Pioneer Gardens At Black Creek Pioneer Village:

Pioneer Gardens at Black Creek Pioneer Village Eustella Langdon, 1972 Black Creek Pioneer Village Helma Mika, Nick Mika, Gary Thompson, 2000-05-15 Black Creek Pioneer Village Toronto's Living History Village is a recreation of a typical crossroads community found in Southern Ontario during the 1800s. Nestled on 56 acres of tranquility, the village is a step back in time, a respite from the towering buildings and bustling traffic of the 21st century. Here visitors discover the joys and daily realities of living in early Ontario. Here at the village, the sights, sounds, and smells are tangible reminders of our past. Meet the blacksmith, the tinsmith, the weaver, the miller, the printer. Meet the people who live at Black Creek and bring our yesteryears to life. Algonquin Park Dave Taylor, 1994-06-30 Through his vivid text based on extensive research, Dave Taylor shares his growing understanding of Algonquin's place in the scheme of things. After reading this book, you will never see the park in quite the same way again. Craft of the Dyer Karen Leigh Casselman, 2013-02-19 Here is a complete guide to making your own dye from a wide variety of plants, acorn to zinnia. Covers dyeing procedures, mordants, preparing fibers, every step. List of suppliers. Bibliography. Early Canadian Gardening Eileen Woodhead, 1998-08-31 Reproducing a rare 1827 plant and seed catalogue, possibly the earliest extant catalogue of its kind in Canada, Early Canadian Gardening presents an extensive range of garden plants, trees, shrubs, fruits, and flowers that were grown for food, medicines, and dyestuffs, as well as ornamental purposes. Eileen Woodhead provides a detailed description and brief history of the cultivation and use of each plant up to the present day. Most of the descriptions are accompanied by detailed drawings by the author, who found and grew many of the original varieties in the catalogue. The book provides a valuable account of the business of horticulture in the first decades of the nineteenth century, the practices of importers, merchants, farms, and households, placing it within the broader context of social history. It includes an appendix of historic sites and botanical gardens in Ontario, as well as sources for heritage seeds. Early Canadian Gardening is a ground-breaking account of the practice and significance of horticulture during the period of settlement in Upper Canada and stands as a remarkable work of historical botany. It will be an invaluable source document for horticulturists and botanists, historians, and garden enthusiasts with an interest in heritage plants. Flora's Fieldworkers Ann Shteir, 2022-08-09 When Catharine Parr Traill came to Upper Canada in 1832 as a settler from England, she brought along with her ties to British botanical culture. Nonetheless, when she arrived, she encountered a new natural landscape, and like other women chronicled in this book, set out to advance the botanical knowledge of the time from the Canadian field. Flora's Fieldworkers employs biography, botanical data, herbaria specimens, archival sources, letters, institutional records, book history, and abundant artwork to reconstruct the ways in which women studied and understood plants in the nineteenth century. It features figures ranging from elite women involved in imperial botanical projects in British North America to settler colonial women in Ontario and Australia, most of whom were scarcely visible in the historical record, who were active in plant work as collectors, writers, artists, craft workers, teachers, and organizers Understood as an appropriate pastime for genteel ladies botany offered women pathways to scientific education financial autonomy and self expression The call for more diverse voices in the present must look to the past as well Bringing botany to historians and historians to botany Flora s Fieldworkers gathers compelling material about women in colonial and imperial Canada and Australia to take a new look at how we came to know what we know about plants Bulletin -

Canadian Library Association Canadian Library Association,1972 Canadian Library Journal ,1972 Pioneer Woman Elizabeth Thompson,1991-03-01 Elizabeth Thompson develops the idea of the pioneer woman as an archetypal character firmly entrenched in Canadian fiction and the Canadian consciousness Thompson s broad definition of the concept of pioneer can be seen to reflect the history of Canadian women starting with the pioneers of settlement and continuing through the pioneers of spiritual perfection and psychological liberation Various versions of the pioneer woman have appeared in English Canadian fiction since Traill s development of the character type Sara Jeannette Duncan s The Imperialist and Ralph Connor s The Man From Glengarry and Glengarry School Days feature pioneer women who cope not only with physical frontiers but also with those grounded in social and personal concerns More recently Margaret Laurence used this character type in The Stone Angel A Jest of God and The Diviners with characters who inhabit internal personal frontiers Thompson argues that the longevity of this character type in English Canadian fiction reveals an affinity between the pioneer woman and a common conception of the role of women in Canadian society She suggests that the role for women proposed by the early immigrants was an appropriate choice for the Canadian frontier regardless of the location and nature of that frontier Toronto Howard Akler,Sarah B.
