Mind In The Cave Consciousness And The Origins Of Art:

Mind in the Cave: Consciousness and the Origins of Art David Lewis-Williams, 2004-04-17 The breathtakingly beautiful art created deep inside the caves of western Europe has the power to dazzle even the most jaded observers Emerging from the narrow underground passages into the chambers of caves such as Lascaux Chauvet and Altamira visitors are confronted with symbols patterns and depictions of bison woolly mammoths ibexes and other animals Since its discovery cave art has provoked great curiosity about why it appeared when and where it did how it was made and what it meant to the communities that created it David Lewis Williams proposes that the explanation for this lies in the evolution of the human mind Cro Magnons unlike the Neanderthals possessed a more advanced neurological makeup that enabled them to experience shamanistic trances and vivid mental imagery It became important for people to fix or paint these images on cave walls which they perceived as the membrane between their world and the spirit world from which the visions came Over time new social distinctions developed as individuals exploited their hallucinations for personal advancement and the first truly modern society emerged Illuminating glimpses into the ancient mind are skillfully interwoven here with the still evolving story of modern day cave discoveries and research The Mind in the Cave is a superb piece of detective work casting light on the darkest mysteries of our earliest ancestors while strengthening our wonder at their aesthetic achievements

The mind in the cave J. David Lewis-Williams, 2002 The breathtakingly beautiful art created deep inside the caves of western Europe has the power to dazzle even the most jaded observers The Mind in the Cave, 2009 Conceiving God: The Cognitive

Origin and Evolution of Religion David Lewis-Williams, 2010-03-01 A controversial exploration of the origin of religion in the neurology of the human brain In this book the noted cognitive archaeologist David Lewis Williams confronts a question that troubles many people in the world today Is there a supernatural realm that intervenes in the material world of daily life and leads to the evolution of religions Professor Lewis Williams first describes how science developed within the cocoon of religion and then shows how the natural functioning of the human brain creates experiences that can lead to belief in a supernatural realm beings and interventions Once people have these experiences they formulate beliefs about them and thus creeds are born Forty thousand years ago people were leaving traces in the archaeological record of activities that we can label religious and Lewis Williams discusses in detail the evidence preserved in the Volp Caves in France He also shows that mental imagery produced by the functioning of the human brain can be detected in widely separated religious communities such as Hildegard of Bingen's in medieval Europe or the San hunters of southern Africa Caves and the Ancient Greek

Mind Yulia Ustinova, 2009-02-12 Caves and the Ancient Greek Mind analyses techniques of searching for ultimate wisdom in ancient Greece The Greeks perceived mental experiences of exceptional intensity as resulting from divine intervention They believed that to share in the immortals knowledge one had to liberate the soul from the burden of the mortal body by attaining an altered state of consciousness that is by merging with a superhuman being or through possession by a deity

These states were often attained by inspired mediums impresarios of the gods prophets poets and sages who descended into caves or underground chambers Yulia Ustinova juxtaposes ancient testimonies with the results of modern neuropsychological research This novel approach enables an examination of religious phenomena not only from the outside but also from the inside it penetrates the consciousness of people who were engaged in the vision quest and demonstrates that the darkness of the caves provided conditions vital for their activities

Unbelievable Graham Ward,2014-09-30 Why believe What kinds of things do people believe in How have they come to believe them And how does what they believe or disbelieve shape their lives and the meaning the world has for them For Graham Ward who is one of the most innovative writers on contemporary religion these questions are more than just academic They go to the heart not only of who but of what we are as human beings Over the last thirty years our understandings of mind and consciousness have changed in important ways through exciting new developments in neuroscience The author addresses this quantum shift by exploring the biology of believing He offers sustained reflection on perception cognition time emotional intelligence knowledge and sensation Though the truth of belief remains under increasing attack in a thoroughly secularised context Ward boldly argues that secularity is itself a form of believing Pointing to the places where prayer and dreams intersect this book offers a remarkable journey through philosophy theology and culture thereby revealing the true nature of the human condition

The Prehistory of Home Jerry D. Moore,2012-04-18 Many animals build shelters but only humans build homes No other species creates such a variety of dwellings Drawing examples from across the archaeological record and around the world archaeologist Jerry D Moore recounts the cultural development of the uniquely human imperative to maintain domestic dwellings He shows how our houses allow us to physically adapt to the environment and conceptually order the cosmos and explains how we fabricate dwellings and in the process construct our lives The Prehistory of Home points out how houses function as symbols of equality or proclaim the social divides between people and how they shield us not only from the elements but increasingly from inchoate fear

In the Mind's Eye Elizabeth Caroline Dodd,2008-09-01 The author of Archetypal Light explores the natural and human history of sites in the American Southwest the caves of southern France the Kansas grasslands and the forests of the Pacific Northwest in a collection of exquisite essays

