Dressing for Austerity

Geraldine Biddle-Perry, 2017-04-30 A new look for Austerity The coldest winter on record rationing successive economic crises bombed out towns and cities with some justification Austerity Britain in the late 1940s is coloured in the popular imagination in tones of drab Dressing for Austerity shines a light on alternative visions of post war optimism and aspiration It traces how set against the Labour government's philosophy of Austerity by design in a climate of post war idealism the desire for affordable fashionable clothing access to leisure and the health time and money to enjoy them became totemic symbols of post war ambition that impelled new strategies of state control and consumer agency The book examines the immediate post war period its politics its fashions and its people in new ways and on its own terms as a critical tipping point in the making of modern Britain

Buying Power Lawrence B. Glickman, 2009-06-10 A definitive history of consumer activism Buying Power traces the lineage of this political tradition back to our nation's founding revealing that Americans used purchasing power to support causes and punish enemies long before the word boycott even entered our lexicon Taking the Boston Tea Party as his starting point Lawrence Glickman argues that the rejection of British imports by revolutionary patriots inaugurated a continuous series of consumer boycotts campaigns for safe and ethical consumption and efforts to make goods more broadly accessible He explores abolitionist led efforts to eschew slave made goods African American consumer campaigns against Jim Crow a 1930s refusal of silk from fascist Japan and emerging contemporary movements like slow food Uncovering previously unknown episodes and analyzing famous events from a fresh perspective Glickman illuminates moments when consumer activism intersected with political and civil rights movements He also sheds new light on activists relationship with the consumer movement which gave rise to lobbies like the National Consumers League and Consumers Union as well as ill fated legislation to create a federal Consumer Protection Agency
