important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant Biographical Sketches of the Pioneer Preachers of Indiana Madison Evans, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1862 edition Excerpt indomitable Roman who said Viam aut veniam aut faciam I will either find a way or make a way These will think that Elder Emmons ought to have found a Christian church or built up one but they must not charge him too hastily with unfaithfulness His fault seems to have been chiefly lack of energy the very head and front of his offending hath this extent no more That he has not denied the faith is clearly established by indubitable testimony In a letter to J M Mathes he himself says In uniting as I did with the First Baptist church in Boston in 1843 I renounced no Reformation principle that I ever held The pastor of that church Dr Neale says of him His reception into my church was owing to my knowledge of his character as a Christian and not to any sympathy with the peculiar speculative notions in which it was somewhat natural for him to indulge For these peculiar notions and theological speculations says Elder E in his letter to Elder Mathes or for the faith and teaching contained in them has my name been cast out as evil I have been looked upon as a speckled bird having had no call and no pastoral charge in any Baptist church since 1830 So for my Reformation principles nicknamed Campbellism for their avowal and advocacy I have been still am and expect to be a living martyr He acknowledges no creed but the Bible preaches no baptism but that for the remission of sins employs his pen in support of no faith but that once delivered to the saints and wherever in his travels he meets with a congregation of Disciples with them he fraternizes advocating their cause He is still to be regarded