A Companion to Aesthetics Stephen Davies,Kathleen Marie Higgins,Robert Hopkins,Robert Stecker,David E. Cooper,2009-04-27 A COMPANION TO AESTHETICS This second edition of A Companion to Aesthetics examines questions that were among the earliest discussed by ancient philosophers such as the nature of beauty and the relation between morality and art while also addressing a host of new issues prompted by recent developments in the arts and in philosophy including coverage of non Western art traditions and of everyday and environmental aesthetics The volume also canvases debates regarding the nature of representation the relation between art and truth and the criteria for interpretation which are among the most hotly discussed topics in contemporary philosophy In this extensively revised and updated edition 168 alphabetically arranged articles provide comprehensive treatment of the main topics and writers in aesthetics Major additions include historical overviews from the prehistoric to the present and a section on the individual arts A Companion to Aesthetics will serve students of philosophy literary criticism and cultural studies as well as the educated general reader both as a work of reference and with its many substantial essays as a guide to the best thinking about the arts from the ancient Greeks to the dawn of the twenty first century Art and Architecture of the World's Religions Leslie D. Ross, 2009-06-04 Two abundantly illustrated volumes offer a vibrant discussion of how the divine is and has been represented in art and architecture the world over Beginning with the ancient worlds of Mesopotamia Egypt Greece and Rome and moving forward through time Art and Architecture of the World's Religions explores the major faiths from countries and continents around the globe helping readers better understand the creations their beliefs have inspired After tracing the history and development of a religion the book provides a general overview of its principal beliefs and key practices It then offers specific examples of how works of art architecture reflect that religion's values The focus of each chapter is on the temples churches and religious buildings statues paintings and other works of art and architecture created by believers Each representative work of art or architecture is examined in terms of its history materials symbols colors and patterns as its significance is explained to the reader With extensive illustrations these volumes are the definitive reference work on art and architecture of the world's religions Architectural Exaptation Alessandro Melis, Telmo Pievani, Jose Antonio Lara-Hernandez, 2024-03-29 Architectural Exaptation When Function Follows Form focuses on the significance and the originality of the study of exaptation It presents exaptation as an opportunity to extend architectural design towards more sustainable approaches aimed at enforcing urban resilience The use of exaptation's definition in architecture supports the heuristic value of cross disciplinary studies on biology and architecture which seem even more relevant in times of global environmental crises This book aims to make a critique of the pre-existing and extensive paternalistic literature Exaptation will be described as a functional shift of a structure that already had a prior but different function In architecture a functional shift of a structure that already had a function may apply to forms of decorative elements embedded in architectural components and to both change of function of tectonic elements and the change of use of an architectural space The book is illustrated with examples from around the globe including China Italy Mexico New Zealand the USA and the UK and looks at different civilizations and diverse historical periods ranging from the urban to the architectural scale Such examples highlight the potential and latent human creative capacity to change the use and functions something that cities and buildings could consider when facing disturbances Exaptation is shown as an alternative narrative to the simplifications of evolutionary puritanism It also offers an innovative perspective and presents an opportunity to rethink the manner in which we design and redesign our cities This book will be of interest to architecture planning urban design and biology researchers and students Winner of the Gerd Albers Award 2024 This award is for the best book contribution in the field of Urban Planning and is awarded by International Society of City and Regional Planners ISOCARP

Seeking the Sacred with Psychoactive Substances J. Harold Ellens, 2014-10-28 Can drugs be used intelligently and responsibly to expand human consciousness and heighten spirituality This two volume work presents objective scientific information and personal stories aiming to answer the question The first of its kind this intriguing two volume set objectively reports on and assesses this modern psycho social movement in world culture the constructive medical use of entheogens and related mind altering substances Covering the use of substances such as ayahuasca cannabis LSD peyote and psilocybin the work seeks to illuminate the topic in a scholarly and scientific fashion so as to lift the typical division between those who are supporters of research and exploration of entheogens and those who are strongly opposed to any such experimentation altogether The volumes address the history and use of mind altering drugs in medical research and religious practice in the endeavor to expand and heighten spirituality and the sense of the divine providing unbiased coverage of the relevant arguments and controversies regarding the subject matter Chapters include examinations of how psychoactive agents are used to achieve altered states in Judaism Christianity Islam and Buddhism as well as in the rituals of shamanism and other less widely known faiths This highly readable work will appeal to everyone from high school students to seasoned professors in both the secular world and in devoted church groups and religious colleges The Seven Pillars of Creation William P. Brown, 2010-02-26 In their highly selective and literal reading of Scripture creationists champion a rigidly reductionistic view of creation in their fight against soulless scientism Conversely many scientists find faith in God to be a dangerous impediment in the empirical quest for knowledge As a result of this ongoing debate many people of faith feel forced to choose between evolution and the Bible s story of creation But as William Brown asks which biblical creation story are we talking about Brown shows that through a close reading of biblical texts no fewer than seven different biblical perspectives on creation can be identified By examining these perspectives Brown illuminates both connections and conflicts between the ancient creation traditions and the natural sciences arguing for a new way of reading the Bible in light of current scientific knowledge and with consideration of the needs of the environment In Brown s argument both scientific inquiry and theological reflection are driven by a sense of wonder which in his words unites the scientist and the psalmist Brown s own wonder at the beauty and complexity of the created world is evident throughout this intelligent well written and inspirational book Visual Literacy James Elkins, 2009-09-11 What does it mean to be visually literate Does it mean different things in the arts and the sciences In the developed West or in developing nations This groundbreaking collection explores what impact the new concept of visual literacy has on art history The Handbook of Contemporary Animism Graham Harvey, 2014-09-11 The Handbook of Contemporary Animism brings together an international team of scholars to examine the full range of animist worldviews and practices The volume opens with an examination of recent approaches to animism This is followed by evaluations of ethnographic cognitive literary performative and material culture approaches as well as advances in activist and indigenous thinking about animism This handbook will be invaluable to students and scholars of

