Poetry of the Desert Elizabeth Howe,2008 Here First Arnold Krupat,Brian Swann,2000-06-13 Here First is an important new collection of essays by Native American writers compiled by Arnold Krupat

and Brian Swann the editors of I Tell You Now Autobiographical Essays by Native American Writers In Here First authors such as Sherman Alexie Greg Sarris and Elizabeth Woody tell the stories of their lives and their art Each essay demonstrates the breadth of experience of twenty seven individuals united in the creative expression of a Native American heritage Each has a different relation to that heritage and in describing it through personal and family history with verse and in anecdotes the writers give a strong image of the different cultures that have shaped them This is living history and the kind of collective memoir that makes for fascinating and rewarding reading one of the most vivid and diverse portraits of Native American culture available today Disruptive Voices and the Singularity of Histories Regna Darnell, Frederic W. Gleach, 2019-11-01

Histories of Anthropology Annual presents diverse perspectives on the discipline's history within a global context with a goal of increasing awareness and use of historical approaches in teaching learning and conducting anthropology The series includes critical comparative analytical and narrative studies involving all aspects and subfields of anthropology Volume 13 Disruptive Voices and the Singularity of Histories explores the interplay of identities and scholarship through the history of anthropology with a special section examining fieldwork predecessors and indigenous communities in Native North America Individual contributions explore the complexity of women's history indigenous history national traditions and oral histories to juxtapose what we understand of the past with its present continuities These contributions include Sharon Lindenburger's examination of Franz Boas and his navigation with Jewish identity Kathy M Closkey's documentation of Navajo weavers and their struggles with cultural identities and economic resources and demands and Mindy Morgan's use of the text of Ruth Underhill's O'odham study to capture the voices of three generations of women ethnographers Because this work bridges anthropology and history a richer and more varied view of the past emerges through the meticulous narratives of anthropologists and their unique fieldwork ultimately providing competing points of access to social dynamics This volume examines events at both macro and micro levels documenting the impact large scale historical events have had on particular individuals and challenging the uniqueness of a single interpretation of the same facts Walking to Magdalena Seth Schermerhorn, 2019 In Walking to Magdalena Seth Schermerhorn explores a question that is central to the interface of religious studies and Native American and indigenous studies What have Native peoples made of Christianity By focusing on the annual pilgrimage of the Tohono O'odham to Magdalena in Sonora Mexico Schermerhorn examines how these indigenous people of southern Arizona have made Christianity their own This walk serves as the entry point for larger questions about what the Tohono O'odham have made of Christianity With scholarly rigor and passionate empathy Schermerhorn offers a deep understanding of Tohono O'odham Christian traditions as practiced in everyday life and in the words of the O'odham themselves The author's rich ethnographic description and analyses are also drawn from his experiences accompanying a group of O'odham walkers on their pilgrimage to Saint Francis in Magdalena For many years scholars have agreed that the journey to Magdalena is the largest and most significant event in the annual cycle of Tohono O'odham Christianity Never before however has it been the subject of sustained scholarly inquiry Walking to Magdalena offers insight into religious life and expressive culture relying on extensive field study videotaped and transcribed oral histories of the O odham and archival research The book illuminates indigenous theories of personhood and place in the everyday life narratives songs and material culture of the Tohono O odham

Kinnahan, 2016-06-20 A History of Twentieth Century American Women's Poetry explores the genealogy of modern American verse by women from the early twentieth century to the millennium Beginning with an extensive introduction that charts important theoretical contributions to the field this History includes wide ranging essays that illuminate the legacy of American women poets Organized thematically these essays survey the multilayered verse of such diverse poets as Edna St Vincent Millay Marianne Moore Anne Sexton Adrienne Rich and Audre Lorde Written by a host of leading scholars this History also devotes special attention to the lasting significance of feminist literary criticism This book is of pivotal importance to the development of women's poetry in America and will serve as an invaluable reference for specialists and students alike When It Rains Ofelia Zepeda, 2019-02-26 When it was first released in 1982 When It Rains was one of the earliest published literary works in the Oodham language Speakers from across generations shared poems that showcased the aesthetic of the written word and aimed to spread interest in reading and writing in Oodham The poems capture brief moments of beauty the loving bond between family members and a deep appreciation of Tohono Oodham culture and traditions as well as reverent feelings about the landscape and wildlife native to the Southwest A motif of rain and water is woven throughout the poetry in When It Rains tying in the collection's title to the importance of this life giving and sustaining resource to the Tohono O'odham people. With the poems in both O'odham and English the volume serves as an important reminder of the beauty and changeability of the O'odham language. The themes and experiences expressed by the language educators in this volume capture still rural community life: children are still bussed for miles to school and parents still have hours long daily commutes to work. The Sonoran Desert also remains an important part of daily life: seasons rain on desert plants and sacred mountains serve as important markers. In a new foreword to the volume Sun Tracks editor Ofelia Zepeda reflects on how meaningful this volume was when it was first published and its continued importance. Things have changed but many things remain the same, writes Zepeda. The pieces in this collection will be meaningful to many still. Indigenous

Poetics Inés Hernández-Ávila, Molly McGlennen, 2025-04-01 Indigenous Poetics is a collection of essays by contemporary Native American poets in the United States who explore how the genre helps to radically understand, contemplate, and realize something deeper about ourselves, our communities, and our worlds. The collection illuminates the creative process, identity, language, and the making of poetry. The contributors tell us in their own words and on their own Indigenous terms how they engage poetic expression as one would a tool, a teacher, a guide, a map, or a friend. Indigenous Poetics reveals poetry's crucial role in the flourishing of Native American and Indigenous Studies.
