spatial analysis of literature that contributes to a grammar of user generated narrative as well as the works of Yuri Lotman and the Tartu Moscow Semiotic School The author shows how these works have been influential through the works topological semantics that provide a vocabulary for literary analysis and practical tools for spatial story design to predict to some extent user behavior and through the semiotic study of text culminating in a cybernetical method of systems thinking that allows for process control of user generated spaces She demonstrates that cybernetical research in the United States contributed to the development of agonal shooter games while cybernetical research in the Soviet Union had a massive influence on role playing games and consequently interactive storytelling and spatial story design Delineating how Soviet narratology had a formative yet somehow unnamed influence on the development of structuralist and post structuralist narrative theory this book will be an essential read for academics and artists in performance art game design interactive storytelling narratology philosophy but also AI research and human machine interaction

Orientalism and Identity in Latin America Erik

Camayd-Freixas,2013-03-14 Building on the pioneering work of Edward Said in fresh and useful ways contributors to this volume consider both historical contacts and literary influences in the formation of Latin American constructs of the Orient and the Self from colonial times to the present In the process they unveil wide ranging manifestations of Orientalism Contributors scrutinize the other great encounter not with Europeans but with Arabic Chinese and Japanese cultures as they marked Latin American societies from Mexico Central America and the Caribbean to Peru Argentina and Brazil The perspectives experiences and theories presented in these examples offer a comprehensive framework for understanding wide ranging manifestations of Orientalism in Latin America and elsewhere in the developing world Orientalism and Identity in Latin America expands current theoretical frameworks juxtaposing historical biographical and literary depictions of Middle Eastern and Asian migrations both of people and cultural elements as they have been received perceived refashioned and integrated into Latin American discourses of identity and difference Underlying this intercultural dialogue is the hypothesis that the discourse of Orientalism and the process of Orientalization apply equally to Near Eastern and Far Eastern subjects as well as to immigrants regardless of provenance and indeed to any individual or group who might be construed as Other by a particular dominant culture Shining Garment of the Text Alison Jasper,1998-09-01 Taking the prologue of John s Gospel as a case study in feminist biblical criticism the author engages with a persistent view that the biblical text is seriously compromised by its association with patriarchal values Close analysis of five interpretations by Augustine Hildegard von Bingen Martin Luther Adrienne von Speyr and Rudolf Bultmann shows how unavoidably interpretation clothes the biblical text with the varied and dazzling patterns of the patriarchal reading context But in a second turn drawing on the techniques of both structuralist criticism and deconstruction and offering three further inventive readings of this powerful passage Jasper reflects woman and the feminine in the shining garment of her own contextualized reading Doing Justice to Mercy Jonathan Rothchild,Matthew Myer Boulton,Kevin Jung,2012-10-05 It is often assumed that the law and religion address different spheres of human life Religion and ethics articulate complex systems of moral reasoning that concern norms deliberation of ends cultivation of disposition and transformation of moral agency Law in contrast seeks to govern human conduct through procedural justice rights and public good Doing Justice to Mercy challenges this assumption by presenting the reader with an urgent conversation between the law and religion that yields a constructive approach both theoretically and practically to the complex role of mercy in our legal process Authored by legal practitioners activists and theorists in addition to theologians and ethicists the essays collected here are informed by timeless principles and yet they could not be timelier The trend in sentencing moves toward an increased severity and the number of incarcerated people in the United States is at an all time high In the half decade since 9 11 moreover homeland security has established itself as a permanent fixture in our lives In this atmosphere the current volume seeks initially to clarify how justice and mercy intertwine in relation to a number of issues such as rehabilitation the death penalty domestic violence and war crimes Exploring the legal philosophical and theological grounds for mercy in our courts the discussion then moves to the practical ways in which mercy may be implemented Contributors Marc Mauer The Sentencing Project Lois Gehr Livezey McCormick Theological Seminary Ernie Lewis Public Advocate Commonwealth of Kentucky Jonathan Rothchild Loyola Marymount University Albert W Alschuler Northwestern University School of Law David Scheffer Northwestern University School of Law David Little Harvard Divinity School Matthew Myer Boulton Andover Newton Theological School Mark Lewis Taylor Princeton Theological Seminary Sarah Coakley Cambridge University William Schweiker University of Chicago Divinity School Kevin Jung College of William and Mary Peter J Paris Princeton Theological Seminary W Clark Gilpin University of Chicago Divinity School William C Placher Wabash College

