Entrepreneurship, Innovation, and Economic Development Adam Szirmai, Wim Naudé, Micheline Goedhuys, 2011-04-28 Entrepreneurship and innovation are two of the most pervasive concepts of our times yet there are still gaps in our understanding of the interactions between entrepreneurship and innovation particularly in developing countries This book is an attempt to fill this gap It focuses on the entrepreneurship innovation development nexus drawing heavily on empirical evidence from developing countries Cross country and individual country experiences cover nations as diverse as Ethiopia India Turkey Vietnam and also examine lessons from advanced economies such as Finland Three sets of questions are addressed What is the impact of entrepreneurship and innovation on growth and development What determines the innovative performance of entrepreneurs in developing countries What role does the institutional environment play in shaping the extent and impact of innovative activities A key message is that entrepreneurial innovation whether through small firms large national firms or multinational firms is often vibrant in developing countries but does not always realise its full potential This is due to institutional constraints the absence of the appropriate mix of different types of small and large and domestic and foreign firms and insufficiently developed firm capabilities The contributions provide a better understanding of the determinants and impacts of innovation in developing countries and the policies and institutions that support or hinder innovation

Growth Policy in the Age of High Technology Jurgen Schmandt, Robert Wilson, 2018-03-29 Originally published in 1990 this book provides an authoritative and detailed account of the initiatives of

US state governments with science and technology programs designed to foster economic growth Two key questions are posed Do state governments have policy instruments that are sufficiently powerful to affect the levels and growth rates of their regional economies and Are national and global economic forces so powerful that they render state action ineffective Several subsidiary themes are discussed in this context namely the most commonly used policy instruments the impacts on federalism and on governance and how well the universities and other educational institutions serve the economic activities imposed on them

Continuities in Sociological Human Ecology Michael Micklin, Dudley L. Poston, 2013-11-11 The completion of this volume would not have been possible without the generous and dedicated help of numerous people The book had its genesis in a conference held at Cornell University in the fall of 1990 that was organized by Dudley Poston Paul Eberts and Michael Hannan all professors at the time at Cornell With the very generous financial assistance of David Call then the dean of Cornell's College of Agriculture and Life Sciences Poston Eberts and Hannan put together a two day conference of lectures and papers by human ecologists from Cornell University and elsewhere The conference focused on sociological human ecology and celebrated the fortieth anniversary of the publication of Amos Hawley's Human Ecology Ronald Press 1950 Professor Hawley was the keynote speaker at the conference Many of the authors of the chapters in this volume presented earlier versions at the Cornell conference in 1990 Cornell's Departments of Rural Sociology and Sociology also contributed financial assistance however without Dean Call's very generous support the conference would not have been possible A few months after the conference Poston and Michael Micklin discussed the possibility of asking the various authors of the Cornell conference papers to revise them for publication in a volume on sociological human ecology Many opted to do so but others did not because of time and other kinds of commitments and constraints
