Pioneer Settlement in the Asiatic Tropics Karl J. Pelzer, 1948      Pioneer Settlement in the Asiatic Tropics Karl Josef Pelzer, 1845      Pioneer Settlement in the Asiatic Tropics Karl Josef Pelzer, 1948      Cutting Across the Lands Eveline Ferretti, 2018-05-31 An annotated bibliography focused on Borneo and the Southern Philippines With over 1 000 citations this reference work identifies patterns of forestland transformation common to the areas under consideration A subject index is included      Modern Colonization R.J. Harrison Church, 2025-10-01 First published in 1951 Modern Colonization breaks new ground in British geographical literature since it aims at outlining the geographical factors in colonization particularly that of the tropics French geographers have contributed much to what they have termed colonial geography but this is the first British study and follows a plan different from that of any French writer The first chapters review the unfortunate lack of our work in this field and define the content of the subject geographical factors in the evolution of past and present empires are briefly summarized Succeeding chapters are devoted to the physical social and economic geography of colonization including colonial transport Finally some political aspects are reviewed such as colonial frontiers and colonies in world strategy      Behind the Postcolonial Abidin Kusno, 2014-04-04 In Behind the Postcolonial Abidin Kusno shows how colonial representations have been revived and rearticulated in postcolonial Indonesia The book shows how architecture and urban space can be seen both historically and theoretically as representations of political and cultural tendencies that characterize an emerging as well as a declining social order It addresses the complex interactions between public memories of the present and past between images of global urban cultures and the concrete historical meanings of the local It shows how one might write a political history of postcolonial architecture and urban space that recognizes the political cultures of the present without neglecting the importance of the colonial past In the process it poses serious questions for the analysis and understanding of postcolonial states      Pacific Affairs , 1945 Includes book reviews and bibliographies      Routledge Handbook of Southeast Asian Economics Ian Coxhead, 2014-12-17 The Routledge Handbook of Southeast Asian Economics offers new insights into the rapidly developing economies of Southeast Asia Despite widespread initial deprivation Southeast Asia has achieved and sustained a remarkable rate of growth in the course of which tens of millions have successfully escaped severe poverty Though the economies of the region vary in many dimensions integration into the wider East Asian network of production and trade is a notable common feature one that continues a centuries long history of engagement with global trade A second striking feature is the pace and extent of transformation in the structure of production and in sources of household income in the region which has undergone remarkably rapid industrialization and urban growth However the search for sustained and sustainable growth through and beyond middle income continues to confront pressing economic and policy challenges This Handbook offers a timely and comprehensive overview of Southeast Asian economic development Organized according to the logic of chronological and thematic unity it is structured in these sections Growth and development over the long term Food agriculture and natural resources Trade investment and industrialization Population labor and human capital Poverty and political economy Twenty first century challenges This original Handbook written by experts in their fields is unique in the breadth and depth of its coverage Its forward looking perspective renders it relevant both now and in the future This advanced level reference work will be essential reading for students researchers and scholars of Asian Studies Economics and Southeast Asian studies

Routledge Handbook of the Environment in Southeast Asia Philip Hirsch,2016-09-13 The environment is one of the defining issues of our times and it is closely linked to questions and dilemmas surrounding economic development Southeast Asia is one of the world s most economically and demographically dynamic regions and it is also one in which a host of environmental issues raise themselves The Routledge Handbook of the Environment in Southeast Asia is a collection of 30 chapters dealing with the most significant scholarly debates in this rapidly growing field of study Structured in four main parts it gives a comprehensive regional overview of and insight into the environment in Southeast Asia Wide ranging and balanced this handbook promotes scholarly understanding of how environmental issues are dealt with from diverse theoretical perspectives It offers a detailed empirical understanding of the myriad environmental problems and challenges faced in Southeast Asia This is the first publication of its kind in this field a helpful companion for a global audience and for scholars of Southeast Asian studies from a variety of disciplines

End of Innocence? Andree Feillard,2013-08-01 Long cited as a model of harmonious cohabitation between different religions the most populous Muslim country in the world until recently occupied a special place in the Western imagination Indonesia home to a peaceful version of Islam offered a reassuring counter model to a rowdy and accusatory Arab Islam Since 1999 however confrontations between Christians and Muslims in the Moluccas excesses of vigilantism in Sulawesi and especially the Bali and Jakarta bombings have shattered these simplistic stereotypes For many terrorism experts often self proclaimed Indonesia s mutation confirmed the hackneyed thesis that equated obscurantism with Islam and saw violent outbreaks as an inevitable consequence

Deforestation in the Postwar Philippines David M. Kummer,1992-06 The only quantitative deforestation study to focus on one country this case analysis of the Philippines since 1946 yields more concrete data than previous cross national studies David Kummer s close examination of the interactions among political economic and cultural factors and their environmental consequences sheds light on similar situations in other countries

