Evidence-Based Practice Liz Trinder, 2008-04-30 Evidence based practice is an idea whose time has come Few concepts can have achieved the status of unchallengeable common sense in such a short space of time and across such a broad range of professional activity As yet there have been few opportunities to take stock and reflect on the evidence for evidence based practice or the implications of its adoption How effective or feasible is it in medicine Is it really different What are the consequences of not basing practice on research Can evidence based practice be used in non clinical settings where practitioners must deal with the complexity of multi problem individuals families and organizations This text introduces the key concept of Evidence Based Practice and accounts for its emergence and rapid expansion within and beyond medicine It then goes on to describe how evidence based practice is being translated in key areas medicine nursing mental health education and social welfare while critically appraising the strengths and weaknesses of evidence based practice as it applies in a range of fields of professional practice Power and Conflict Between Doctors and Nurses Maureen A.

Coombs, 2004-02-24 Through observations in three intensive care units this book draws on the reality of practice to explore how nurses and doctors work in intensive care settings It examines the power held by the competing knowledge bases the roles of the different professions the decision making process the sources of conflict the need for change Drawing together sociological theories and clinical practice Power and Conflict Between Doctors and Nurses explores the role of nurses in delivering contemporary health care It makes a strong case for interdisciplinary working and is particularly timely when health care policy is challenging work boundaries in health care Birthing in the Pacific Vicki Lukere, Margaret

Jolly, 2001-11-30 This collection explores birthing in the Pacific against the background of debates about tradition and modernity A wide ranging introduction and conclusion together with case studies from Papua New Guinea New Caledonia Vanuatu Fiji and Tonga show how simple contrasts between traditional and modern practices technocratic and organic models of childbirth indigenous and foreign approaches and notions of before and after can be potent but problematic The difficulties entailed confront public health programs concerned with practical issues of infant and maternal survival in developing countries as well as scholarly analyses of birthing in cross cultural contexts The introduction analyzes central concepts and themes questions of survival safety and well being the significance of postures practices and sites the role of midwives traditional birth attendants and nurses and the role of men in birthing and reproduction Contributors four anthropologists a historian and a community health worker offer insights into the ways mothers midwives and nurses relate the traditional and the modern and how ideas of tradition and modernity have shaped representations of Pacific childbirth

The conclusion provides researchers with a guide to relevant literature from several disciplines As a whole the collection warns against either a celebration of emancipation through biomedicine or a recuperative romance about women s past powers in reproduction Contributors Ruta Fiti Sinclair Margaret Jolly Vicki Lukere Shelley Mallett Helen Morton Christine Salomon