The (Im)possibility of Forgiveness Dion Forster, 2019-09-10 The findings from this study go beyond biblical theological scholarship on forgiveness Dion Forster boldly succeeds in showing that creating conditions for deeper human connection transforms impossibility into possibility and shines a light on the face of the Other who can now be forgiven Pumla Gobodo Madikizela Professor and Research Chair of Historical Trauma and Transformation Stellenbosch University Dion Forster refuses to accept the conclusion that understandings of forgiveness may be so different and complex across social racial and cultural groups in South Africa that actual forgiveness may be impossible Using Matthew 18 15 35 as a meeting ground he gathers ordinary Methodist Christians for cross cultural intergroup Bible reading He draws upon the philosophical integral theory of Ken Wilber the insights of intergroup contact theory and the methods of critical biblical exegesis to organize analyse and understand this encounter What emerges is a hopeful conclusion that differing conceptions of forgiveness its challenges and possibilities can be understood shared and perhaps actualized across social racial and cultural barriers Bruce C Birch Dean and Professor of Biblical Theology Wesley Theological Seminary Reading Dion Forster on the im possibility of forgiveness I was once again struck by our desperate need to learn more about ourselves and one another but also about the meaning of forgiveness in our respective communities This is an excellent example of the potential of Intercultural Bible Reading Forster not only makes an outstanding academic contribution with implications for New Testament studies Systematic and Public Theology but also for flesh and blood communities wrestling with the possibilities and perils of forgiveness Juliana Claassens Professor of Old Testament Studies and Head of Department Chair of the Gender Unit Stellenbosch University This book deals with contested and topical matters Biblical hermeneutics has always been contested how to read and understand Biblical passages Things become even more contested when such passages are read inter culturally they become even more contested when the words are about contested personal and social issues like Jesus words on forgiveness in Matthew 18 Empirical studies like this show how deeply contested such readings truly are in the context of South African churches with their painful histories of division and conflict Future academic work will therefore benefit from the creative and careful methodological approach developed in this study However this book offers much more than academic promise precisely because of the theme so topical today and without doubt topical for a long time to come and in many other places in our contemporary world as well Forster offers resources for reading and conversation for everyone concerned with public life today This is public theology in action showing how faith matters without prescribing answers but rather by invitation to join an informed discussion Dirk J Smit The Rimmer and Ruth deVries Professor of Reformed Theology and Public Life Princeton Theological Seminary Russel Botman Albert Grundlingh, Ruda Landman, Nico Koopman, 2017-10-01 This celebratory volume tells the story of the late Russel Hayman Botman who died suddenly early in his second term as Rector and Vice Chancellor of Stellenbosch University Botman's story is told from his earliest childhood years until his last day as rector The nature of tributes and celebratory volumes is that it can never be exhaustive It tells a rich story from limited perspectives It however serves as invitation stimulus and inspiration to others connected to Botman to also tell their stories about his story The Future of Social Theory Nicholas Gane, 2004-03-02

The basic concept of society has come under attack political acts critical theory new media and even history itself have undermined what we think of as the social The Future of Social Theory brings together new interviews with the world's leading social theorists on what society means today Zygmunt Bauman John Urry Saskia Sassen Bruno Latour Scott Lash Nikolas Rose Judith Butler and Francoise Verges The topics covered include liquid modernization and the individualization of the society the shift towards global forms of chaos and complexity the displacement of the social into global city networks the shift away from a theory of the social to a theory of space the transformation of society with the rise of new technology the continuing influence of historical forms of political power society as a gendered idea and society as a product of Empire

Coming Home to Germany? David Rock, Stefan Wolff, 2002 The end of World War II led to one of the most significant forced population transfers in history the expulsion of over 12 million ethnic Germans from Central and Eastern Europe between 1945 and 1950 and the subsequent emigration of another four million in the second half of the twentieth century Although unprecedented in its magnitude conventional wisdom has it that the integration of refugees expellees and Aussiedler was a largely successful process in postwar Germany While the achievements of the integration process are acknowledged the volume also examines the difficulties encountered by ethnic Germans in the Federal Republic and analyses the shortcomings of dealing with this particular phenomenon of mass migration and its consequences

The Ecstatic Quotidian Jennifer Anna Gosetti-Ferencei, 2010-11 Fascination with quotidian experience in modern art literature and philosophy promotes ecstatic forms of reflection on the very structure of the everyday world Gosetti Ferencei examines the ways in which modern art and literature enable a study of how we experience quotidian life She shows that modernism while exhibiting many strands of development can be understood by investigating how its attentions to perception and expectation to the common quality of things or to childhood play gives way to experiences of ecstasis the stepping outside of the ordinary familiarity of the world While phenomenology grounds this study through Husserl Heidegger Merleau Ponty and Bachelard what makes this book more than a treatise on phenomenological aesthetics is the way in which modernity itself is examined in its relation to the quotidian Through the works of artists and writers such as Benjamin C zanne Frost Klee Newman Pollock Ponge Proust Rilke Robbe Grillet Rothko Sartre and Twombly the world of quotidian life can be seen to harbor a latent ecstasis The breakdown of the quotidian through and after modernism then becomes an urgent question for understanding art and literature in its capacity to further human experience and it points to the limits of phenomenological explications of the everyday Conrad's Shadow Nidesh Lawtoo, 2016-09-01 Western thought has often dismissed shadows as fictional but what if fictions reveal original truths Drawing on an anti Platonic tradition in critical theory Lawtoo adopts ethical anthropological and philosophical lenses to offer new readings of Joseph Conrad s novels and the postcolonial and cinematic works that respond to his oeuvre He argues that Conrad s fascination with doubles urges readers to reflect on the two sides of mimesis one side is dark and pathological and involves the escalation of violence contagious epidemics and catastrophic storms the other side is luminous and therapeutic and promotes communal survival postcolonial reconciliation and plastic adaptations to changing environments Once joined the two sides reveal Conrad as an author whose Janus faced fictions are powerfully relevant to our contemporary world of global violence and environmental crisis Theater in Israel Linda Ben-Zvi, 1996 The first book length investigation of theater and drama in Israel