Media and Nation Building John Postill,2006-05-01 With the end of the Cold War and the proliferation of civil wars and regime changes the question of nation building has acquired great practical and theoretical urgency From Eastern Europe to East Timor Afghanistan and recently Iraq the United States and its allies have often been accused of shirking their nation building responsibilities as their attention and that of the media turned to yet another regional crisis While much has been written about the growing influence of television and the Internet on modern warfare little is known about the relationship between media and nation building This book explores for the first time this relationship by means of a paradigmatic case of successful nation building Malaysia Based on extended fieldwork and historical research the author follows the diffusion adoption and social uses of media among the Iban of Sarawak in Malaysian Borneo and demonstrates the wide ranging process of nation building that has accompanied the Iban adoption of radio clocks print media and television In less than four decades Iban longhouses villages under one roof have become media organizations shaped by the official ideology of Malaysia a country hastily formed in 1963 by conjoining four disparate territories

The Politics of Islamic Reassertion (RLE Politics of Islam) Mohammed Ayoob, 2014-03-26 The Iranian Revolution has catalysed the preconceptions holding sway in the Western World about the character of Islam and its politics based as they are on a mixture of imagined cultural superiority and a latent fear of a resurgence similar to the Arab conquests of the seventh and eighth centuries of the long Ottoman domination of Eastern Europe This book constitutes a counterweight to such monolithic perceptions of Islam It surveys the nature of opinion and of government in the larger Muslim regions of the world and the position of Muslims in states where they are not the dominant population Each contributor expresses his own assessment of the regional data and the editor's concluding chapter draws together the threads of a work which will form an important contribution to international understanding and a first breach in the Green Curtain dividing East and West First published in 1981

Report on the Iban Derek Freedman, 2021-01-07 The Iban or the Sea Dayaks of Sarawak have probably been the best known of the indigenous peoples of Borneo for well over a century Much has been written about them but until the results of Dr Freeman's field research were published by the Government of Sarawak and by Her Majesty's Stationery Office in 1955 there was little information on their methods of agriculture and their social system The book has become a landmark in the studies of shifting cultivation and of cognatic kinship organization and the ideas around which it is written have proved over the years to be a continuing and powerful stimulus in the development of kinship theory The field work on which the account is based was undertaken from 1949 to 1951 Although fundamental changes have taken place in the life of the Iban since the book was first published it has been decided to republish it substantially unaltered

Agricultural Change and Peasant Choice in a Thai Village Michael Moerman, 2023-09-01 This study examines the agricultural practices and decision making processes of a small Tai Lue village in northern Thailand focusing on the period from 1959 to 1961 with a follow up visit in 1965 Conducted through anthropological fieldwork the research involved living among villagers learning their language and participating in their daily life The primary aim was to understand how villagers in Ban Ping made farming decisions with a specific interest in their adoption of new agricultural technologies such as tractors which had significantly changed rice cultivation by 1960 By concentrating on the local culturally informed perspectives of the villagers the study seeks to provide insights into the factors that influence farming choices within the community The analysis explores the complexities of farming decisions through two perspectives rational decision making processes related to technology and broader social factors tied to the village s extracommunity relations The methodological approach involves a detailed systematic examination of how decisions were made in 1960 with subsequent insights from the 1965 field trip reserved for the study s final chapter to maintain the integrity of the initial analysis By doing so the research attempts to reveal the processes through which farmers select among different agricultural practices emphasizing the importance of understanding localized decision making in efforts to improve agricultural development and economic policies This work is intended not only for ethnographers studying agricultural practices but also for those involved in economic development offering a grounded perspective on the technological and social dynamics of rural communities The study reflects the author s engagement with development work in Thailand drawing on experiences with various international and Thai organizations The research benefits from the support of local Thai officials community members and academic institutions whose cooperation made it possible to document the nuanced interactions between tradition technology and economic change in Ban Ping This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1968     First Islanders Peter Bellwood,2017-03-14 Incorporating research findings over the last twenty years First Islanders examines the human prehistory of Island Southeast Asia This fascinating story is explored from a broad swathe of multidisciplinary perspectives and pays close attention to migration in the period dating from 1.5 million years ago to the development of Indic kingdoms late in the first millennium CE     Consolidated Review of Current Information United States. Department of the Treasury. Library,1946     Agents of Apocalypse Ken De Bevoise,1995-01-03 As waves of epidemic disease swept the Philippines in the late nineteenth century some colonial physicians began to fear that the indigenous population would be wiped out Many Filipinos interpreted the contagions as a harbinger of the Biblical Apocalypse Though the direct forebodings went unfulfilled Philippine morbidity and mortality rates were the world s highest during the period 1883-1903 In Agents of Apocalypse Ken De Bevoise shows that those mourning years resulted from a conjunction of demographic economic technological cultural and political processes that had been building for centuries The story is one of unintended consequences fraught with tragic irony De Bevoise uses the Philippine case study to explore the extent to which humans participate in creating their epidemics Interpreting the archival record with conceptual guidance from the health sciences he sets tropical disease in a historical framework that views people as interacting with rather than acting within their total environment The complexity of cause effect and agency structure relationships is thereby highlighted Readers from fields as diverse as Spanish American and Philippine history medical anthropology colonialism international relations Asian studies and ecology will benefit from De Bevoise s insights into the interdynamics of historical processes that connect humans and their diseases
