Pioneers Of The San Juan Country Volume 3:

Women Pioneers of Public Education J. Herbst, 2008-11-10 The book narrates the story of how the school founded by women pioneers of public education in a Rocky Mountain mining settlement became the centre and sustaining force of the town's community life from its beginning in the 1870s to the present day River of Lost Souls Jonathan P. Thompson, 2018-03-06 A vivid historical account Thompson shines in giving a sense of what it means to love a place that has been designated a sacrifice zone PUBLISHERS WEEKLY Award winning investigative environmental journalist Jonathan P. Thompson digs into the science politics and greed behind the 2015 Gold King Mine disaster and unearths a litany of impacts wrought by a century and a half of mining energy development and fracking in southwestern Colorado Amid these harsh realities Thompson explores how a new generation is setting out to make amends JONATHAN THOMPSON is a native Westerner with deep roots in southwestern Colorado He has been an environmental journalist focusing on the American West since he signed on as reporter and photographer at the Silverton Standard the Miner newspaper in 1996 He has worked and written for High Country News for over a decade serving as editor in chief from 2007 to 2010 He was a Ted Scripps fellow in environmental journalism at the University of Colorado in Boulder and in 2016 he was awarded the Society of Environmental Journalists Outstanding Beat Reporting Small Market He currently lives in Bulgaria with his wife Wendy and daughters Lydia and Elena Deadly Dozen Robert K. DeArment, 2012-11-09 For every Wild Bill Hickok or Billy the Kid there was another western gunfighter just as deadly but not as well known Robert K DeArment has earned a reputation as the premier researcher of unknown gunfighters and here he offers twelve more portraits of men who weren't glorified in legend but were just as notorious in their day Those who think they already know all about Old West gunfighters will be amazed at this new collection Here are men like Porter Stockton the Texas terror who bragged that he had killed eighteen men and Jim Levy who killed a man for disparaging his Irish blood though he was also the only known Jewish gunfighter These stories span eight decades from the gold rushes of the 1850s to the 1920s Telling of gunmen such as Jim Masterson the brother of Bat Masterson or the real Whispering Smith the man behind the fictionalized persona whose career spanned four decades DeArment conscientiously separates fact from fiction to reconstruct lives all the more amazing for having remained unknown for so long The product of iron clad research this newest Deadly Dozen delivers the goods for gunfighter buffs in search of something different Together the Deadly Dozen volumes constitute a Who's Who of western outlaws and prove that there's more to the Wild West than Jesse James The Daughters of the American Revolution and Patriotic Memory in the Twentieth Century Simon Wendt, 2020-09-01 In this comprehensive history of the Daughters of the American Revolution DAR one of the oldest and most important women's organizations in United States history Simon Wendt shows how the DAR's efforts to keep alive the memory of the nation's past were entangled with and strengthened the nation's racial and gender boundaries Taking a close look at the DAR's mission of bolstering national loyalty Wendt reveals paradoxes and ambiguities in its activism While the Daughters engaged in patriotic actions long believed to be the domain of men and challenged male centered accounts of US nation building their tales about the past reinforced traditional notions of femininity and masculinity reflecting a belief that any challenge to these conventions would jeopardize the country s stability Similarly they frequently voiced support for inclusive civic nationalism but deliberately shaped historical memory to consolidate white supremacy Using archival sources from across the country Wendt focuses on the DAR s most visible work after its founding in 1890 its commemorations of the American Revolution western expansion and Native Americans He also explores the organization s post World War II history a time that saw major challenges to its conservative vision of America s imagined community This book sheds new light on the remarkable agency and cultural authority of conservative white women in the twentieth century

Trespass Amy Irvine,2024-06-04 Trespass is the story of one woman s struggle to gain footing in inhospitable territory A wilderness activist and apostate Mormon Amy Irvine sought respite in the desert outback of southern Utah s red rock country after her father s suicide only to find out just how much of an interloper she was among her own people But more than simply an exploration of personal loss Trespass is an elegy for a dying world for the ruin of one of our most beloved and unique desert landscapes and for our vanishing connection to it Fearing what her father s fate might somehow portend for her Irvine retreated into the remote recesses of the Colorado Plateau home not only to the world s most renowned national parks but also to a rugged brand of cowboy Mormonism that stands in defiant contrast to the world at large Her story is one of ruin and restoration of learning to live among people who fear the wilderness the way they fear the devil and how that fear fuels an antagonism toward environmental concerns that pervades the region At the same time Irvine mourns her own loss of wildness and disconnection from spirituality while ultimately discovering that the provinces of nature and faith are not as distinct as she once might have believed Abolitionists, Doctors, Ranchers, and Writers Lynne Marie Getz,2017-09-22

Nearly 250 years after ninety five year old Elder Thomas Faunce got caught up in the mythmaking around Plymouth Rock his great great great great great granddaughter Hilda Faunce Wetherill died in Pacific Grove California leaving behind a cache of letters and family papers The remarkable story they told prompted historian Lynne Marie Getz to search out related collections and archives and from these to assemble a family chronology documenting three generations of American life Abolitionists Doctors Ranchers and Writers tells of zealous abolitionists and free state campaigners aiding and abetting John

Brown in Bleeding Kansas of a Civil War soldier serving as a provost marshal in an occupied Arkansas town of young women who became doctors in rural Texas and New York City in the late nineteenth century of a homesteader and businessman among settler colonists in Colorado and of sisters who married into the Wetherill family known for their discovery of Ancient Pueblo sites at Mesa Verde and elsewhere who catered to a taste for Western myths with a trading post on a Navajo reservation and a guest ranch for tourists on the upper Rio Grande Whether they tell of dabbling in antebellum reforms like spiritualism vegetarianism and water cures building schools for free blacks in Ohio or championing Indian rights in the West serving in the US Army or confronting the struggles of early women doctors and educators these letters reveal the sweep of American history on an intimate scale as it was lived and felt and described by individuals their family story reflects the richness and complexity of the genealogy of the nation
