Remember: The names of the different regions in geography are often confused. It is not right to say only one country, although you can discuss all of them and explain that we are talking about a continent. Please don't be worried that writing the regions in capital letters is not right. The only capital letters are spelling in words. There is no right or wrong about the way you write the names of countries unless you are writing them in a special way.

The Mind of Africa Abraham, W.E., 2015-06-12 William Abraham studied Philosophy at the University of Ghana and even more Philosophy at Oxford University Thereafter he gained permission to take part in the competitive examination and interview for a fellowship at All Souls College The examination was once described with some exaggeration as the hardest exam in the world It included a three hour essay Following his success in becoming the first African fellow of All Souls his interest in African politics quickly developed into a Pan African perspective The Mind of Africa written while he was still at All Souls was a fruit of that enlarged perspective After several years as a Fellow he had occasion to visit Ghana in 1962 There Kwame Nkrumah then President of Ghana successfully persuaded him to return to Ghana to teach at the University of Ghana Legon and he subsequently resigned from All Souls In 1968 he went to the United States as a visiting professor This was followed by invitations to teach at various academic institutions there including Berkeley and Stanford He subsequently settled in California where he continued to teach and research philosophy in the University of California at Santa Cruz until his retirement The Mind of Africa appeared at a time when a number of African countries were obtaining or fighting for their political freedom from their colonial rulers and becoming independent nations and expecting to build new societies in accordance with their own visions and conceptions though not necessarily jettisoning all the features of their colonial heritage Building new societies requires appropriate ideologies and philosophies fashioned within the crucible of their cultural and historical experiences Thus the relation between ideology and society is taken up at the very outset of the book The Mind of Africa is important for Africa s future and identity