Religion Sociology and Anthropology     Belief in the Past David S Whitley, Kelley Hays-Gilpin, 2016-09-16 Human actions are often deeply intertwined with religion and can be understood in a strictly religious context Yet many volumes and articles pertaining to discussions of religion in the archaeological past have focused primarily on the sociopolitical implications of such remains The authors in this volume argue that while these interpretations certainly have a meaningful place in understanding the human past they provide only part of the picture Because strictly religious contexts have often been ignored this has resulted in an incomplete assessment of religious behavior in the past This volume considers exciting new directions for considering an archaeology of religion offering examples from theory tangible archaeological remains and ethnography     The Archaeology of Darkness Marion Dowd, Robert Hensey, 2016-05-31 Through time people have lived with darkness Archaeology shows us that over the whole human journey people have sought out dark places for burials for votive deposition and sometimes for retreat or religious ritual away from the wider community Thirteen papers explore Palaeolithic use of deep caves in Europe and the orientation of mortuary monuments in the Neolithic and Bronze Age It examines how the senses are affected in caves and monuments that were used for ritual activities from Bronze Age miners in Wales working in dangerous subterranean settings to initiands in Italian caves to a modern caver's experience of spending time in the one of the world's deepest caves in Russia We see how darkness was and is viewed at northern latitudes where parts of the year are spent in eternal night and in Easter Island where darkness provided communal refuge from the pervasive sun We know that spending extended periods in darkness and silence can affect one physically emotionally and spiritually How did interactions between people and darkness affect individuals in the past and how were regarded by their communities And how did this interaction transform places in the landscape As the ever increasing electrification of the planet steadily minimizes the amount of darkness in our lives curiously darkness is coming more into focus This first collection of papers on the subject begins a conversation about the role of darkness in human experience through time

Archaeology with Art Helen Chittock, Joana Valdez-Tullett, 2016-12-12 Based on a 2013 Theoretical Archaeology Group TAG conference session this book aims to merge the perspectives of artists and archaeologists on making art It explores the relationship between archaeology and art practice the interactions between materials and practitioners and the processes that result in the objects and images we call art     The Life of Imagination Jennifer Anna Gosetti-Ferencei, 2018-10-30

Imagination allows us to step out of the ordinary but also to transform it through our sense of wonder and play artistic inspiration and innovation or the eureka moment of a scientific breakthrough In this book Jennifer Anna Gosetti Ferencei offers a groundbreaking new understanding of its place in everyday experience as well as the heights of creative achievement The Life of Imagination delivers a new conception of imagination that places it at the heart of our engagement with the world thinking acting feeling making and being Gosetti Ferencei reveals imagination's roots in embodied human cognition and its role in shaping our cognitive ecology She demonstrates how imagination arises from our material engagements with the world and at the same time endows us with the sense of an inner life how it both allows us to escape from reality and aids us in better understanding it Drawing from philosophy cognitive science evolutionary anthropology developmental psychology literary theory and aesthetics Gosetti Ferencei engages a spectacular range of examples from ordinary thought processes and actions to artistic scientific and literary feats to argue that like consciousness itself imagination resists reductive explanation The Life of Imagination offers a vital account of transformative thinking that shows how imagination will be essential in cultivating a future conducive to human flourishing and to that of the life around us

Thinking Big: How the Evolution of Social Life Shaped the Human Mind Robin Dunbar, Clive Gamble, John Gowlett, 2014-06-17 A closer look at genealogy incorporating how biological anthropological and technical factors can influence human lives We are at a pivotal moment in understanding our remote ancestry and its implications for how we live today The barriers to what we can know about our distant relatives have been falling as a result of scientific advance such as decoding the genomes of humans and Neanderthals and bringing together different perspectives to answer common questions These collaborations have brought new knowledge and suggested fresh concepts to examine The results have shaken the old certainties The results are profound not just for the study of the past but for appreciating why we conduct our social lives in ways and at scales that are familiar to all of us But such basic familiarity raises a dilemma When surrounded by the myriad technical and cultural innovations that support our global urbanized lifestyles we can lose sight of the small social worlds we actually inhabit and that can be traced deep into our ancestry So why do we need art religion music kinship myths and all the other facets of our over active imaginations if the reality of our effective social worlds is set by a limit of some one hundred and fifty partners Dunbar's number made of family friends and useful acquaintances How could such a social community lead to a city the size of London or a country as large as China Do we really carry our hominin past into our human present It is these small worlds and the link they allow to the study of the past that forms the central point in this book
